Saul Bellow Wins Nobel For Writing

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Novelist Saul Bellow was awarded the Nobel Prize in Literature today in an unprecedented sweep by Americans of all five Nobel prizes this year.

The 61-year-old Bellow, born in Canada of Russian Jewish parents and reared in Chicago, was cited "for the human understanding and subtle analysis of contemporary culture that are combined in his work."

Bellow is the seventh American winner of the literature prize and the first since John Steinbeck in 1962.

Among his books are "Humboldt's Gift," "Herzog," "Mr. Sammler's Planet," and "Henderson the Rain King."

During the past two weeks Americans won the 1976 Nobel Prizes in economics, physics, chemistry and medicine.

Other American winners of the literature prize have been Sinclair Lewis in 1930, Eugene O'Neill in 1936, Pearl Buck in 1938, William Faulkner in 1949 and Ernest Hemingway in 1954.

Bellow's nine major works deal with mixed up, scared and scared people who in severe crises of identity and faith strive to find a meaning to life and death.

"I feel I've fallen short of my talents," he said after publication of "Humboldt's Gift," which won for him the Pulitzer Prize in 1976. "I've fought inertia in myself. Charlie Citrine, (the main character of "Humboldt's Gift") feels he's snoozed through life, missing the great events of his time. I've fallen short of true wakefulness, too. I've struggled with torpor."

Those statements were made a year ago, as Bellow, 61, was mentioned as the favorite to win the that year's Nobel. It went instead to Italian poet Eugenio Montale in a sharply split vote.

At the time, Bellow, vacationing in Israel, said: "I'm not disappointed. There's plenty of time to win it yet."

Today, he did.

Treasury Says 'D' Will Hike Costs

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Department of Treasury says passage of ballot proposal to allow a graduated state income tax could force legislators to tax income above $20,000 at rates as high as 13.5 per cent. The treasury department also said Wednesday November ballot Proposal D could raise the state's income tax return processing costs, particularly if married couples begin filing individual returns to evade the higher tax rate on income above $20,000.

Proposal D would repeal the existing constitutional ban on graduated income taxes. It would, for one year, set a flat rate of 3.9 per cent on taxable income up to $20,000. The proposal requires that any revenue the state loses would be made up by taxing income over $20,000 at an as-yet undetermined rate. But Wednesday's treasury department analysis said that rate could vary from 8.5 per cent to 13.5 per cent, depending on how well the improved economy boosts other state revenues. The current income tax rate is 4.6 per cent for any income level.

"The final decision as to rate will be up to the legislature," said State Treasurer Allison Green. "The proposal gives no authority to administrators to set the rate so if it (Proposal D) is approved by the voters, the legislature must make a decision in the fall session." Lawmakers have recessed until Nov. 15. The department said it expects the state would have to pay more to prepare new tables so employees could determine the amount to be withheld from paychecks. Other increased state costs, it said, could result from a need for more data processing, auditing more complex tax returns, and from an expected increase in returns filed.

Green said if only half of married Michigan taxpayers in the over-$20,000 range decide to file separately rather than jointly, processing costs for the extra returns could reach $100,000 annually. Green said 61.3 cents of every $100 of income tax revenues was spent on administration over the past five years, but that passage of Proposal D could increase that amount "significantly."

Ferry Crash Death Toll Mounts

LULING, La. (AP) — A giant floating crane today righted the Mississippi River ferry that capsized after a collision that left up to 82 river commuters dead, but the ferry remained partially submerged.

Efforts continued to bring the ferry to the surface even as divers stood by on the shore to resume to search for bodies.

Sheriff's officers said 22 bodies were recovered in the hours after the collision, many of them still trapped in cars that were aboard the ferry.

The bodies of many of the missing were believed trapped in the ferry or sunk in the 10 feet of mud on the river bottom, officials said.

Laboring through the night, workmen on the floating crane attached lines to the 120-by-55-foot ferry, which had settled upside down with its rusted hull protruding after it was rammed by the 664-foot Norwegian tanker Frusta.

Eighteen persons survived the collision, but it was unknown exactly how many were on the George Prince ferry when it was hit broadside just before dawn Wednesday.

Many of the dead were factory workers en route to jobs on the west bank from Destrehan and other east-bank towns about 20 miles upriver from New Orleans.

Some passengers were on foot, but others had remained in their cars with windows rolled up to keep out the cold.

The impact of the collision dumped cars and screaming passengers into the cold, swift water, which reached depths of 80 feet.

Divers searching for survivors on Wednesday reported hearing tapping from the hull, but found only bodies bumping around.

No one was injured aboard the Frusta, which was empty and was heading to Baton Rouge to take on cargo. The freighter remained anchored a mile and a half upstream while the Coast Guard launched an investigation of the accident. The cause of the collision was undetermined.

Sheriff John St. Amant estimated from reports of missing persons from factories and homes in the area that 96 passengers were on the ferry. But he said later that the total probably exceeded 100.

"We don't have any idea," said Deputy Sheriff Wallace Friloux of St. Charles Parish. "There were 30 to 35 autos aboard, with from one to four or five people per car. And we don't know how many foot passengers were aboard."

"We saw the ship moving up the river, and the ship blew its whistle for the ferry four or five times, but the ferry just kept going," said Jerry Mayo, a worker on a sister ferry that rescued many of the survivors.

A Coast Guard official said that unless there are special circumstances, a small boat such as a ferry usually is expected to yield right-of-way to a larger vessel.

"Under normal circumstances, any small vessel that can maneuver is supposed to stay out of the way of large vessels that cannot maneuver," said Cmdr. George Oberholtzer of the Coast Guard in New Orleans.

Oberholtzer said traffic coming up the river is partially obscured by a grain elevator near the ferry landing on the west side of the river. Oberholtzer also cited the predawn hour and the fact that a ship was moored at the grain elevator.

P.J. Breand, whose pickup truck barely missed being able to squeeze on the ferry, said he watched from the bank as the Norwegian ship moved upstream in the early morning gloom.

He said later that it was hard to tell what happened because "it was dark and it happened so fast." But he said, "To my knowledge, the ship blew six times, three blasts twice."

After the collision, the tanker couldn't get in position to rescue any of the ferry riders, sheriff's officers said. The ship, which was not damaged seriously, stopped and anchored nearby.

The collision was the third in three years for the George Prince, which operated between Natchez, Miss., and Vidalia, La., before a bridge was opened there in 1940.

One of the accidents was relatively minor. The Coast Guard said the ferry sustained $81,000 damage when it collided with a towboat and barges on Aug. 21, 1974. No one was injured.

Another collision with a towboat occurred Feb. 4, 1974, and that encounter was more serious. Damages totaled $42,000 and 25 persons received injuries, mostly minor.

In each collision, the ferry was being operated by a different captain.

W.T. Taylor head of the Louisiana Highway Department, said Capt. Gene Auletta, who was among Wednesday's dead, rated as one of the best ferry masters on the river.

The Destrehan ferry landing was one of the points where President Ford addressed a festive levee crowd during his recent steamboat campaign down the river to New Orleans.

Hunters Reported Wounded

Two hunters were reported wounded as hunting pressure appeared up and the take of birds about the same as last year on the opening day of pheasant season Wednesday.

The preliminary hunting reports came from Berrien, Cass and Van Buren counties.

State police of the Benton Harbor post reported Donald Cheshire, 17, of 228 Angling road, Coloma township, sustained five pellet wounds in the leg and one on the hand while hunting in Keeler township, Van Buren county.

Troopers reported Cheshire said he was hunting with a group of nine people and it was not known where the shot came from. Cheshire was treated by Dr. Rolando Fajardo, Coloma.

Howard township police in Cass county reported Jerry Paul Hurt, 19, of 1029 Huntley road, Niles, was wounded in the wrist when his .22 caliber rifle discharged as he chased a rabbit into some brush. He was treated and released at Niles Patawing hospital.

Hunter Finds 50 Pounds Of Pot

NILES — State police at Niles said 50 pounds of suspected marijuana, with an estimated street value of $16,000, was found in a field southwest of here yesterday morning.

Trooper William Porter said an unidentified hunter found the suspected drug in various stages of being processed in a field near Weaver road at the US-12 bypass in Bertrand township about 8 a.m. yesterday.

Some of the suspected marijuana was hanging in trees being dried while more was stored in plastic bags, Porter said. State police said the hunter stumbled across the area and telephoned Niles township police, who in turn contacted troopers.

Police said this morning they have no suspects in the case.

Worrisome Erosion Of Voter Participation

What if they held an election, and nobody turned out to vote? There is no chance of that happening on Nov. 2, but political scientists are worried nonetheless about the steady erosion of voter participation in the past several presidential elections. A recent report based on a survey by the Committee for the Study of the American Electorate concluded "It is possible that for the first time in over 50 years, a majority of eligible Americans will not vote in a presidential election" in 1976.

It's not as though no efforts were being made to persuade people to register and vote. But major parties, the Democrats in particular, routinely mount such drives in general election years. But with few exceptions, efforts to swell the voting rolls in 1976 have met with scant success.

Since the Democrats usually benefit from a large turnout at the polls, voter apathy is of special concern to Jimmy Carter. Too many people, the Democratic nominee told a group of labor leaders in Portland, Maine, on Oct. 1, have taken the attitude: "It's not worth it. I don't want anything to do with politics anymore. My life cannot be better no matter who's in the White House."

A survey conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau after the 1972 election lends support to Carter's view. Of the respondents who were not registered to vote in that election, 26 per cent cited legal reasons — "unable to register," "not a citizen," "residence requirement." The remaining 72 per cent cited psychological reasons, including "not interested" and "dislike politics."

Some non-voters claim they have no time to get to the polls, but this often is a spurious excuse. According to the Commerce Clearing House in Chicago, employees are allowed time off the job to vote in 30 states. In 20 of these states, moreover, employers are barred from making deductions from an employee's wages for at least part of the time he is absent from work to cast his vote.

The House on Aug. 9 passed a bill to establish a nationwide voter registration system enabling individuals to register to vote in federal elections by mail. Carter strongly supported the measure. But the bill never reached the floor of the Senate, where it faced a filibuster by its Republican opponents. A high percentage of "no-shows" at the polls can distort the outcome of an election. "In 1972 voters ultimately got a choice between Richard Nixon and George McGovern, and Mr. Nixon won by a landslide," Richard L. Strout of The Christian Science Monitor wrote. "But it was less pretentious than it seemed. More than 50 million potential voters didn't vote. Mr. Nixon got only one in three of the total number registered; one in four of total numbers of voting age. A modern 'mandate' can be thin when about half don't vote."

Francis P. Lynch, who teaches history at Central Connecticut State College, believes that exhortations to vote are pointless. "It's a tribute to the essential decency of Americans who are and choose to be ignorant of the governmental process, that when they are left alone, they do not try to take part," Lynch wrote in Newsweek. "There is ample room in politics for those who do want to mix in. Volunteers are the heart of our system, not political pet rocks."

And so you can take your choice: Low voter turnouts are an indication of weakness or of strength in the American political system. But there is no quarreling with the notion that those who don't vote shouldn't complain about the outcome.

Veeck Has Good Point: Sport Seasons Too Long

Chicago White Sox president Bill Veeck is one of those naturally outspoken individuals who seem to fill the sports world almost to overflowing. But one of Veeck's gripes is unusual in that he believes there can be too much of a good thing and he thinks the professional sports world is wallowing in it.

A baseball season which runs from April to mid-October is too long, Veeck says, and for that matter he thinks the seasons for most professional sports have become over-extended. The result is an overlapping of seasons which seems to become worse each year.

The seasonal lines used to be fairly simple between football, basketball, baseball and hockey. They aren't anymore. Playing baseball when the frost is on the ground or football when swimming weather is still here may be good box office for the moment but it is pushing both the player and the spectator close to the limit of indulgence.

Veeck's reminder that there is a time and place for each sport — but not simultaneously — is a timely one.

Frighteningly Easy

That a 21-year-old Princeton undergraduate student can design a workable atomic bomb, using his knowledge of physics and information gathered in two public libraries, rattles the mind more than just a little bit. That is what John Aristotile Phillips says he has done.

Further, that is what Phillips wanted to do — just to demonstrate how easy it would be for sufficiently dedicated terrorists to construct their own nuclear devices. Phillips' device, if constructed, would weigh about 150 pounds, measure two feet in diameter and is calculated to explode with about one-third the force of the bomb used on Hiroshima in 1945.

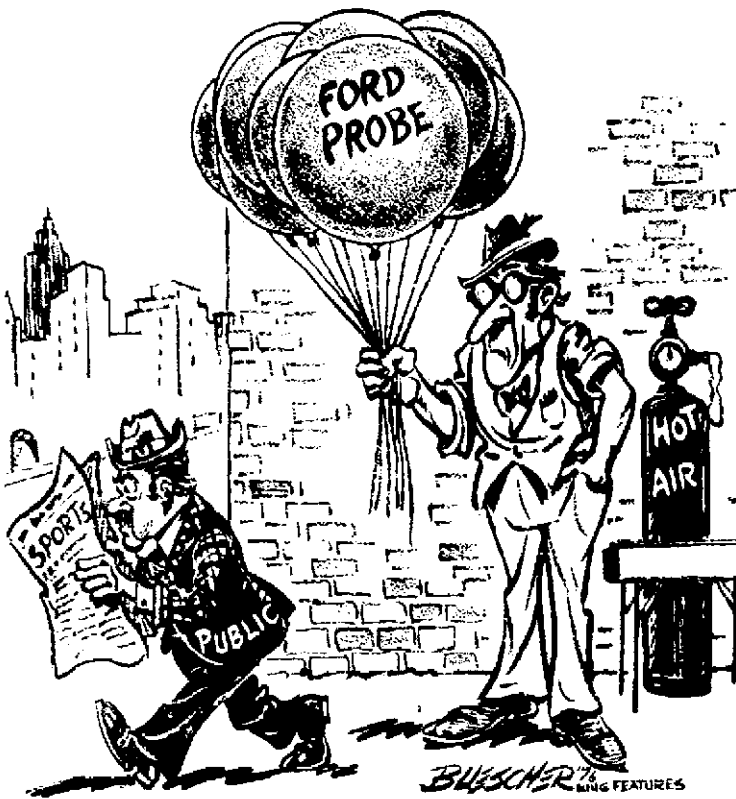

No authorities to whom Phillips showed his design would guarantee it could produce an explosion unless tested. That is little reassurance since the same caution was applied to the Hiroshima-type bombs.

Phillips found all the materials needed for construction of the bomb were readily available except plutonium-239. Unfortunately, plutonium availability is increasing with the proliferation of nuclear plants throughout the world. Now, if Phillips could design a mechanism which would automatically render plutonium useless if it fell into the wrong hands...

Contrary to the article, it is because of the pride that these people have that they pay this type of rent, which causes an extreme financial hardship to them so they may live in St. Joseph.

School's Golden Age Card Great, Says BH Couple

Editor, This letter is written in appreciation to the administration, school board, or whoever is responsible in our school system for the policy of giving a

Golden Age's card to any citizens 60 years or over who ask for one. It is surely a great idea. We just got ours and are quite excited over being able to go to any school activities; concerts, plays and dramatic productions, sports events, and even adult education classes on our card. If you are interested in the fine activities our schools offer and qualify for age, I suggest that you take advantage of this wonderful opportunity.

Using our Golden Age cards last Friday night we went to a great football game, watched the thrilling bands, and saw the crowning of the homecoming king and queen. It was exciting to see the accomplishments of the youth and to meet many of our friends and neighbors there.

It costs you nothing to get your Golden Age card. Just call 926-1141, extension 38, and make arrangements with the friendly secretary to pick it up. Even that part was enjoyable because of the friendly people in the office. Thanks to the Benton Harbor school system for this fine service. We're looking forward to attending many school activities this year.

Eastern Europe Not Subservient

WASHINGTON — In the hurry of charges and countercharges over what President Ford said about Eastern Europe during the second televised debate with Jimmy Carter, we're losing sight of the point.

Certainly, Soviet troops move at will in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Hungary and East Germany. Certainly, when the Soviet Union wants a man jailed, he is jailed. Certainly, the Soviet Union can issue oppressive laws and hammer at church going. And clobber free public speech.

But are the Poles, the Rumanians, the Czechs, the Hungarians and East Germans dominated by this?

Most certainly in their hearts they are not. None of these great peoples acknowledged the right of Moscow to rule them. They may give outward obedience. Inside, it is clear they are their own men and women. They are not subservient.

That is a most important point.

Leonid Brezhnev knows this, as Nikita Khrushchev knew it in his time. And the Russian military. The inside reports this country receives from the Soviet Union make it clear that Moscow places little trust in the reliability of Polish, Hungarian, Czech and East German troops in time of war. The Kremlin likewise places little trust in the political reliability of the bureaucracies, the businessmen, the farmers, students or professionals, of these remarkable nations. There is strong distrust too among the knowledgeable in the Soviet Union as to the reliability even of the native East European Communist chiefs.

The Russians find it necessary to make every effort to bolster those few men on which it has a stranglehold. Then, not even trusting these few synrepeated secret checks on their reliability.

In other words, the Soviet Union has learned there are limits it cannot cross without backfires it is unwilling to face. Despite strong Soviet pressures against religion at one time or another, religious observances attract wide followings — openly in some instances, privately in others. Despite a heavy Soviet clampdown on economic associations with Western lands, the Rumanians have built those associations, slowly to be sure, but persistently. Though the Soviet Union has time again clamped down harshly on those who listen to free world broadcasts, indications are that the listening audience is great. Though free speech is banned, these courageous people find ways to communicate. The Berlin Wall is a monument to Soviet failure.

Both men were saying during the debate that we in the United States hear them — though both said it poorly, especially Mr. Ford.

Both seemed at a loss as to what action to take. That question was never answered.

Perhaps it cannot be answered by us.

For the problem we face is how this nation can work toward the right of self determination world-wide without becoming the world's policeman, a role we find it most difficult to play.

Example — We were not successful in preserving the right of the South Vietnamese to determine their own destiny.

Nevertheless it may be that over the longer run, the spirit of the South Vietnamese and their inner determination to be free will — sometime in the future — enable them to free themselves from the hard-fisted rule of Hanoi.

So it may be in Eastern Europe.

Justice In Death Penalty?

Conservatives have tended to be such consistent advocates of capital punishment that they have run the risk of appearing bloodthirsty. This is a shame, because, many of them (myself included), though they support capital punishment, do so only reluctantly — and cerebrally, rather than emotionally.

I have read Camus, Orwell, and Capote on execution. I can imagine the ghastly details vividly enough, and so gibbets, electric chairs, gas chambers, firing squads, guillotines and all the other cheerful items do not make my heart go pit-a-pat with anticipatory pleasure.

Since 1972, however, a dialogue on capital punishment has been going on between the Supreme Court on the one hand and the various state legislatures on the other. It seems to me to have been a model of the deliberative process intended by the Constitution.

In 1972, the Court held that capital punishment as then applied constituted "cruel and unusual punishment" because it was "being applied so erratically. The Court's term was "freakish."

Spurred by this decision and the criteria implied by it, the various state legislatures went to work and tried to write the statutes so that the imposition of the death penalty would be less chaotic. In so doing these state legislatures reflected the consensus in the states that certain crimes were so heinous that in fact they deserved the ultimate penalty.

Had this consensus not been present, no impetus would have existed to get the laws through the legislature. Thus, by definition, execution in itself is not regarded as "cruel and unusual" by the American consensus. The deliberative process had the result of both refining the laws and crystallizing that consensus.

Last July, the Court ruled that the statutes of Texas, Florida, and Georgia met the criteria of constitutionality. Recently the Court rejected a request to reconsider that decision, thus clearing the way to executions in those states, where some 200 murderers currently reside on Death Row.

The first U.S. executions when they occur will probably receive enormous media attention, the individuals involved becoming household words. There will probably be anti-American demonstrations in Paris and Stockholm. If the first few individuals killed are black, the radical issue will come to the fore.

The argument about the death penalty as a deterrent to murder has been largely inconclusive. But it is perhaps necessarily inconclusive. How can you show that a murder which was not committed failed to occur because of the deterrent factor?

Nor is deterrence the best argument in favor of the death penalty for particularly heinous crimes.

The argument from justice is much sounder, and no doubt underlies the national consensus on the subject.

The concept of justice implies that some crimes "deserve" such a penalty. Remove the concept of justice, and all you have left is an argument among statisticians.

Worrisome Erosion Of Voter Participation

What if they held an election, and nobody turned out to vote? There is no chance of that happening on Nov. 2, but political scientists are worried nonetheless about the steady erosion of voter participation in the past several presidential elections. A recent report based on a survey by the Committee for the Study of the American Electorate concluded "It is possible that for the first time in over 50 years, a majority of eligible Americans will not vote in a presidential election" in 1976.

It's not as though no efforts were being made to persuade people to register and vote. But major parties, the Democrats in particular, routinely mount such drives in general election years. But with few exceptions, efforts to swell the voting rolls in 1976 have met with scant success.

Since the Democrats usually benefit from a large turnout at the polls, voter apathy is of special concern to Jimmy Carter. Too many people, the Democratic nominee told a group of labor leaders in Portland, Maine, on Oct. 1, have taken the attitude: "It's not worth it. I don't want anything to do with politics anymore. My life cannot be better no matter who's in the White House."

A survey conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau after the 1972 election lends support to Carter's view. Of the respondents who were not registered to vote in that election, 26 per cent cited legal reasons — "unable to register," "not a citizen," "residence requirement." The remaining 72 per cent cited psychological reasons, including "not interested" and "dislike politics."

Some non-voters claim they have no time to get to the polls, but this often is a spurious excuse. According to the Commerce Clearing House in Chicago, employees are allowed time off the job to vote in 30 states. In 20 of these states, moreover, employers are barred from making deductions from an employee's wages for at least part of the time he is absent from work to cast his vote.

The House on Aug. 9 passed a bill to establish a nationwide voter registration system enabling individuals to register to vote in federal elections by mail. Carter strongly supported the measure. But the bill never reached the floor of the Senate, where it faced a filibuster by its Republican opponents.

A high percentage of "no-shows" at the polls can distort the outcome of an election. "In 1972 voters ultimately got a choice between Richard Nixon and George McGovern, and Mr. Nixon won by a landslide," Richard L. Strout of The Christian Science Monitor wrote. "But it was less pretentious than it seemed. More than 50 million potential voters didn't vote. Mr. Nixon got only one in three of the total number registered; one in four of total numbers of voting age. A modern 'mandate' can be thin when about half don't vote."

Francis P. Lynch, who teaches history at Central Connecticut State College, believes that exhortations to vote are pointless. "It's a tribute to the essential decency of Americans who are and choose to be ignorant of the governmental process, that when they are left alone, they do not try to take part," Lynch wrote in Newsweek. "There is ample room in politics for those who do want to mix in. Volunteers are the heart of our system, not political pet rocks."

And so you can take your choice: Low voter turnouts are an indication of weakness or of strength in the American political system. But there is no quarreling with the notion that those who don't vote shouldn't complain about the outcome.

Veeck Has Good Point: Sport Seasons Too Long

Chicago White Sox president Bill Veeck is one of those naturally outspoken individuals who seem to fill the sports world almost to overflowing. But one of Veeck's gripes is unusual in that he believes there can be too much of a good thing and he thinks the professional sports world is wallowing in it.

A baseball season which runs from April to mid-October is too long, Veeck says, and for that matter he thinks the seasons for most professional sports have become over-extended. The result is an overlapping of seasons which seems to become worse each year.

The seasonal lines used to be fairly simple between football, basketball, baseball and hockey. They aren't anymore. Playing baseball when the frost is on the ground or football when swimming weather is still here may be good box office for the moment but it is pushing both the player and the spectator close to the limit of indulgence.

Veeck's reminder that there is a time and place for each sport — but not simultaneously — is a timely one.

Frighteningly Easy

That a 21-year-old Princeton undergraduate student can design a workable atomic bomb, using his knowledge of physics and information gathered in two public libraries, rattles the mind more than just a little bit. That is what John Aristotle Phillips says he has done.

Further, that is what Phillips wanted to do — just to demonstrate how easy it would be for sufficiently dedicated terrorists to construct their own nuclear devices. Phillips' device, if constructed, would weigh about 150 pounds, measure two feet in diameter and is calculated to explode with about one-third the force of the bomb used on Hiroshima in 1945.

No authorities to whom Phillips showed his design would guarantee it could produce an explosion unless tested. That is little reassurance since the same caution was applied to the Hiroshima-type bombs.

Phillips found all the materials needed for construction of the bomb were readily available except plutonium-239. Unfortunately, plutonium availability is increasing with the proliferation of nuclear plants throughout the world. Now, if Phillips could design a mechanism which would automatically render plutonium useless if it fell into the wrong hands...

When Is Rent High -- And When Is It Low?

Editor,

This is in response to your article "Apartment house called problem for St. Joseph," which appeared in the paper 10-19-76.

I am a concerned reader and an employee of the Berrien County Department of Social Services.

I challenge the definition of "high rent." While it may be true that some welfare clients live in the house, it is also true that they pay, what is to me, high rent.

Our county maximum rent allowance is $135.00 per month, plus allowance for heat and utilities. Mr. Bertuca charges over $200.00 per month for some of the units. I would consider this high rent and quite competitive with more luxurious apartments in our area.

Contrary to the article, it is because of the pride that these people have that they pay this type of rent, which causes an extreme financial hardship to them so they may live in St. Joseph.

School's Golden Age Card Great, Says BH Couple

Editor,

This letter is written in appreciation to the administration, school board, or whoever is responsible in our school system for the policy of giving a

Golden Age's card to any citizens 60 years or over who ask for one. It is surely a great idea. We just got ours and are quite excited over being able to go to any school activities; concerts, plays and dramatic productions, sports events, and even adult education classes on our card. If you are interested in the fine activities our schools offer and qualify for age, I suggest that you take advantage of this wonderful opportunity.

Using our Golden Age cards last Friday night we went to a great football game, watched the thrilling bands, and saw the crowning of the homecoming king and queen. It was exciting to see the accomplishments of the youth and to meet many of our friends and neighbors there.

It costs you nothing to get your Golden Age card. Just call 926-1141, extension 38, and make arrangements with the friendly secretary to pick it up. Even that part was enjoyable because of the friendly people in the office. Thanks to the Benton Harbor school system for this fine service. We're looking forward to attending many school activities this year.

Worker Killed In Billboard Accident

By TOM SAWYER
Staff Writer

A Kalamazoo man was electrocuted and a Three Rivers man was burned critically Wednesday while they were working on a billboard in Royalton township, Berrien county.

State police of the Benton

Harbor post said the accident occurred when a piece of angle iron apparently came in contact with a 34,000-volt electric line above the billboard along US 31-33 near John Beers road about 1:30 p.m.

State police identified the dead man as Thomas John Rawlings, 26, Kalamazoo. Listed in "critical" condition today with third degree burns at Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, was Richard Lee Blasius, 33, Three Rivers. Troopers said both were employed by the Central Advertising company, Kalamazoo, owner of the billboard.

Trooper James Bos reported

that the two were apparently welding a long piece of angle iron at the top of the sign. Richard Hauser, an Indiana & Michigan Electric company supervisor, told troopers it appeared that the piece of angle iron had come in contact with a 34,000-volt line above the sign, grounding it. The power lines were about five feet above the sign.

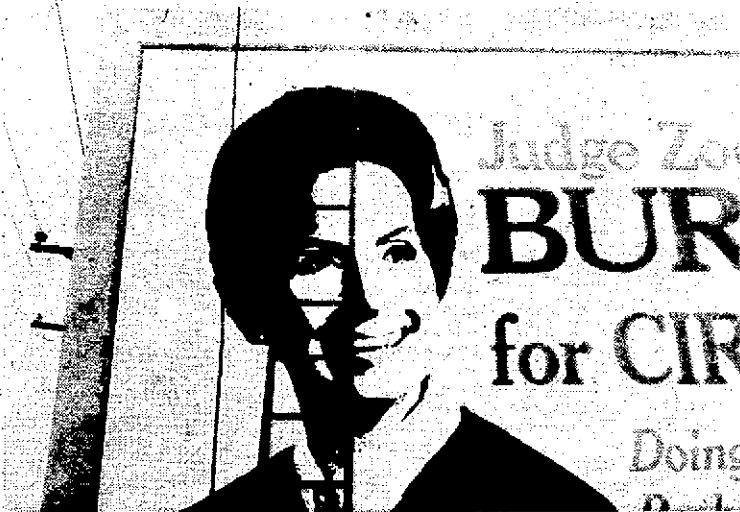

Witnesses who were driving by on the highway told troopers they saw a "tremendous" flash of light, like lightning, then saw the two men lying on the ground at the base of the sign.

Bilton said Blasius' pants were on fire and Bilton used his own jacket to extinguish the fire. He said a piece of iron was on top of Blasius and Bilton pulled the injured man out from under it.

Bos said Rawlings was lying a short distance from Blasius and was not breathing. He said he used mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and ambulance attendants administered cardio-pulmonary resuscitation, but both were to no avail. Dr. William Benner, chief Berrien medical examiner ruled the cause of death was "accidental electrocution."

Another employee of the advertising company, Robert Ramlow, 24, Kalamazoo, told troopers he was working about a half mile away on another sign. He said all of the company's billboards were being modified by welding a piece of iron at the top.

SCENE OF MISHAP: One worker for billboard company was electrocuted and another severely burned Wednesday as they were preparing to weld a piece of iron at top of this billboard on US-31-33 near John Beers road in Royalton township. Iron touched 34,000-volt power line at upper left. (Staff photos)

BURNED CRITICALLY: Richard Lee Blasius, 33, of Three Rivers, is aided by ambulance attendant after being knocked from ladder and burned critically when long length of metal being handed him by co-worker touched a power line. Thomas John Rawlings, 26, of Kalamazoo, was electrocuted in accident yesterday afternoon.

BH Schedules Meetings For Halloween Planning

The Benton Harbor recreation department has scheduled two meetings at 7 p.m., tonight and Tuesday, at the Neighborhood center, 306 Territorial road, to discuss plans for sponsoring Halloween parties Oct. 30 for Benton Harbor youngsters.

Larry Nielsen, director of the recreation department, said plans for the parties are progressing with eight sites now selected for the parties. All concerned parents are invited to the meetings tonight and Tuesday, he said.

Parties will be held at Calvin Britain, Columbus, Sterne Brunson and the YMCA. He said persons interested in helping at these sites should call the recreation department. Contributions to sponsor the parties can be mailed to Halloween parties, Finance department, city hall, Benton Harbor, he said. The city commission has prohibited trick-or-treating.

Oakland U., Workers Get Agreement

ROCHESTER, Mich. (AP) — Clerical and technical workers at Oakland University reached tentative agreement on a new contract today, reducing chances of a walkout which had been scheduled for Friday.

The 282 members of Local 1925 of the United Auto Workers scheduled a ratification meeting later today. The university's governing board will vote on the issue at its regular Oct. 27 meeting.

Details of the contract were withheld pending ratification, but union officials did say it was for two years and retroactive to July 1.

They Didn't Measure Realty Sign

It was incorrectly reported in yesterday's Herald-Palladium that St. Joseph township planning commission members, after proposing a new ordinance about the size of real estate signs, went out and measured a sign. They did not measure a sign. In discussing the proposed ordinance at their meeting Tuesday night, planning commission members specifically mentioned the new "Century 21" real estate signs that have been appearing recently in the area. After the meeting a reporter for this newspaper randomly chose a "Century 21" sign, measured it and found that with minor alterations it would be legal under the proposed ordinance.

Joint Venture Launched By Riverview Merchants

Business people in Benton Harbor's Riverview drive area have banded together for special promotions tomorrow under the name of Riverview Business Center.

It's the first joint venture the Riverview people have tried, and "we intend to let the public know how many services are available here," said Don Clark of Gardner's Favorite Sports and Marine.

Clark is one of the leaders of the promotion along with Jack Small, manager of Sears store, and John Rowady, manager of K-mart.

Rowady noted the Riverview district "offers a wide selection in retail goods, professional services, finance, automotive dealerships and restaurants."

We're, competitors to a degree," said Small, "but this time we have gotten together to see if results can be mutually beneficial for business and the public."

Participants are K-mart, Sears, Gardner's, All-Phase Electric Supply, Inter-City bank, Goodyear Tire & Rubber.

Gillespie's Drugs, Hilltop Food, Captain's Table, Babe's Lounge, LeValley-Klum Olds Cadillac, Bartz Pontiac, Roti Chrysler-Plymouth, Ned Gates Chevrolet, and Transworld Volkswagen.

The Riverview district is the "new" part of Benton Harbor, reclaimed from the St. Joseph river marsh in the 1950s, now reached over a 56-foot wide street illuminated by modern lighting.

ARMED BANDITS GET $1,300

Liquor Store Is Robbed

Two bandits armed with a handgun robbed Angelo's Heights Liquors, Inc., Benton Heights, of nearly $1,200 and also took $135 from two employees and three customers shortly before 10 p.m. Wednesday, Benton township police said.

Police said Patrolman Jim Windsor may have interrupted the robbery while on routine patrol. He said he chased three people he saw running from the store area and said three shots were heard as he searched the area after the three darted behind a building.

Windsor reported hearing two shots as he looked for the suspects on Milo street and another in the area of Holly drive. No one was hit.

Ivan Hazucha, 55, Benton Harbor, and Randall Sawyer, 16, Riverside, told police they were working in the store at 2185 Red Arrow highway when two men came in and announced the holdup. They said the two took cash and some checks from the register and the two employees' wallets then forced them on the floor of a walk-in cooler. Sawyer reported he was kicked by one of the bandits but not seriously hurt.

Police said three customers came into the store while the robbery was in progress, their wallets taken and they were forced into the cooler. They were identified as John Dubowik, 40; Duiles Galanda, 30; and Sherman Phillips, Jr., 24, all of Benton Heights.

A tracking dog from the Benton Harbor state police post was called out and followed a trail, but no suspects were found.

Police believe two bandits went into the store while a third man acted as lookout and they ran when the patrol car was spotted.

By TOM SAWYER
Staff Writer

A Kalamazoo man was electrocuted and a Three Rivers man was burned critically Wednesday while they were working on a billboard in Royalton township, Berrien county.

State police of the Benton

Harbor post said the accident occurred when a piece of angle iron apparently came in contact with a 34,000-volt electric line above the billboard along US 31-33 near John Beers road about 1:30 p.m.

State police identified the dead man as Thomas John Rawlings, 26, Kalamazoo. Listed in "critical" condition today with third degree burns at Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, was Richard Lee Blasius, 33, Three Rivers. Troopers said both were employed by the Central Advertising company, Kalamazoo, owner of the billboard.

Trooper James Bos reported

that the two were apparently welding a long piece of angle iron at the top of the sign. Richard Hauser, an Indiana & Michigan Electric company supervisor, told troopers it appeared that the piece of angle iron had come in contact with a 34,000-volt line above the sign, grounding it. The power lines were about five feet above the sign.

Witnesses who were driving by on the highway told troopers they saw a "tremendous" flash of light, like lightning, then saw the two men lying on the ground at the base of the sign.

Bilton said Blasius' pants were on fire and Bilton used his own jacket to extinguish the fire. He said a piece of iron was on top of Blasius and Bilton pulled the injured man out from under it.

Bos said Rawlings was lying a short distance from Blasius and was not breathing. He said he used mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and ambulance attendants administered cardio-pulmonary resuscitation, but both were to no avail. Dr. William Benner, chief Berrien medical examiner ruled the cause of death was "accidental electrocution."

Another employee of the advertising company, Robert Ramlow, 24, Kalamazoo, told troopers he was working about a half mile away on another sign. He said all of the company's billboards were being modified by welding a piece of iron at the top.

Joint Venture Launched By Riverview Merchants

Business people in Benton Harbor's Riverview drive area have banded together for special promotions tomorrow under the name of Riverview Business Center.

It's the first joint venture the Riverview people have tried, and "we intend to let the public know how many services are available here," said Don Clark of Gardner's Favorite Sports and Marine.

Rowady noted the Riverview district "offers a wide selection in retail goods, professional services, finance, automotive dealerships and restaurants."

beneficial for business and the public."

Gillespie's Drugs, Hilltop Food, Captain's Table, Babe's Lounge, LeValley-Klum Olds Cadillac, Bartz Pontiac, Roti Chrysler-Plymouth, Ned Gates Chevrolet, and Transworld Volkswagen.

The Riverview district is the "new" part of Benton Harbor, reclaimed from the St. Joseph river marsh in the 1950s, now reached over a 56-foot wide street illuminated by modern lighting.

SCENE OF MISHAP: One worker for billboard company was electrocuted and another severely burned Wednesday as they were preparing to weld a piece of iron at top of this billboard on US-31-33 near John Beers road in Royalton township. Iron touched 34,000-volt power line at upper left. (Staff photos)

BURNED CRITICALLY: Richard Lee Blasius, 33, of Three Rivers, is aided by ambulance attendant after being knocked from ladder and burned critically when long length of metal being handed him by co-worker touched a power line. Thomas John Rawlings, 26, of Kalamazoo, was electrocuted in accident yesterday afternoon.

BH Schedules Meetings For Halloween Planning

The Benton Harbor recreation department has scheduled two meetings at 7 p.m., tonight and Tuesday, at the Neighborhood center, 809 Territorial road, to discuss plans for sponsoring Halloween parties Oct. 30 for Benton Harbor youngsters.

Larry Nielsen, director of the recreation department, said plans for the parties are progressing with eight sites now selected for the parties. All concerned parents are invited to the meetings tonight and Tuesday, he said.

Parties will be held at Calvin Britain, Columbus, Sterne Brunson and Morton Hill elementary schools, the Blossom acres community center, the Neighborhood center, downtown YMCA, and community rooms at the Berrien OIC building at the corner of Columbus and Britain.

Nielsen said volunteers are still needed to work at Calvin Britain, Columbus, Sterne Brunson and the YMCA. He said persons interested in helping at those sites should call the recreation department. Contributions to sponsor the parties can be mailed to Halloween parties, Finance department, city hall, Benton Harbor, he said. The city commission has prohibited trick-or-treating.

Oakland U., Workers Get Agreement

ROCHESTER, Mich. (AP) — Clerical and technical workers at Oakland University reached tentative agreement on a new contract today, reducing chances of a walkout which had been scheduled for Friday.

The 262 members of Local 1925 of the United Auto Workers scheduled a ratification meeting later today. The university's governing board will vote on the issue at its regular Oct. 27 meeting.

Details of the contract were withheld pending ratification, but union officials did say it was for two years and retroactive to July 1.

They Didn't Measure Realty Sign

It was incorrectly reported in yesterday's Herald-Palladium that St. Joseph township planning commission members, after proposing a new ordinance about the size of real estate signs, went out and measured a sign. They did not measure a sign. In discussing the proposed ordinance at their meeting Tuesday night, planning commission members specifically mentioned the new "Century 21" real estate signs that have been appearing recently in the area. After the meeting a reporter for this newspaper randomly chose a "Century 21" sign, measured it and found that with minor alterations it would be legal under the proposed ordinance.

ARMED BANDITS GET $1,300 Liquor Store Is Robbed

Two bandits armed with a handgun robbed Angelo's Heights Liquors, Inc., Benton Heights, of nearly $1,200 and also took $135 from two employees and three customers shortly before 10 p.m. Wednesday, Benton township police said.

Police said Patrolman Jim Windsor may have interrupted the robbery while on routine patrol. He said he chased three people he saw running from the store area and said three shots were heard as he searched the area after the three darted behind a building.

Ivan Hazucha, 55, Benton Harbor, and Randall Sawyer, 16, Riverside, told police they were working in the store at 2185 Red Arrow highway when two men came in and announced the holdup. They said the two took cash and some checks from the register and the two employees' wallets then forced them on the floor of a walk-in cooler. Sawyer reported he was "kicked by one of the bandits but not seriously hurt."

Police said three customers came into the store while the robbery was in progress, their wallets taken and they were forced into the cooler. They were identified as John Dubowik, 40; Dulles Galanda, 30; and Sherman Phillips, Jr., 24, all of Benton Heights.

A tracking dog from the Benton Harbor state police post was called out and followed a trail, but no suspects were found.

Police believe two bandits went into the store while a third man acted as lookout and they ran when the patrol car was spotted.

The bandits were described as black. Bandits in three other robberies reported in Benton Harbor, Fairplain and Watervliet during the past week were described as white.

With cooler fall weather setting in, many cooks will be searching for homey, hearty and wholesome recipes to satisfy family appetites.

Each winner received a silver trophy — called "The Adam" — from a well-known individual who has achieved fame in the same field of endeavor. The 1976 winners are:

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., was honored as the first man elected by the American Image Awards committee to its Hall of Fame.

The American Image Awards are sponsored by the Men's Fashion Association of America and the winners were chosen by a poll of nearly 2,000 newspaper and magazine fashion editors, broadcasters and representatives of the United States male apparel industry. No individual was chosen this year in the Politics and Civic Affairs category because of the national election.

S. Peter Lebowitz, chairman of the American Image Awards committee, said that the "Adams" were presented to individuals who, based on the votes, "epitomize the way American males would like to see themselves and have others see them."

Lebowitz said that the winners represented a "composite of America's best images from a variety of professions." He also announced that the committee is seeking a working arrangement with a national charitable organization to coordinate a program of supplying apparel to the needy "so that every American man and boy will have apparel equal to his economic, social and psychological needs."

The lineup of presenters included Polly Bergen, co-host of the NBC-TV "Not For Women Only" show; CBS-TV sports-caster Phyllis George; stage, screen and television star Celeste Holm; and Geraldine Stutz, president of Henri Bendel, Inc.

Science Expert Says World Food Calamity Not Yet Understood

By MARYANNE BUTT
Staff Writer

American technology and education have failed to comprehend the true realities of the world food calamity, according to a food and science expert from Michigan State University.

At a community seminar on world food and population Oct. 19 in the auditorium of St. Joseph high school, Dr. Georg Borgstrom, MSU professor of food science and human nutrition and geography, told participants that the statistics provided by demographers, economists and statisticians are simply counting heads and do not take into account other important factors.

The seminar was sponsored by Benton Harbor-St. Joseph branch of the American Association of University Women in cooperation with the MSU extension center.

Two dimensions have been missing from our image of the world situation — the biological and historical.

In biological terms, the United States not only includes 215 million people who must be provided food, but millions more pets and livestock as well. He said three to four per cent of the United States' food exports such as grain and soybeans are used for human beings — much of it is used for livestock feed and some for industrial purposes.

Many experts are not aware of the true population dimensions, he said, noting that the world will add the equivalent of a new Italy every nine months, a new Michigan in less than six weeks, and that Asia and China have more children than the entire population of the United States. India has more people than Africa and South America together, and each second year Asia adds the equivalent of another Japan. According to Dr. Borgstrom, the greatest migration in human history eased the pressure on food production. In the middle of the 19th century Europe was no longer able to feed its rapidly growing numbers and so from 1850 to 1950 7 million people emigrated, half going to North America where millions of new acres were added to man's cultivated land. There was never a more important single event in man's quest for food than the opening of the North American continent to tillage and livestock, he said.

In this way Europe displaced a quarter of its population and was able to greatly increase its tilled land and pastureland, temporarily solving its food and population problems. This resulted in Western man's loss of awareness of the biological constraints of the world, according to Dr. Borgstrom.

Education has given Americans the picture that they are "spearheads of world progress," Dr. Borgstrom said. Americans believe "the poor world is slowly following in food production and with the help of the United States will slowly progress."

Americans have held a false sense of security in the belief that American technology will take care of everything, he said. The amount of energy, or calories, used to produce food in this country exceeds the amount of energy or calories provided in the food grown, he noted, which is not the case in other countries which may produce less food but often do so more efficiently. The United States cannot continue this policy forever, he said.

The world food crisis must be dealt with now, in the next 10 years, he said, adding that engineers and professional journals today are spending what he feels is wasted time with futuristic concepts.

The rich world (one-third of the world population uses most of the world's food resources and has not felt the pressure the poor world has, and therefore has misjudged the seriousness of the food calamity, Dr. Borgstrom said.

He said the United States is not close to taking care of itself or the world and called for each American to become aware of this fact and to cooperate so the world may move ahead in food production and to set a goal that in 10 years no person on the globe will be hungry.

Especially honored was Virgil Wessendorf who is employed by Heath company, St. Joseph.

Mrs. Wessendorf is secretary to Dominic Moffo, director of administration at Heath.

Fruitland chapter has had seven certified professional secretaries: Marian Archer, Lyla Ball, Judi Callender, Mary Carol Grish, Jewel Herald, Wanda Noack, and Virginia Page-Wood. There also have been two other CPS secretaries in the area: Barbara Inoues and Angela J. Walters.

The international president, Lillian Billmeier, is a member of Saginaw Valley chapter and has served NSA through chapter and division ranks as at Great Lakes district director, second vice president, and first vice Miss Billmeier received her CPS rating in 1967.

Her topic at the anniversary celebration was "E Pluribus Unum — one out of many" and concerned future goals of NSA and its chapters.

The CPS candidate, according to Betty Hand, Fruitland chapter president, must pass a six-part, two-day examination administered annually in May.

Second speaker for the anniversary banquet was Mary Schantz of the Kalamazoo NSA chapter who was instrumental in organizing Fruitland chapter and installing its first officers Oct. 30, 1951, at Josephine Morton Memorial home, Benton Harbor.

First chapter officers were Fern Stalorites, president; Christine Welch, vice president; Elsie Eysenbach, corresponding secretary; Ruth Hornack, recording secretary, and Margaret Baumeister, treasurer.

Future goals of the chapter, according to Mrs. Hand, are continued bigger and better educational programs, greater

Also recognized at the celebration were Sara Jane Tackett and her mother, Mrs. Vera Tackett of Galien.

Miss Tackett is the recipient of this year's Fruitland chapter secretarial scholarship. She is currently a student at Lake Michigan college.

Halloween is a celebration of fantasy — the night when little goblins masquerade to collect the treats of the neighborhood. Kids can get into the Halloween spirit with a little imagination and some household scraps such as egg-shaped hosiery containers. Leftover packages can be turned into a trick-or-treat bucket and a bright Jack-O'-Lantern, with little fuss.

Make the trick-or-treat bucket from an orange container from the package containing four pairs of hose. Use a pair of pliers to heat a nail over a flame and poke holes on opposite sides of the canister. Thread a ribbon or string through the holes to make a carrying handle.

Personalize the bucket with lettering that says "Trick-or-Treat" with youngsters' names. Pressure-sensitive lettering can give a neat, professional look. Acrylic-based paint can also be used and decals can add a more decorative touch. The bucket is then ready to go trick-or-treating with the kids, or it can add festivity to an apple-dunking party when filled with candy corn.

To make the Jack-O'-Lantern, use a white hosiery egg. Color it with an orange marking pen, using long, even strokes. (Acrylic-based pens work best.) Draw eyes, nose and mouth with a black marking pen. Let your imagination take over to create fanciful pumpkin expressions. The Jack-O'-Lantern can be turned into a glowing face with the use of fluorescent paints.

For upright display, glue a plastic curtain ring or a detergent bottle cap to the bottom of the egg. The pumpkin face is now ready to adorn any party table or window on Halloween eve.

I can not figure out why I always have trouble with seams that pucker. Can you help me?

There are quite a few reasons why seams pucker. Sometimes the cause for puckering is in the fabric itself, and how much tension is placed on the fabric while stitching. stitch length, needle and even the machine itself.

Needle pucker — Thread pulls in the fabric caused by a blunt or too coarse needle.

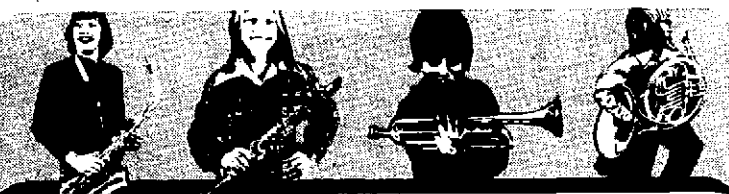

Stitch length pucker — Caused by not using the correct stitch for the type of fabric being stitched. A medium length stitch should be used on most fabric. Very small stitches will cause puckers.

Tension pucker — Caused by uneven or unbalanced tension on needle and bobbin threads.

Thread stitch pucker — Caused by stitching with threads that stretch at a too high tension level, even when tensions are balanced.

Feed pucker — Uneven feeding of seam layers caused by too much pressure, too high feed dog setting. Stretch knit fabric slightly while stitching even if you are using the polyester threads.

Science Expert Says World Food Calamity Not Yet Understood

By MARYANNE BUTT
Staff Writer

American technology and education have failed to comprehend the true realities of the world food calamity, according to a food and science expert from Michigan State University.

At a community seminar on world food and population Oct. 19 in the auditorium of St. Joseph high school, Dr. Georg Borgstrom, MSU professor of food science and human nutrition and geography, told participants that the statistics provided by demographers, economists and statisticians are simply counting heads and do not take into account other important factors.

The seminar was sponsored by Benton Harbor-St. Joseph branch of the American Association of University Women in cooperation with the MSU extension center.

Two dimensions have been missing from our image of the world situation — the biological and historical, Dr. Borgstrom said. New Engine May Boost Mileage

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP) — Scientists are testing a new automobile engine that boosts gas mileage by 30 per cent by allowing the motorist to adjust the horsepower to meet the driving situation.

The variable displacement engine unveiled Wednesday at Sandia Laboratories employs a mechanical linkage enabling the motorist to automatically change the length of the piston stroke, or displacement, to adjust the horsepower to meet driving demands.

Bill Robinson, head of Sandia's combustion applications division, said the innovation has increased gas mileage by 30 per cent in laboratory tests simulating an American family car. He said additional refinements could increase that figure to 40 per cent.

The engine, by changing the piston stroke — or cylinder displacement — has eliminated the need for a throttle, a major cause of inefficiency in conventional engines.

On mid-sized autos like the Ford Granada, Buick Skylark, Dodge Aspen and Plymouth Volare, Robinson estimated the new engine would increase mileage from the current 18 city and 24 highway to 24 city and 29 highway.

He said the engine is most efficient when the horsepower has been reduced to meet the lower speeds of city driving conditions. Conventional engines are least efficient under these conditions because the carburetor is throttled to reduce the amount of air-fuel mixture reaching the cylinders.

The new engine was invented in 1974 by Robinson's colleague, Harvey N. Poulit, a Sandia engineer since 1952. The prototype he built is a full-scale, five-cylinder engine with a displacement ranging from 43 to 190 cubic inches as the piston stroke changes from one to 4 1/4 inches. It has a maximum horsepower of about 100.

The piston stroke is controlled by a mechanism on the accelerator pedal. The motorist adjusts his speed just as he does on a conventional engine and the effect should feel about the same. However, the engine has not yet been tested in a vehicle.

Robinson said Detroit automakers have provided Poulit and the laboratory with technical expertise during the testing period. However, Sandia officials add that the auto manufacturers have been "very noncommittal as to how interested they are from a production point of view."

The Poulit engine uses the same basic parts and materials as conventional engines, said Robinson. "It was designed for Detroit's mass production techniques." Exhaust emissions are about the same as conventional engines and would require a catalytic converter to meet federal and state clean air standards, he said.

NEW FIGHTER: A large crowd at General Dynamics plant in Fort Worth, Texas, gathered around new F-16 fighter aircraft after rollout Wednesday. Among witnesses at rollout were government and military officials from U.S. and four European countries which will co-produce the new NATO fighter aircraft. (AP Wirephoto)

Lower Drinking Age Not Problem, Says Lawmaker

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The sponsor of legislation that lowered the age of majority to 18 says the legal drinking age should not be raised just because school administrators say it causes them problems.

Former state representative Michael Dively told the State Board of Education Wednesday he's not convinced the increase in alcohol-related problems bemoaned by administrators is really due to the 1972 law, or that such problems are in fact getting worse.

Dively suggested the fault for school problems may lie with an educational system that has failed to teach high school students how to act in an adult society.

Currently head of the Michigan Energy Administration, Dively was one of six people who spoke Wednesday to the state board about proposed legislation to raise the drinking age to 19, 20, or 21. The board is expected to decide Nov. 9 whether to endorse such a plan, though Wednesday it appeared split on the question.

Schools have done a "damn poor job," Dively said, of teaching students about the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse, as well as failing to teach youngsters about other adult responsibilities.

High schoolers "haven't the vaguest idea what it means to be an adult in this society... we cannot blame them if we have failed to prepare them," Dively said.

The board is under strong pressure to join the Michigan Association of School Administrators and the Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals in their call for raising the drinking age.

The principals' association says 90 per cent of its members surveyed favor boosting the age to 19 because they say they are seeing an increase in discipline problems at their schools.

State school Superintendent John Porter and others, however, have criticized the administrators for failing to document that alleged increase in alcohol-related problems with hard statistics.

And Chuck Boyd of the Office of Substance Abuse Services also told the board principals "appear to have the authority to enforce rules against drinking, but may not have the inclination."

Boyd said statements that alcohol abuse among 16-20 year olds has increased because of the 1972 law are "simply not true." He said many who do have problems are aware they can be helped and are seeking aid.

Kalamazoo Tow Ruling Is Upheld

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state Court of Appeals has upheld a lower court ruling that parts of a Kalamazoo city ordinance regulating auto towing and wrecker service are unconstitutional.

Kalamazoo County Circuit Court visiting judge Stuart Hoffus had struck down a part of the law which provided that autos could not be towed away from private property until the property owner signed an affidavit saying he had tried to locate the vehicle's owner.

Judge Hoffus also said a provision stating that a tow truck must not sit on private property awaiting business was unconstitutional.

The Court of Appeals agreed, saying the first provision "imposes an unreasonable burden upon the owner of the private property." It said the second section is an unreasonable means to accomplish the goal intended.

New Engine May Boost Mileage

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP) — Scientists are testing a new automobile engine that boosts gas mileage by 30 per cent by allowing the motorist to adjust the horsepower to meet the driving situation.

The variable displacement engine unveiled Wednesday at Sandia Laboratories employs a mechanical linkage enabling the motorist to automatically change the length of the piston stroke, or displacement, to adjust the horsepower to meet driving demands.

Bill Robinson, head of Sandia's combustion applications division, said the innovation has increased gas mileage by 30 per cent in laboratory tests simulating an American family car. He said additional refinements could increase that figure to 40 per cent.

The engine, by changing the piston stroke — or cylinder displacement — has eliminated the need for a throttle, a major cause of inefficiency in conventional engines.

On mid-sized autos like the Ford Granada, Buick Skylark, Dodge Aspen and Plymouth Volare, Robinson estimated the new engine would increase mileage from the current 18 city and 24 highway to 24 city and 29 highway.

He said the engine is most efficient when the horsepower has been reduced to meet the lower speeds of city driving conditions. Conventional engines are least efficient under these conditions because the carburetor is throttled to reduce the amount of air-fuel mixture reaching the cylinders.

The new engine was invented in 1974 by Robinson's colleague, Harvey N. Pouliot, a Sandia engineer since 1952. The prototype he built is a fullscale, five-cylinder engine with a displacement ranging from 43 to 190 cubic inches as the piston stroke changes from one to 4 1/4 inches. It has a maximum horsepower of about 100.

The piston stroke is controlled by a mechanism on the accelerator pedal. The motorist adjusts his speed just as he does on a conventional engine and the effect should feel about the same. However, the engine has not yet been tested in a vehicle.

Robinson said Detroit au-

tomakers have provided Pouliot and the laboratory with technical expertise during the testing period. However, Sandia officials add that the auto manufacturers have been "very noncommittal as to how interested they are from a production point of view."

The Pouliot engine uses the same basic parts and materials as conventional engines, said Robinson. "It was designed for Detroit's mass production techniques." Exhaust emissions are about the same as conventional engines and would require a catalytic converter to meet federal and state clean air standards, he said.

Kalamazoo Tow Ruling Is Upheld

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state Court of Appeals has upheld a lower court ruling that parts of a Kalamazoo city ordinance regulating auto towing and wrecker service are unconstitutional.

Kalamazoo County Circuit Court visiting judge Stuart Hoffus had struck down a part of the law which provided that autos could not be towed away from private property until the property owner signed an affidavit saying he had tried to locate the vehicle's owner.

Lower Drinking Age Not Problem, Says Lawmaker

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The sponsor of legislation that lowered the age of majority to 18 says the legal drinking age should not be raised just because school administrators say it causes them problems.

Former state representative Michael Dively told the State Board of Education Wednesday he's not convinced the increase in alcohol-related problems bemoaned by administrators is really due to the 1972 law, or that such problems are in fact getting worse.

Dively suggested the fault for school problems may lie with an educational system that has failed to teach high school students how to act in an adult society.

Currently head of the Michigan Energy Administration, Dively was one of six people who spoke Wednesday to the state board about proposed legislation to raise the drinking age to 19, 20, or 21. The board is expected to decide Nov. 9 whether to endorse such a plan, though Wednesday it appeared split on the question.

Schools have done a "damn poor job," Dively said, of teaching students about the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse, as well as failing to teach youngsters about other adult responsibilities.

High schoolers "haven't the vaguest idea what it means to be an adult in this society ... we cannot blame them if we have failed to prepare them," Dively said.

The board is under strong pressure to join the Michigan Association of School Administrators and the Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals in their call for raising the drinking age.

State school Superintendent John Porter and others, however, have criticized the administrators for failing to document that alleged increase in alcohol-related problems with hard statistics.

And Chuck Boyd of the Office of Substance Abuse Services also told the board principals "appear to have the authority to enforce rules against drinking, but may not have the inclination."

Boyd said statements that alcohol abuse among 18-20 year olds has increased because of the 1972 law are "simply not true." He said many who do have problems are aware they can be helped and are seeking aid.

U.S. Catholics Prepare 5-Year Social Action Plan

DETROIT (AP) — The U.S. Catholic Church, with encouragement from Pope Paul VI, launches today an unprecedented convention designed to assemble a five-year plan of social action for America's more than 45 million Catholics.

The "Call to Action" Conference, a two-year Bicentennial project, is billed as the most representative national assembly of American Roman Catholics in history.

The three-day convention, sponsored by the National Conference of Catholic Bishops and hosted by the Archdiocese of Detroit, caps a series of local and national discussions which have sought to identify social injustice within the church and propose solutions.

Some 1,500 bishops, priests, religious and lay people are to deal with such issues as the role of women in the church, political responsibility of the church and a call for greater lay participation in decision-making in the church.

"Before the world, you are humbly asserting your conviction that freedom and justice are truly an essential element of Christ's teaching," Pope Paul said in a filmed message to be presented to delegates.

Among those attending are 110 of the nation's 300 bishops, said Francis J. Butler, executive director of the NCCB Committee for the Bicentennial. Also represented are 150 of the 170 U.S. dioceses, which are geographical units made up of local parishes.

During the past two years, more than 848,000 persons told local and national hearings what they felt was wrong with the church and how they would change it, convention officials said.

"Concerns dealing with family life in America certainly were dominant in the consultations," Butler said at a briefing on the eve of the inaugural convention session. "Another concern deals with communication and decision-making in the church. They (Catholics) want to have a voice in the church. They want the church to be more responsive to their needs."

For each of eight broad categories, a writing committee has drafted recommendations to be debated and voted on by the delegates.

One recommendation includes a call for the NCCB to "sponsor an interpretive study of recent papal and episcopal statements on the subject of ordination of women."

Another asks church authorities to "provide reasons for administrative and policy decisions and conduct their affairs in the open."

"There's no way to determine how delegates will respond to the issues being presented," Butler said. "This has never been done before."

Butler acknowledged that Catholic Bishops could veto convention decisions at a meeting next May in Chicago, but he was optimistic the church hierarchy would "warmly welcome" some of the decisions.

"They're looking for where their people are in terms of their needs and concerns," he said.

"There's a potential for very rich chemistry at this meeting with the wide variety of backgrounds and experience and levels of education," Butler added. "I think if you get these people together, and you have very timely issues and ones that are somewhat painful to deal with, you've got to expect that something's got to give."

Ex-Welfare Chief Dies At Age 63

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — R. Bernard Houston, director of the state Department of Social Services for 12 years, died Wednesday during a hunting trip, according to the department. A department spokesman said Houston, 63, died of an apparent heart attack. His body was taken to a Marshall hospital.

Houston headed the social services department from 1963 until 1975. Since then he had been a lobbyist for the Michigan Hospital Association, the department said.

Houston was born in Michigan and graduated from Hillsdale College in 1934. He received a master's degree in public administration from George Washington University.

He worked in the Emergency Relief Administration during the depression, served in the Navy in World War II, and began social work as a field representative for the then-state Department of Social Welfare.

In 1953 he became director of the then-Wayne County Bureau of Social Welfare.

Houston is survived by his wife, Katherine, and two daughters and a son. Funeral services are planned for 2 p.m. Friday in Lansing.

Ex-Welfare Chief Dies At Age 63

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — R. Bernard Houston, director of the state Department of Social Services for 12 years, died Wednesday during a hunting trip, according to the department. A department spokesman said Houston, 63, died of an apparent heart attack. His body was taken to a Marshall hospital.

Houston headed the social services department from 1963 until 1975. Since then he had been a lobbyist for the Michigan Hospital Association, the department said.

Houston was born in Michigan and graduated from Hillsdale College in 1934. He received a master's degree in public administration from George Washington University.

He worked in the Emergency Relief Administration during the depression, served in the Navy in World War II, and began social work as a field representative for the then-state Department of Social Welfare.

In 1953 he became director of the then-Wayne County Bureau of Social Welfare.

Houston is survived by his wife, Katherine, and two daughters and a son. Funeral services are planned for 2 p.m. Friday in Lansing.

Ford Disputes Top Aides On Arab Oil Embargoes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is in disagreement with officials in his own administration when he claims the chances of a new Arab oil embargo "are virtually nil" while he is president.

At a news conference Wednesday, Ford was asked about the possibility of an Arab oil embargo and whether the United States ought to take any action against Arab countries in such an event.

Ford said, "My answer would be that I would not tolerate an Arab oil embargo, but I add very quickly in the current atmosphere, because of the leadership of the Ford administration, you aren't going to have an Arab oil embargo." But that statement conflicts with others made in recent days by top administration officials.

In a speech to the coal industry just one day earlier, Interior Secretary Thomas S. Kleppe said, "We have to destroy ... the myth that we are somehow safe from future oil embargoes."

And in a statement last month, Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb said U.S. "economic and political vulnerability" to another oil embargo is increasing.

In fact, the administration has warned of the possibility of another cut-off of foreign oil in arguing for its energy policies. Ford administration spokesmen say the consequences of an oil embargo today would be much worse than when the Arab-dominated Organization of Pe-roleum Exporting Countries shut off the supply in 1973-1974. In the Oct. 6 presidential debate, Democratic nominee Jimmy Carter said he would consider an oil embargo as "an economic declaration of war" and would cut off U.S. exports to the offending nations in retaliation.

At his news conference, Ford said there will be no oil embargo because "this administration ... was able to expand the peace effort in the Middle East because the Arab nations on the one hand and Israel on the other trust the Ford administration."

As a result, Ford said, "You won't find the possibilities of another Middle East war today that you had in 1973. So, the probabilities of an Arab oil embargo are virtually nil because of the leadership of this administration."

He's Still 'Chairman Mao'

TOKYO (AP) — Like the late Mao Tse-tung, Premier Hua Guofeng now has movies of his meetings with foreign dignitaries made for nationwide showing. Like Mao's meetings with foreigners, Hua's are reported with a large photo across the top of the front page of China's leading newspaper, the Peking People's Daily. And like Mao, Hua is prominently mentioned in connection with major Chinese achievements. One of the headlines over a report of the Chinese nuclear test Sunday read: "Under the leadership of the party central committee headed by Comrade Hua Guofeng." But Mao, who died Sept. 9, was — and still is — referred to as "Chairman" Mao, the chairman of the Chinese Communist party.

Snowy, But Not Cold Winter?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — If you can believe the woolly bear caterpillar, wild geese, and persimmon seeds, the coming winter will be snowy but not very cold, a folklore expert says. Neville Shackelford said he's looked in vain for traditional signs of a hard winter, including dark wide bands on the caterpillar, large flocks of geese flying south, and squirrels scurrying to store nuts. And you can be sure there'll be a lot of snow because it was foggy during many mornings last August, added Shackelford, who has written about folklore and native wildlife for University of Kentucky agricultural publications. Shackelford, of Beautyville in south-central Kentucky, said he's seen "several woolly bears, and they just had a little black on each end of them. And I've seen two or three that didn't have any stripe on them at all."

British, Rhodesians Meet

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Delegations from the Rhodesian and British governments were scheduled to open preliminary talks today about arrangements for next week's conference on black rule in the former British colony in southern Africa. In London, the House of Commons voted late Wednesday to renew the economic sanctions against Rhodesia for another year. The British government said they would not be lifted until an interim biracial government replaces Rhodesia's white-minority regime. Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith was to begin discussing ground rules for the talks this afternoon with Britain's ambassador to the United Nations, Ivor Richard, who will preside at the conference.

Lebanon Cease Fire Begins

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The latest cease-fire in the Lebanese civil war began at 6 a.m. today as a brilliant rainbow arched over Beirut. Heavy shelling that killed at least 90 persons in the city during the night had already subsided, but scattered machine-gun fire continued. "That's a good omen," said an early-morning pedestrian pointing to the rainbow. More than 50 cease-fire agreements have collapsed during the 15-month-old war. But once again all the major fighting forces — the Palestine Liberation Organization, their leftist Lebanese Moslem allies, the Lebanese Christian militias and the Syrians — said they would observe this one. The Christian Phalange party claimed its militia was in full control of key towns and villages in southeast Lebanon, north of the Israeli border, where Christian and Palestinian forces battled this week for control of the Arkoub area, the Palestinians' base for their raids into Israel before the war.

Expensive African Art

DETROIT (AP) — The Founder's Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts has acquired — for $275,000 — the most expensive single piece of African art ever bought by Americans. The century-old carving, a four-foot-tall wooden sculptured male figure, is called a Nkonde or a Grand Fetish. It will be unveiled next Tuesday as the centerpiece of the Detroit Institute's renowned African collection. Experts believe the Nkonde was carved by a member of the Kongo tribe. The tribe lived in the Majumba region at the mouth of the Congo River in part of what is now Zaire. The fetish, carved from grayish wood, is a figure of a man standing with his hands on his hips, his head thrust forward. Substances believed to have magical properties were sealed in the Nkonde when it was sculpted.

'Socialistic Measure' Rapped

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The head of the Michigan Food Dealers Association has blasted a proposal to ban throwaway containers from state lands as a "socialistic measure" and an invasion of individual rights. Don E. Taylor, executive director of the association representing independent grocers and food wholesalers, leveled the charges at the state Department of Natural Resources, saying its director, Howard Tanner, has too much power. Tanner has suggested banning throwaways from the four million acres of state land, and Friday the Natural Resources Commission indicated support for the idea. Tanner is to present a detailed proposal next month. Taylor said the commission left the door open to banning nonreturnable "mustard, ketchup, pickle and liquor bottles."

Small Banks Sue Big Bank

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP) — A group of small independent banks has filed suit against Michigan National Bank, charging it with violating federal laws by operating branch banks. The suit, filed in U.S. District Court, accuses Michigan National Bank and its affiliate, Michigan National Bank-Valley, of operating branch banks in violation of the National Bank Act. The Michigan Association of Community Bankers filed the suit, saying Michigan National illegally operates branch banks called "Money Mart's" in Almont, Sandusky, Bad Axe and Midland.

Court Upholds Bar Closing

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Bars frequented by prostitutes who accept and solicit customers can be closed as public nuisances, the State Court of Appeals ruled Wednesday. The appeals court upheld a Wayne County Circuit Court decision which closed a bar as a nuisance because it was used by prostitutes as a place to pick up customers. The Court of Appeals said such action can be taken under nuisance laws. The case came before the Court of Appeals from the Supreme Court, which has ruled that motion picture theaters do not fall under the nuisance abatement law. But the appeals court reaffirmed the decision that a bar can be closed as a nuisance if used for prostitution.

Gas Prices Hold Firm

LANSING (AP) — The average price of regular gasoline along Michigan's main tourist routes held firm for a fifth week at 62.8 cents a gallon, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan. The price remained a tenth of a percent below the all-time high. Prices of regular fuel in the 300 major brand stations surveyed ranged from 52.9 to 68.9 cents a gallon, it said. The average price of unleaded gas held at 65 cents for the second consecutive week. The auto club said a check of 100 metropolitan Detroit stations found regular fuel selling at 58.8 cents a gallon, down two-tenths of a cent since last week. The price spread was from 54.9 to 64.9 cents.

Consumer Prices Up

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices rose four-tenths of a percent in September as grocery costs declined for the first time in six months, helping offset increases for other goods and services, the government said today.

The over-all rise in the consumer price index translates into an annual inflation rate of about 4.9 percent, a level in line with the basic underlying rate of inflation in the economy of 5 to 6 percent.

September's rise follows increases of five-tenths of a percent in each of the previous three months.

County Line Bridge Start Tied Up By Federal Rule

HARTFORD — Contracts for construction of the County Line road bridge west of here have been held up because of federal requirements, the Hartford township board was informed last night.

The U.S. Army corps of engineers has ruled that the township and county road commission must establish that construction will not pollute waters of the Paw Paw river and endanger fish life in the river before the project can proceed.

The township board was informed of the delay in a telephone call from Paul Kaiser, engineer-manager of the Van Buren county road commission. The commission is handling engineering and construction contracts for the township.

The bridge, which passes over the Paw Paw river about one-half mile north of Red Arrow highway, was badly damaged a year ago when a pickup truck smashed into and weakened some of the bridge's support structure.

Replacement has been estimated at $120,000, with about 73 percent, or nearly $88,000, to come from the federal government and most of the remainder from the pickup truck driver's insurance company, Kaiser was reported to have informed the board.

The state's Department of Natural Resources issued in June a permit for construction but the corps of engineers in July said a federal permit is also required, according to Kaiser.

In other areas, the board voted to sign contracts with two firms for work required in applying for a minimum of $100,000 in federal funds to finance construction of a township hall and maintenance building.

exceed six percent of actual building costs, township officials said.

The township is after federal funds for the projects because voters in August turned down a proposed tax that would have financed construction.

The township board also appointed Louis Kling and Paul Markille to one-year terms and Larry Blighly and Dale Woolcott to two-year terms on the planning commission.

The township board was informed of the delay in a telephone call from Paul Kaiser, engineer-manager of the Van Buren county road commission. The commission is handling engineering and construction contracts for the township.

pointment of last year, Bellow himself was not immediately available for comment.

His most recent work is the nonfiction "To Jerusalem and Back: A Personal Account," based on the journal he kept during his visit to Israel last year.

Born in the Montreal suburb of Lachine, Bellow moved with his family to Chicago when he was 9. Though he received a bachelor's degree in anthropology from Northwestern University in 1937, his goal from his youth on was to be a writer.

As a student at Chicago's Tuley High School, Bellow and several other literary hopefuls met each Friday night to discuss literature and current events. Dave Peltz, a member of the group who still lunches with Bellow, has characterized the author as a quiet, conventional man.

"Saul is not a pop character," Peltz said in an interview with a national magazine. "He enjoys a couple of drinks before dinner, a quiet meal and a glass of brandy afterwards. He prefers to sit in civilized circumstances."

Bellow has also been known, though, to enjoy the slightly less civilized pleasures of the poker table.

Bellow has been a faculty member in the University of Chicago's English Department since 1962 and was chairman of the university's prestigious Committee on Social Thought from 1970 to 1976.

He has been married four times and has three sons.

Though admittedly tempted from time to time to join the more visible literary world of New York, Bellow has remained a Chicagoan, spending most of his life in the Hyde Park neighborhood surrounding the university.

Last week two American virologists, Baruch S. Blumberg of the University of Pennsylvania Medical School and Carlton D. Gajdusek of the National Institute for Neurological Diseases, won the prize for medicine, and economist Milton Friedman won the prize in economics.

Earlier this week Burton Richier of Stanford University and Samuel C. C. Ting of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology shared the physics prize, and William N. Lipscomb of Harvard University was awarded the chemistry prize.

A peace prize was not awarded this year.

He's Still 'Chairman Mao'

TOKYO (AP) — Like the late Mao Tse-tung, Premier Hua Kuo-feng now has movies of his meetings with foreign dignitaries made for nationwide showing. Like Mao's meetings with foreigners, Hua's are reported with a large photo across the top of the front page of China's leading newspaper, the Peking People's Daily. And like Mao, Hua is prominently mentioned in connection with major Chinese achievements. One of the headlines over a report of the Chinese nuclear test Sunday read: "Under the leadership of the party central committee headed by Comrade Hua Kuo-feng." But Mao, who died Sept. 9, was — and still is — referred to as "Chairman" Mao, the chairman of the Chinese Communist party.

Snowy, But Not Cold Winter?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — If you can believe the woolly bear caterpillar, wild geese, and persimmon seeds, the coming winter will be snowy but not very cold, a folklore expert says. Neyle Shackelford said he's looked in vain for traditional signs of a hard winter, including dark wide bands on the caterpillar, large flocks of geese flying south, and squirrels scurrying to store nuts. And you can be sure there'll be a lot of snow because it was foggy during many mornings last August, added Shackelford, who has written about folklore and native wildlife for University of Kentucky agricultural publications. Shackelford, of Beattyville in south-central Kentucky, said he's seen "several woolly bears, and they just had a little black on each end of them. And I've seen two or three that didn't have any stripe on them at all."

British, Rhodesians Meet

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Delegations from the Rhodesian and British governments were scheduled to open preliminary talks today about arrangements for next week's conference on black rule in the former British colony in southern Africa. In London, the House of Commons voted late Wednesday to renew the economic sanctions against Rhodesia for another year. The British government said they would not be lifted until an interim biracial government replaces Rhodesia's white-minority regime. Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith was to begin discussing ground rules for the talks this afternoon with Britain's ambassador to the United Nations, Ivor Richard, who will preside at the conference.

Lebanon Cease Fire Begins

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The latest cease-fire in the Lebanese civil war began at 6 a.m. today as a brilliant rainbow arched over Beirut. Heavy shelling that killed at least 90 persons in the city during the night had already subsided, but scattered machine-gun fire continued. "That's a good omen," said an early-morning pedestrian pointing to the rainbow. More than 50 cease-fire agreements have collapsed during the 18-month-old war. But once again all the major fighting forces — the Palestine Liberation Organization, their leftist Lebanese Moslem allies, the Lebanese Christian militias and the Syrians — said they would observe this one. The Christian Phalange party claimed its militia was in full control of key towns and villages in southeast Lebanon, north of the Israeli border, where Christian and Palestinian forces battled this week for control of the Arkoub area, the Palestinians' base for their raids into Israel before the war.

Expensive African Art

DETROIT (AP) — The Founder's Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts has acquired — for $275,000 — the most expensive single piece of African art ever bought by Americans. The century-old carving, a four-foot-tall wooden sculptured male figure, is called a Nkonde or a Grand Fetish. It will be unveiled next Tuesday as the centerpiece of the Detroit Institute's renowned African collection. Experts believe the Nkonde was carved by a member of the Kongo tribe. The tribe lived in the Majumba region at the mouth of the Congo River in part of what is now Zaire. The fetish, carved from grayish wood, is a figure of a man standing with his hands on his hips, his head thrust forward. Substances believed to have magical properties were sealed in the Nkonde when it was sculpted.

'Socialistic Measure' Rapped

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The head of the Michigan Food Dealers Association has blasted a proposal to ban throwaway containers from state lands as a "socialistic measure" and an invasion of individual rights. Don E. Taylor, executive director of the association representing independent grocers and food wholesalers, leveled the charges at the state Department of Natural Resources, saying its director, Howard Tanner, has too much power. Tanner has suggested banning throwaways from the four million acres of state land, and Friday the Natural Resources Commission indicated support for the idea. Tanner is to present a detailed proposal next month. Taylor said the commission left the door open to banning nonreturnable "mustard, ketchup, pickle and liquor bottles."

Small Banks Sue Big Bank

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP) — A group of small independent banks has filed suit against Michigan National Bank, charging it with violating federal laws by operating branch banks. The suit, filed in U.S. District Court, accuses Michigan National Bank and its affiliate, Michigan National Bank-Valley, of operating branch banks in violation of the National Bank Act. The Michigan Association of Community Bankers filed the suit, saying Michigan National illegally operates branch banks called "Money Marts" in Almont, Sandusky, Bad Axe and Midland.

Court Upholds Bar Closing

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Bars frequented by prostitutes who accost and solicit customers can be closed as public nuisances, the State Court of Appeals ruled Wednesday. The appeals court upheld a Wayne County Circuit Court decision which closed a bar as a nuisance because it was used by prostitutes as a place to pick up customers. The Court of Appeals said such action can be taken under nuisance laws. The case came before the Court of Appeals from the Supreme Court, which has ruled that motion picture theaters do not fall under the nuisance abatement law. But the appeals court reaffirmed the decision that a bar can be closed as a nuisance if used for prostitution.

Gas Prices Hold Firm

LANSING (AP) — The average price of regular gasoline along Michigan's main tourist routes held firm for a fifth week at 62.8 cents a gallon, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan. The price remained a tenth of a per cent below the all-time high. Prices of regular fuel in the 300 major brand stations surveyed ranged from 52.9 to 68.9 cents a gallon, it said. The average price of unleaded gas held at 65 cents for the second consecutive week. The auto club said a check of 100 metropolitan Detroit stations found regular fuel selling at 59.8 cents a gallon, down two-tenths of a cent since last week. The price spread was from 54.9 to 64.9 cents.

President Won't Let Series Fans Suffer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postponement of the fourth game of baseball's World Series has raised the possibility of a conflict Friday night between the series and the last presidential debate. But President Ford has reassured baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn that "we'll work something out" if a conflict arises. Rain forced postponement of the fourth game Wednesday night, and it was rescheduled for tonight. If the New York Yankees defeat the Cincinnati Reds, another game would be scheduled Friday night. The contests start at 8:30 p.m. EDT. The presidential debate is slated to begin at 9:30 p.m. EDT. White House press secretary Ron Nessen quoted Kuhn as saying he would like to start a Friday game at 6 p.m., hoping the game would end before the beginning of the debate, which is scheduled to be broadcast on all three major television networks. The World Series is being carried on NBC. According to Nessen, Ford told Kuhn it would be no problem if the game ran into extra innings. "We'll work something out," Nessen quoted Ford as saying.

Governor Selects 53

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Fifty-three persons from around Michigan have been named to a panel that will advise state officials on health care plans. Gov. William Milliken made the appointments Tuesday to the Statewide Health Coordinating Council. The council, created by an executive order from the governor, will approve or disapprove state health care plans and applications for federal health care money. Among those named to the council were health professionals, state officials, local officials and professors.

More Foes Of Proposal C

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — School board and school administration groups have joined the opposition to a tax limitation proposal on the November ballot. Both the Michigan Association of School Boards and the Michigan Association of School Administrators have come out against "Proposal C," which would limit state spending and taxes to 8.3 per cent of personal income. The MASEB said passage of the issue would raise local taxes and harm school systems, while the MASA said approval could mean a massive cutback in the quality and services of Michigan's public schools. The organizations said the proposal is not a tax limit, but a shift of taxes back to the local property owner.

FBI Probes Derailment

CLIFFORD, Mich. (AP) — FBI agents are investigating the derailment of a railroad tanker carrying a toxic chemical which exploded, forcing the evacuation of some 2,500 persons. Chessie System authorities said Tuesday vandalism may have been responsible for the derailment of the tanker. Chessie Police Capt. Henry Koehnke said something about a siding switch wasn't right. Koehnke said the accident caused $300,000 damage to the contents of the car, but no estimate has yet been placed on the damage to the rolling stock and track. Chessie has offered a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the vandalism.

Eleanor Ford Rites Friday

DETROIT (AP) — Funeral services will be held Friday for Eleanor Clay Ford, a woman whose strong will helped force the destiny of the Ford Motor Co. Mrs. Ford, widow of Henry Ford's only son, Edsel, and mother of Ford board chairman Henry Ford II, died Tuesday at the age of 80 in Henry Ford Hospital of a circulatory illness. The funeral service will be held at Christ Episcopal Church, in suburban Grosse Pointe Farms, at 11 a.m. Friday with private burial at Woodlawn Cemetery. The family asked that any memorials be sent to the Detroit Institute of Arts or the Merrill-Palmer Institute for Children.

Sex Offenses Charged

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit man faces multiple charges of criminal sexual conduct for allegedly posing as a doctor in a phony birth control clinic and then raping women who came to him for contraceptives. Shelton Vaughan, age 40, is being held in the Wayne County Jail after being charged with one first-degree and one second-degree count of criminal sexual conduct. Police said other charges are pending. According to police, the fake clinic set-up allegedly began when a real Planned Parenthood clinic mistakenly printed some appointment cards with the wrong telephone number. Police said the phone number was that of Shelton's office. Officers said several women told them that when they called what they thought was the Planned Parenthood number, Vaughan set up appointments for them to come to his office.

Consumer Prices Up

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices rose four-tenths of a per cent in September as grocery costs declined for the first time in six months, helping offset increases for other goods and services, the government said today.

The over-all rise in the consumer price index translates into an annual inflation rate of about 4.9 per cent, a level in line with the basic underlying rate of inflation in the economy of 5 to 6 per cent.

September's rise follows increases of five-tenths of a per cent in each of the previous three months.

County Line Bridge Start Tied Up By Federal Rule

HARTFORD — Contracts for construction of the County Line road bridge west of here have been held up because of federal requirements, the Hartford township board was informed last night.

The U.S. Army corps of engineers has ruled that the township and county road commission must establish that construction will not pollute waters of the Paw Paw river and endanger fish life in the river before the project can proceed.

The township board was informed of the delay in a telephone call from Paul Kaiser, engineer-manager of the Van Buren county road commission. The commission is handling engineering and construction contracts for the township.

The bridge, which passes over the Paw Paw river about one-half mile north of Red Arrow highway, was badly damaged a year ago when a pickup truck smashed into and weakened some of the bridge's support structure.

Replacement has been estimated at $120,000, with about 73 per cent, or nearly $88,000, to come from the federal government and most of the remainder from the pickup truck driver's insurance company, Kaiser was reported to have informed the board.

The state's Department of Natural Resources issued in June a permit for construction but the corps of engineers in July said a federal permit is also required, according to Kaiser.

In other areas, the board voted to sign contracts with two firms for work required in applying for a minimum of $100,000 in federal funds to finance construction of a township hall and maintenance building.

The contracts were with Leslie Cripps and Associates of Berrien Springs for preparation of the application, and with the St. Joseph engineering firm of Wightman and Associates for necessary engineering work.

The Cripps contract is not to exceed $2,500 and the engineering contract calls for a fee not to exceed six per cent of actual building costs, township officials said.

The township is after federal funds for the projects because voters in August turned down a proposed tax that would have financed construction.

The township board also appointed Louis Kling and Paul Markille to one-year terms and Larry Blighly and Dale Woolcott to two-year terms on the planning commission.

Judge Will Repay Funds

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A Macomb County judge accused of misusing funds he raised for charity has agreed to pay back some of the money and dissolve his charitable organization.

Suspended Warren District Judge Roy N. Gruenberg will pay back $1,798 of the $3,733 his organization allegedly diverted to his political and personal use, according to Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley.

Gruenberg, who is running for reelection Nov. 2, is under a suspension from the bench pending the outcome of a complaint of judicial misconduct made against him to the state Judicial Tenure Commission.

Gilbert Hardy Jr., one of the trustees of Roy Gruenberg's Charities, has agreed to pay another $425.48 to settle a lawsuit brought by Kelley's office.

The suit accused Gruenberg's nonprofit corporation of raising nearly $17,000 at an unlicensed charity fundraiser last year, then spending some of the money for bumper stickers boosting Gruenberg's reelection and other noncharitable uses.

The other uses included Gruenberg's personal bar and restaurant bill for four months, plastic beer steins emblazoned with the judge's name and used at the fundraiser, and stationery for Hardy's own business, according to the lawsuit.

The $5,900 left in the charity organization will be distributed to 10 legitimate charities, Hardy said.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Stanley Steinborn said the $1,798 payment from Gruenberg was agreed to in negotiations after the judge claimed the money spent for the plastic steins was a legitimate expense in holding the fundraiser.

No criminal charges were filed by the attorney general or the Macomb County prosecutor. Steinborn said his office was "more interested in getting the money back than sending him to jail."

A six-week judicial hearing found Gruenberg guilty of numerous charges ranging from public intoxication to discussing pending court cases with defendants. Legal arguments will be made to the nine-judge tenure commission before it makes a recommendation to the state Supreme Court.

Finished products will be on display and class instructors will be available for discussion. Students will also give demonstrations throughout the program.

BH Conducts Rat Survey

The Benton Harbor public works department, in conjunction with the Berrien county health department, is conducting a rat survey in the city in preparation for applying for a federal grant to combat the rodent problem.

The city's public works department recently hired four additional personnel with federal Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) funds to conduct the survey, according to City Manager Melvin Farmer Jr.

The survey, which is expected to take five weeks, is being conducted in approximately 200 city blocks, bounded by the city limits on the north and east, Colfax avenue on the west, and Empire avenue on the south.

Ernest Clark, environmental housing technician with the county health department, is coordinating the survey and will compile the data obtained and aid in the writing of the grant application.

Clark said the survey teams are proceeding in a block by block area from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. He said neighborhood block clubs and area residents are aiding the survey in pointing out areas of high rat infestations.

The four survey personnel are Richard Coleman, Elaine Perry, James Brown and Ronnie Williams. Clark said the four survey people and five block club representatives recently attended a two-day training session on survey methods at the health department.

Clark will be attending a one-week training course on rodent grant applications at the Communicable Disease Control center in Atlanta, Ga., in preparation for applying for the grant.

Directory Delivery Complete

R. L. Polk & Co. of Taylor, Mich., announced it has completed delivery of the 1976 Bicentennial edition of the Benton Harbor and St. Joseph City Directory, including St. Joseph township; portions of Benton and Lincoln townships and the Villages of Shoreham and Stevensville.

The commemorative edition has been delivered to local subscribers. The directory contains four major departments along with an introduction and statistical and general review of the communities.

First, the classified section contains a complete list of the names and addresses of business and professional concerns arranged in alphabetical order under their appropriate classified headings.

The alphabetical section of the directory shows the name, marital status, occupation and address of each resident of the Benton Harbor and St. Joseph areas. Husband and wife are counted as one name, and 18 is the minimum age limit of individuals listed.

The third section is the directory of householders, including a street and avenue guide. This section lists the numbered streets in numerical order followed by the named streets in alphabetical order. The residents on every street are listed along with the telephone number of each address. New neighbors are identified by a star appearing between street number and name of occupant.

The numerical telephone directory is the last major section of the book. Telephones are listed in numerical order with the individual or business who has the number listed alongside.

The first and last names appearing in the alphabetical section of the directory are Floyd Abar and John J. Zylstra.

Judge Will Repay Funds

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A Macomb County judge accused of misusing funds he raised for charity has agreed to pay back some of the money and dissolve his charitable organization.

Suspended Warren District Judge Roy N. Gruenberg will pay back $1,798 of the $3,753 his organization allegedly diverted to his political and personal use, according to Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley.

Gruenberg, who is running for reelection Nov. 2, is under a suspension from the bench pending the outcome of a

DENIES BAIT-SWITCH POLICY

Sears Agrees To FTC Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission today approved an order that bars Sears, Roebuck and Co., the nation's largest retailer, from using bait-and-switch tactics to sell major home appliances.

Sears, in agreeing to the order, admitted no wrongdoing. But the company said in a statement that "incidents which came to light in the recent FTC hearings were violations of Sears policy as well as FTC standards."

Sears had been accused by the FTC of luring buyers into stores with advertisements for especially low-priced appliances and then trying to pressure customers into buying more-expensive models. This practice is known as bait-and-switch.

There is no penalty involved in today's FTC order; Sears only agreed not to use such tactics in the future. But the order has the force of law and any subsequent violation could cost Sears $10,000 per offense.

Arthur M. Wood, chairman and chief executive officer of Sears, issued a statement saying the order "reflects our long-standing company policy and we will vigorously enforce it. We regret that even one such case occurred in our annual transactions of some 9.5 million major home appliances."

The case against Sears was launched in 1971 as a result of complaints from customers and competitors, and the FTC began formal action in 1974, an FTC spokesman said.

Forty-seven witnesses, mainly Sears salesmen and customers, testified before the FTC in Chicago earlier this year before the hearings were stopped at Sears' request for purposes of negotiating a settlement. Today's order resulted from the hearing.

The original complaint was based on a Sears ad that offered, for $88, a sewing machine that could do button holes, sew zig-zag stitches and operate in reverse.

If a customer sought to buy that machine, the FTC said, he was told that the appliance really could not perform those elaborate functions, was noisy, lacked a guarantee and could require a long time to deliver. A more expensive model was suggested.

"We had a lot of salesmen testify that divisional sales managers put a lot of pressure on them to sell the more-expensive items," said Stephanie Kanwit, director of the Chicago regional FTC office. "The salesmen then decided they had to push the high-priced goods."

In many cases, Mrs. Kanwit said, the advertised special was unavailable for sale. The hearing evidence showed that Sears' bait-and-switch tactics were a nationwide problem, she said.

Although the FTC case was based on an ad for a sewing machine, the order applies to television sets, refrigerators, washers and any other appliance line whose most-expensive model sells for $50 or more.

In accepting the order, Sears agreed not to:

—Disparage advertised appliances in an effort to sell a more-expensive model.

—Use demonstrations or displays that make the advertised appliance appear defective.

—Make misleading comparisons with other products in the same line.

Sears will be required to have available sufficient quantities of advertised specials to meet reasonably anticipated demand. Copies of appliance ads must be posted in each major-appliance department with the notation that "each of these advertised items is readily available for sale as advertised."

Wood said: "Our sales personnel are required to take an order in every instance when an advertised item is not immediately available.

"Our managers are responsible for seeing that all employees adhere to company policy and they will redouble their vigilance to prevent any deviations from Sears' policy."

Less Cash Via Bond Issues

LANSENG, Mich. (AP) — Michigan school districts raised less money through local school bond issues during 1975-76 than during any of the past 13 years, the State Board of Education says. School districts in the state raised nearly $130 million through bond issues, a decrease of $16 million from the previous year and the lowest amount since 1962-63, when $119 million was raised. The revenue slump came despite voter approval of more bond issues in 1975-76 than the previous year. Voters approved 20 of 85 school bond issues, or 24 per cent, while they passed 13 of 99, or 13 per cent in 1974-75. Officials said the decrease in money in part reflects a statewide decline in school construction. Construction was begun on 1,234 classrooms last year, a decrease of 702 from the previous year.

Politician Has No Private Life, Says Earl Butz

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Former Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz told a farm group audience Wednesday he feels "clearly immoral" details of a politician's private life are fair game for public campaign discussion.

"I think if you are in public life, you don't have any private life," said Butz, who resigned his cabinet post following controversy over obscene remarks he made about blacks.

Butz was responding to questions about recent news reports that U.S. Senate candidate Donald Riegle had an extra-marital affair with a former unpaid campaign staffer.

Asked whether he thought a politician's private life should be discussed publicly, Butz replied, "Where it's clearly immoral, it's a proper thing to discuss in public." Butz did not refer to Riegle specifically.

Butz is making a two-day, five-city tour speaking to farm groups at the invitation of the Michigan Farm Bureau. The tour was arranged before his resignation.

Butz, who blamed the news media for both Riegle's problems and his own, said overzealous investigative reporters have moved the country to the point where "you can't persuade a conscientious person to enter government in a top position and take the gaff you got to take."

He charged the real motive of investigative reporters "is to trip, ... to convict by association," and to sell their product, "10 column inches or 90 seconds on the evening news."

Butz did say he does not feel his resignation will effect the Presidential election. He repeatedly refused to answer questions specific questions on his remarks about blacks or his resignation, calling it a "dead issue" and saying he has stuck by his "no comment" rule since stepping down.

As he left the early evening news conference, the former agriculture secretary quipped to reporters, "Sorry you didn't get anything spectacular, but you got time-and-a-half."

At the news conference, Butz also said Michigan farmers have over-reacted to the state's PBB contamination episode. Polybrominated biphenyl, a toxic fire retardant, was accidentally mixed with animal feed several years ago, poisoning thousands of Michigan livestock. Butz called the PBB problem a very serious and costly one and "a very toxic one too, since it (PBB) is carcinogenic."

However, he said federal guidelines for PBB in food are "safe and based on a great deal of research." Some farmers demanded the tolerance level for PBB be set at zero.

"I think there probably was an over-reaction," Butz said of that demand.

Project May Save Detroit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — President Ford's top transportation official says he feels the infusion of $600 million in federal transit funds to Detroit can help save the ailing city.

Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman Jr. said at a news conference Wednesday he believes the money will be the key element in the "salvation and revitalization" of Detroit.

At the convention of the American Public Transit Association, Coleman said he decided about 10 days ago Detroit needed the money and informed Ford of his decision on Monday.

Seated next to Detroit Mayor Coleman Young at a news conference, Coleman was asked about the requirement that Detroit area businessmen pledge at least $600 million in matching funds for the project.

Asked whether such projects as the Renaissance Center would qualify as part of the matching funds, Coleman smiled at the mayor and said, "That wouldn't be fair."

Coleman said Gov. William Milliken and the Detroit mayor both have assured him the city will comply with several other conditions for the grant. Those include a promise of an apprentice jobs program for unemployed Detroit youths and a guarantee that minority contractors "will have significant opportunities" in construction of the system.

State Can Bar Forest Drilling

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled the state can deny oil and gas drilling permits even on state land leased to private industry for development of those resources.

State officials said Wednesday the decision gives added strength to state efforts to limit gas and oil drilling in northern lower Michigan's Pigeon River Country State Forest.

The state says it wants to limit drilling to avert environmental damage in the semiwilderness area, parts of which are under lease to oil and gas companies.

The court upheld an Ingham County Circuit Court decision which rejected a suit by the Michigan Oil Co. seeking to obtain a permit to drill in the state forest. The company's drilling request had been turned down earlier by the state supervisor of wells and the Natural Resources Commission.

The commission voted in June

HELPING HANDS: Albert R. Zebolsky of Coldwater, Mich. was one of about 200 farmers who turned out to harvest 450 acres of corn for Robert Smith family near Coldwater. Smith and two sons were killed in private to let three major oil companies drill for oil and gas on 15,000 acres in the southern third of the forest. The controversial agreement gave the companies the right to seek drilling permits on land in the northern two-thirds of the forest after five years, but they gave up rights to another 63,000 acres.

The companies originally claimed they had legal rights to drill in the forest because of leases already granted.

The court dismissed Michigan

Oil Co. arguments that the commission did not have the power to deny permits to drill in order to prevent harm to wildlife. The court said lawful efforts to rectify the past mistake of auctioning off the land should be encouraged.

The Natural Resources Commission had denied Michigan Oil Co. a permit to drill in Pigeon River on the grounds it would cause environmental damage. The Court of Appeals said evidence in the case upheld that argument.

The court cautioned the Natural Resources Commission, however, that the state must draft a management plan to govern the issuing of drilling permits for state-leased land if it expects future permit denials to be upheld.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Stewart

Freeman called the Pigeon River agreement just that kind of management plan. "We're a long way toward the end of the controversy now," he said.

"What the court said is, if you grant a lease and deny the drilling permit you better have a damn good reason, and in this case we think you have one," Freeman said. He said the decision would not have provided support for a state decision closing the forest to all drilling.

Howard Tanner, director of the Department of Natural Resources, said the decision "appears to invite" a new drilling application from Michigan Oil Co. He said the application will be decided within the strict guidelines set by the commission when it adopted the Pigeon River plan for Pigeon River.

Legal Pornography Dying In Denmark

By JOHN VINOCUR
Associated Press Writer
COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — The news stand at a $30 a night hotel here still displays sex films on the same shelf as candy bars and maps of the city, but pornography in Denmark, where it was legalized for the first time in the West in 1969, is dying.

The Porno Super Market, the biggest shop of its kind in the city, is closing down next month and the police have stopped the live sex shows that once earned their owners up to $10,000 a night.

In a crowning touch of ignominy, some of the sex shops still in business now sell excursion tickets to live sex shows in Sweden, which could be compared to Spanish travel agents offering charter flights to watch the bullfights in Mexico.

"I think it's over now," said Aage Slots, a businessman who owned three porno shops. "There was a great deal of money in it, but anybody who's still making or selling porno in Denmark is lying if he tells you it's the way it was."

The explanations are varied. The obvious ones are that novelty has worn off and that pornography is now available in many places where it was a shocking notion when Denmark first removed legal restraints concerning it seven years ago.

Another factor was the entry of full-length hard core feature films from the United States into the world market.

This cut into the mail order and direct sales of Danishmade 8 millimeter short films. Slots said, which lacked the professionalism of the big screen American productions.

But the most important factor, according to Police Inspector Bruno Rasmussen, head of the Copenhagen police's 12-man porno squad, was the decision more than a year ago to close down the shows in which sexual acts were performed before an audience.

The decision came under pressure from parliament and the Justice Ministry which said it had strong information that the tremendous profits from the live shows were going into narcotics traffic. Without having precise figures, Rasmussen believes that about 80 per cent of the retail business — the yearly turnover was estimated at about $50 million — disappeared with the crackdown on the live shows.

"We know that Denmark has lost millions from the tourists as a result of the crackdown. It's clear they were here to see the shows, and bought films and magazines as you would a souvenir," Rasmussen said. "The local tourist board was very angry at what we did, but the government backed us up."

There are clubs that still advertise live shows, but at the height of the tourist season in the summer, 10 policemen patrolled the porno strip behind the central railroad station telling prospective customers "No live show. It's just a phony."

Slots said that the prices of films and magazines gave an indication of how far the business had slipped. Films that sold for the equivalent of $45 four years ago now are priced at $25. Magazine prices remained roughly the same, but since production costs have gone up, they function as loss leaders.

The same is true of the export business, Slots said. "In the old days you could ship films to France or Italy and get $16 to $20 a film for a wholesale lot. Your Frenchman sold the lot, under the counter, of course, for $50 a film. Now anybody can get a film, retail I mean, for $20. So imagine what the wholesale price is."

Danish exporters of pornography, who still work without fear of prosecution despite international postal conventions that prohibit sending obscene material through the mails, do not like to talk very much about their volume. But there has been clear attrition in the sector, with one film maker, Jens Theander, claiming that his Candy Film Co. now has about 75 per cent of the business.

Another indication that the export business is drying up is in the decreasing number of complaints coming to the Justice Ministry from other countries about pornographic material from Denmark.

Milliken Signs Medicaid Bill

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A bill to help the state recover money from private insurers on behalf of Medicaid recipients was signed into law Wednesday. The bill was passed unanimously by both legislative houses as a step toward bailing out the financially troubled Medicaid program.

Gov. William Milliken called the measure "an important step toward ... cost containment," and estimated the law could save the state millions of dollars.

State officials have warned that the Medicaid program, budgeted for $811 million for the fiscal year that started Oct. 1, will run out of money by May or June unless costs are cut.

Milliken also signed a bill changing the options on penalties for drunk or drugged drivers. The law is intended to decrease plea bargaining and court case loads.

The law eliminates the current mandatory 90-day driver's license suspension and lets a judge revoke the license for up to two years or issue a restricted license.

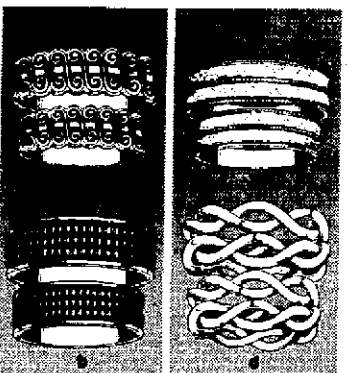

Detroit Curfew Extended

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's 10 p.m. teen curfew has been permanently extended by city councilmen who say it has helped cause a reduction in night-time juvenile crime. The city council action softened the curfew slightly to allow 16 and 17-year-olds to be out until 11 p.m. on weekends, and to let youths go to and from work as long as they have letters from their employers. The curfew was enacted on an emergency basis in mid-August after youth gangs disrupted a rock concert at Cobo Hall.

Local Issues Still Snarl Ford Lines

DETROIT (AP) — Local contract disputes at key Ford Motor Co. plants continue to block the firm's return to full production more than a week after United Auto Workers' ratification of a new national pact with the automaker.

The UAW, which still must negotiate new three-year agreements covering 508,000 workers at General Motors and Chrysler, continued to put off naming its next strike target until two Ford parts plants settle their local agreements.

Subcommittee-level bargaining continued Wednesday at both automakers, but union officials expected no major progress until Ford is back to near-normal production and strike deadlines are set at GM and Chrysler.

Both firms, which have been granted indefinite extensions on their old contracts, have said they would follow the industry pattern set by the UAW-Ford agreement.

A Ford spokesman said two more of the company's 18 car and truck assembly plants resumed operation Wednesday, for a total of 12 assembly plants now in production. He said a 13th plant, in Lorain, Ohio, was slated to reopen today. Both plants restarted Wednesday are in the western Detroit suburb of Wayne.

Still without new local pacts on work conditions to supplement the national accord were four assembly plants and two vital parts plants.

The assembly plants are in Kansas City and St. Louis, Mo.; Avon Lake, Ohio, and San Jose, Calif. The parts plants — which feed several assembly plants — are the Cleveland stamping and Sheffield, Ala., aluminum facilities.

The UAW has ordered workers to remain off the job at any Ford plant which has not signed a new three-year local agreement. Ratification of the national pact ended walkouts at most of Ford's 102 facilities, which were shut at midnight Sept. 14 when 170,000 workers in 22 states first struck.

CALLS FOR COALITION: Former British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, facing camera, listens to BBC interviewer's questions Wednesday, during program "Britain in Crisis." In his first public statement in 13 years, Macmillan called for what he termed a government of national unity drawn from all parties to head off danger of economic collapse, or "Communist revolution." (AP Wirephoto)

The UAW also must bargain on a new pact covering 15,000 workers at American Motors Corp. after concluding talks with the Big Three makers.

The union has said it will not seek to apply the industry pattern agreement at AMC because of a prolonged sales slump which has produced mounting losses for the smallest of the nation's car producers.

NEW BUFFALO LIONS

Breakfast Will End Kelly Fund Drive

NEW BUFFALO — The New Buffalo Lions club observance of October as Richard Kelly fund month will be climaxed with its annual pancake and sausage breakfast Oct. 31 at Scotty's Place. Serving time will be between 7 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. The "all-you-can-eat" breakfast will cost $2 for adults and $1.25 for children under age 12.

The breakfast is one of the projects in the Lion's club program of assistance to the fund.

Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly, New Buffalo, is a patient at Berrien General hospital. He has been unconscious since being stricken Aug. 6 with an undetermined illness while attending band camp with the New Buffalo high school band in Lansing.

Andrews Academy Slates Homecoming Saturday

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Andrews academy here will hold its annual homecoming Saturday, Oct. 23, according to Mrs. Charlene Vitano, instructor in business education at the academy and sponsor of the alumni association.

The classes of 1952, 1967, and 1976 will be honored, and a special supper will be sponsored by the officers of the Student association. Another guest will be former principal Knobby Mauro. The traditional Shyde Poke (flagball) game between students and alumni will be held in the evening.

WASHINGTON, D.C.

Coloma Students To Attend Seminar

COLOMA — Two Coloma high school seniors, Jayne Thompson and Pete Fairbairn, have been selected as representatives of the school to attend a week-long Presidential Classroom in Washington, D.C. next February.

Announcement of their selection by the faculty and the senior class was made by William Smith, assistant high school principal. Miss Thompson is the daughter of Mrs. Avis Thompson, 155 Elvern drive, Coloma. Fairbairn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Fairbairn, #404 Greenwood park, Benton Harbor. Both are age 17.

The two representatives were chosen on the basis of their academic achievement, attitude, and ability to relate their experiences to others upon their return from the nation's capitol.

During the seminar, which starts Feb. 5, students are given the opportunity to see government in action and to talk with government officials, according to Smith.

Miss Thompson's activities at Coloma high school include band, French club, National Honor society, Varsity club, Yearbook staff, student council and the district six all-star band.

Fairbairn's activities are football, baseball, German club, bowling, cross-country, National Honor society, and Boys' state representative last summer.

The one-week program, according to Smith, costs $250 plus transportation. Donations to support the program are now being sought from interested area individuals and businesses.

Smith said further information may be obtained by contacting him at the high school.

The Presidential Classroom program is sponsored by a private, non-profit organization, added Smith.

JUST TRYING TO BE NATURAL

Joan Mondale Enjoys Campaign

By VICTORIA GRAHAM
Associated Press Writer

"Campaign years are always good years," says Joan Mondale. "We're not physically together, but we're working for the same goals."

A political wife.

"I'm not alone," says Joan Mondale. "I'm with people all the time."

A political wife.

Joan Mondale is a 47-year-old political wife campaigning for her husband, Walter F. Mondale, the Democratic candidate for vice president.

If she ever has second thoughts, she doesn't say so. If her enthusiasm ever flags, she doesn't let on. If her feet ever hurt, she marches on.

She's an eager, angular lady, a minister's daughter, who looks like the sensible wife of a college professor.

And the stuff of her campaign is, above all, pleasant, sensible and soft. No hard discussion of issues, no list of facts and statistics. It's the intuitive, wifely approach to politics.

Joan Mondale talks about the goals of the Democratic party, the importance of voting and the character and compassion of the two candidates.

Characteristic of her approach are the words, said over and over: "We need men with wise heads and warm hearts... I ask not only for your votes, but for your hands and your hearts and with your help we can make this a happy land again."

She says the same words repeatedly, but her style is not wooden. She can laugh aloud, clap her hands, reminisce about rolling Red Cross bandages or joke that one son's social life doesn't leave much time for campaigning.

Driving past autumn hills and stone fences in upstate New York, her face brightens and she says: "Oh, look at the pretty horses!"

And she's much given to little bursts of "How marvelous!"

Clearly Joan Mondale doesn't want to be the heavyweight wife.

"I don't feel my husband married me to write his speeches or influence him in a direct way," she says.

"I feel now that I am his he didn't stand me up as a puppet by his side in the campaign, because that would become a trifle boring."

While two children are in school and one son handles baggage on his father's plane, Joan Mondale campaigns alone on a trail that others might find unkind.

She declares: "I haven't found anything unpleasant about it yet."

Yet, one day in upstate New York went like this:

Elmira, to Ithaca, to Westchester, to Yonkers, to a hand anxiously to her face and asked no one in particular:

"Was that too mean? I don't want to be mean."

After an appearance and chatty news conference at a senior citizens community in Haverstraw, she asked: "Was I all right? I just tried to be natural."

Then, reassured, she said smiling: "I try to follow Muriel Humphrey's advice: 'Be yourself, relax, enjoy it.' And I do."

She once gave tours of the National Gallery in Washington, D.C., and of historic sites. She is partner and his advocate. We see eye to eye on most issues.

'I don't feel my husband married me to write speeches or influence him...'

"Am I a big pusher? No." She wrinkles her nose. "As far as a role as adviser is concerned, I don't really have one."

"But I am concerned about voter apathy. And I try to back Fritz up and bring him interesting information and requests I hear around the country."

Doesn't she miss her husband on the campaign?

"Fritz (Walter's nickname) has always been gone," she says matter-of-factly in a back seat interview sandwiched between a senior citizen's community and the hotel where she will take a nap.

"We only had 13 days before we were engaged," she says, explaining how she accepts the campaign time spent apart.

"We haven't spent a lot of hours alone together."

Despite the separations, Joan Mondale can say: "I'm so glad Haverstraw, to White Plains: Speak at a breakfast, give interviews, open a headquarters, give interviews, take a walking tour, eat lunch, give a speech, drive to the airport, catch a nap in the sky, deplane, give an interview, drive to a factory, meet workers, drive to a senior citizens community, take a tour, give a speech, shake hands, give interviews, drive to a hotel for an hour's nap, give an interview on the way, drive to an arts center, give a speech, shake hands.

Turn in for the night.

A not untypical day.

Joan Mondale treads diligently but gently on the campaign trail.

In Rome, N.Y., she had just told reporters she agreed with the presidential debates that exclude minor party candidates.

"This is a two-party system," she concluded, "not a four-party system."

Walking to her car, she raised especially interested in the arts and historical preservation.

"When I first sat down with campaign schedulers," she said, "I told them: 'Please, not just luncheons. Let me see museums and art galleries and renovated downtowns.'"

If she becomes America's second lady, Joan Mondale plans to be an activist, focusing on the arts and encouraging federal support.

In Rome she toured rebuilt Ft. Stanwix, telling a man dressed as the regimental surgeon: "What a marvelous costume! You look glorious!"

A woman dressed as a colonial matron was weaving "a band for my husband from the hair of his noble steed — to remember me by."

Joan Mondale joked: "Let's

Later, at a reception, she told of meeting Jimmy and Rosalynn Carter in Plains, Ga. She was pleased she could wear her new dress, chat with Rosalynn and admire pictures of Amy, Carter's 8-year-old daughter.

She was impressed that Carter insisted the wives join the men.

In Yonkers she stood at the gates of an elevator factory as hundreds of workers streamed past, not stopping unless a union official shouted: "Hey, Mick! Hey, Bill, come say 'hello' to Mrs. Mondale."

She greeted a worker wearing a motorcycle helmet and leather jacket decorated with obscene slogans.

"Oh," she said sweetly. "You ride a motorcycle."

A man rushed up to her and pumped her hand: "I say, beat the hell outta Ford!"

"That's right!" she laughed, later saying, "I loved that man. Wasn't he great?"

O'Brien Guilty Of Taking Free Car

DETROIT (AP) — Charles "Chuckie" O'Brien, a key figure in the probe into the disappearance of ex-union boss James Hoffa, has been convicted of accepting a car from an auto dealership where the Teamsters were organizing employees.

His trial was scrutinized by an Internal Revenue Service agent who said he was taking notes for possible future use.

Hoffa's self-styled foster son was convicted Wednesday by a U.S. District Court jury of accepting a 1974 Vega from a Detroit car dealer and paying nothing for the vehicle, which was repossessed in 1976.

The action violates national labor law and O'Brien faces up to a year in prison and a $10,000 fine on the misdemeanor charge.

O'Brien was on the witness stand Tuesday when he interrupted proceedings and complained, "Someone's in the courtroom taking notes." It turned out to be an IRS investigator who would say only that he was taking notes for use in possible future cases. O'Brien later complained the investigator was giving him the "evil eye."

No one has been indicted in the Hoffa disappearance. O'Brien, who claims he is being harassed by the government because of the Hoffa case, has steadfastly denied he knows anything about what happened to the ex-union boss. A federal prosecutor said in court 10 months ago the government believes Hoffa was kidnapped and presumably murdered.

On July 30, 1975, the day Hoffa vanished, O'Brien was driving a car belonging to the son of a reputed Mafia figure in the vicinity of a suburban Detroit restaurant where the ex-union boss was last seen. That was O'Brien's own story to the FBI.

Federal prosecutors called

DOWAGIAC TREATMENT PLANT EXPANSION: Work is ahead of schedule on $4 million expansion to provide secondary and tertiary treatment facilities at Dowagiac sewage treatment plant shown here, according to Dowagiac City Manager Henry

Graper Jr. Project began June 1, and is to be completed in two years. Contractor is Sollitt Construction Co., South Bend. City's share of project cost is about $800,000 with remainder coming from state and federal grants, Graper said. Plant is located west of city on north side of M-62. This view, looking northwest, shows Dowagiac creek on left side of photo, new storage lagoons at top right, three new round settling tanks in top center, and new sludge beds at right. Existing facilities are in lower left area of O'Brien as a witness before the Hoffa grand jury, where O'Brien invoked the Fifth Amendment. The government launched a full-scale probe of O'Brien's role as a union organizer at a Detroit Chevrolet dealership shortly after Hoffa vanished, it was revealed at O'Brien's trial.

The government claimed that a few months after accepting the 1974 Vega, O'Brien signed a "watered-down contract" on behalf of the car dealership employees without the knowledge of the local union bargaining committee. The contract changed the local's union shop clause to one providing an open shop. The local is defunct.

Defense attorney Clyde Pritchard told the jury the union negotiations had no relevance to the charges, and said his client had always intended to pay for the car.

Pritchard said O'Brien was unable to get financing for the car because of liens on his property stemming from divorce proceedings.

But O'Brien admitted on the witness stand he was granted a loan in 1974 to purchase a 1975 Lincoln Continental.

Pritchard told the jury that "suspicion with probable cause is enough to indict, but it is not enough ... to convict."

Tony Curtis Cashing In On 'Casanova'

Q: How come we've read that both Donald Sutherland and Tony Curtis are playing the role of Casanova in a new movie? They can't both do the same part, can they? — C.O., Sioux City, Iowa.

A: Both play the same role but in different movies. Sutherland has just completed his for the

Q: How come we've read that Elizabeth Taylor, Liz, has formed a company, Elizabeth Taylor Diamonds, with Miami jeweler Harry Shuster, and will

Q: How is Jackie Onassis doing now that she's holding down a regular job with a major book publishing house? — J.W., New York City

A: The report we get is that Jackie puts in about the longest and hardest days's work of anyone at Viking Press — to the surprise of any who had dismissed her as a gadabout social figure. She's on hand poring over proofs at 8:30 most mornings and is still there at 6:30 when it's time to leave. "It's a welcome miracle to me," says her boss.

Q: Have you heard anything about trouble in the Ike and Tina Turner household? — B.Y., Boston.

A: The Curtis project is obviously cashing in on the film Fellini has been working on for the last three years.

A: Plenty of trouble, since they've just split. Rumors are that Ike spent too much time hand-picking the Ikeettes. Tina put up with that for a long time, but since her success as a single in the movie "Tommy," she's had the strength to break away.

Q: I thought actress Janet Leigh was going to have a regular part in that new TV series, "All's Fair," but she doesn't seem to be in it. What happened? — O.M.G., Kansas City, Mo.

A: Janet was signed up but after one day she quit, explaining to producer Norman Lear that the part just wasn't as good as she had expected it to be.

QUESTION YOU NEVER ASKED: Guess what movie star is going into business for the first time? None other than Elizabeth Taylor. Liz has formed a company, Elizabeth Taylor Diamonds, with Miami jeweler Harry Shuster, and will market the stones under her name. They'll range in price from $500 to $50,000, and each diamond will have a certificate with her signature on it, guaranteeing the quality of the stone.

Q: With all these sequels, why not one on "Love Story"? That was such a terrific novel! — C.V., Cheyenne, Wyo.

A: Your wish will be granted soon. A sequel to "Love Story" is being developed now. It will star Ryan O'Neal, of course, and Ryan would like his second love after Ali MacGraw to be Lindsay Wagner, the Bionic Woman.

STAR TIME: Rex Harrison has been hounding his publicity people in London with daily phone calls to get him into the newspapers. As a result, the British papers are full of news and pictures of Rex with every available actress in town. The reason? Ex-wife Elizabeth Harris Harrison is publishing her autobiography this month, and Rex wants to be at the publicity space he can and at the same time counteract any mean things the ex-Mrs. Harrison might say about him.

Q: What's the inside word about that behind-scenes tiff between the Ford and Carter advisers just before the big debates started? — L.N., Miami.

A: As we get it, the Carter camp was unhappy about the President's size and athletic physique. "He's too tall, make him stand in a depression," they shouted. "Tell your man to stand on a box," was the White House reply. To rub salt in the wound, that's when the Carter people were told that the President would stand at the lectern throughout the debates. + + + Robin Adams Sloan welcomes written questions from readers. While Sloan cannot provide individual answers, questions of general interest will be used in the column. Write to Robin Adams Sloan, care of this newspaper.

Ex-wife Elizabeth Harris Harrison is publishing her autobiography this month, and Rex wants to get all the publicity space he can and at the same time counteract any mean things the ex-Mrs. Harrison might say about him.

Q: What's the inside word about that behind-scenes tiff between the Ford and Carter advisers just before the big debates started? — L.N., Miami.

A: As we get it, the Carter camp was unhappy about the President's size and athletic physique. "He's too tall, make him stand in a depression," they shouted. "Tell your man to stand on a box," was the White House reply. To rub salt in the wound, that's when the Carter people were told that the President would stand at the lectern throughout the debates.

Bears Hope For Breathing Room In Northern Clash

The closer the games get, the better St. Joseph looks.

St. Joe added a one-point win last week to two previous three-point victory margins in what was probably the Bears' best performance of the season.

"I would say that was our best game overall," notes Bear coach Ike Muhlenkamp after watching films of last Friday's 14-13 triumph over Niles.

Muhlenkamp's gridders will now go after their fifth triumph in six games — hopefully with a little more breathing room — in a Big Seven clash at Portage Northern Friday night.

Coach Bud Breed's Huskies are 1-4 with a four-game losing streak, but that record is deceptive. Northern has been hampered by injuries most of the season, but the Huskies are starting to get healthy and could be dangerous the rest of the way.

"We are getting well," declares Breed. "I think we can do in there and slug with anyone right now."

Comparison of scores against two common opponents (Niles and Battle Creek Lakeview) makes St. Joe a three touchdown favorite, but Muhlenkamp doesn't think his Bears should be favored by more than a "point or two."

"He's alive now....I know they are," continues Muhlenkamp on Northern's current status. "He's got them back now."

One of the returning Huskies is fullback-halfback Scott Zuidweg, a second-team all-conference selection last year. "He makes a lot of difference in their offense," states the Bear mentor.

St. Joe defeated Northern 20-7 a year ago and hasn't allowed the Huskies more than one touchdown a game in four seasons, but Northern is a veteran team with 10 starters back from last fall's 5-4 squad. Among the other top Northern performers is tackle-linebacker Dennis Murphy, a two-way all-league selection last season.

Tom Harvey and Henry Thames are the quarterbacks, and the receivers include Rick Berner, Dave Swensen, Jeff Larges and Scott Breed, the coach's son. "We have quarterbacks who can throw the football and people who can catch it," states Breed.

St. Joe has also proven it can throw the ball, with quarterback Barry Coburn hitting 19 of 34 passes so far. Ted Dongvillo and Mark Ignatovich have nine receptions each and Keene Taylor has seven.

Bear running backs Dale Ruple, Brian Lannon and Kevin Wheeler have respective per carry averages of 4.5, 4.1 and 3.9.

Muhlenkamp thought his offensive line did an excellent job last week, and he gave the game offensive awards to tackle Tom Gay and tight end Ignatovich.

The Bear coach was also proud of the defense. "The defensive front five controlled the game," he recalls.

End Dennis Boehm got the game's defensive award. Other nominees were Ken Fetke, Mike VanBrocklin, Jim Foulkes and Steve Kurtz. Brian Hansen and Dave Kirk also turned in good performances as linebackers.

After giving up three touchdowns in each of the second and third games of the season, the defense has allowed just two in each of the last two outings.

"They've come alive and really played with enthusiasm," comments Muhlenkamp on the defense. "They love to play defense. They've really got confidence in themselves now and are really doing the right things."

Huskie awards for prep team players last week went to Mike Cox and Frank Bock. Jim Foulkes got the game breaker honor for stopping a Niles two-point PAT try which would have given the Vikings a victory.

TIGER COACHES: Benton Harbor's first-year coach Paul Bergan (left) and his coaching staff have helped the Tigers to dramatic improvement this season, especially defensively. Benton Harbor, now 3-2, boasts one of the area's top defenses this year after possessing the worst last season. Next to Bergan are Sam Jones, defensive coordinator Dan Lauer and Bergan's brother Tim. Defense Helps BH Turn Football Program Around

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

Defense has returned to the Benton Harbor football program.

Last year the Tigers were the area's worst defenders, allowing 33 points and 310 yards per game. But this season Benton Harbor has given up just 12 points and 189 yards per game entering Friday's contest at Muskegon Mona Shores.

And the turnaround is obvious in the Tiger play. Benton Harbor is off to its best start since 1970, posting a 3-2 record. But why the sudden turnaround?

Tiger coach Paul Bergan gives much of the credit to his coaching staff. Bergan brought his brother Tim with him when he came over from Eau Claire at the start of the season. He also kept Sam Jones from last year's staff.

For his defensive coordinator, Bergan picked up Dan Lauer, who held the same post for seven years at South Bend St. Joseph.

Lauer believes the big difference has been the new Tiger defensive alignment.

"I believe first of all that a defense has to be fun to play," Lauer says. "You have to put kids in a position somehow where they are not going to get beat up. The defense we use here I've found to be the most fun. We don't ask the kids to take anyone on one-on-one. They're always moving and getting help."

"It's a 5-2 defense. We use a five-man line and through various stunts move men one way or another. But no matter which way they go, every hole is covered. It's a guessing type defense. The offense is trying to find where the cracks are and we try to cover them up."

Benton Harbor posted its first shutout in six years last Friday, blanking Grand Haven 20-0. It was virtually the same Buccaneers team which scored 46 points on the Tigers a year ago. Lauer is hopeful that the shutout will give Benton Harbor the confidence it's looking for.

"This shutout really gave the kids a great feeling," he explains. "It's a really great team effort on defense. Benton Harbor has always had good athletes here but they were never really disciplined. What we've done is maintained discipline and shown the kids that they can have some success."

Tim Bergan agrees that the defense has come together.

"Defense should be everyone coming to the ball as a unit," he says. "And you have to do that 100 per cent of the time. It has to be perfect and precise. Everything has to be done in the right order, not individually."

Jones compares the defense to one big family.

"The defense is together," he explains. "They don't get down on each other when someone makes a mistake. They believe in themselves. If someone makes a mistake, another person will tell them what they did wrong."

Lauer credits the platoon system which Benton Harbor is using this year as one of the big reasons for the immediate success of the defense. No one on defense plays any offense at all.

"Paul had to make a choice," Lauer says. "He decided to go with the platoon system and in the league we're in, it's the best decision."

"We always have fresh men on the field. And by not practicing any defensive people with the offense, we were able to teach the men these skills faster. Our defensive men progressed faster. Many times we've asked ourselves why we don't put this man on offense or that man on offense. But that's been one of the big pluses."

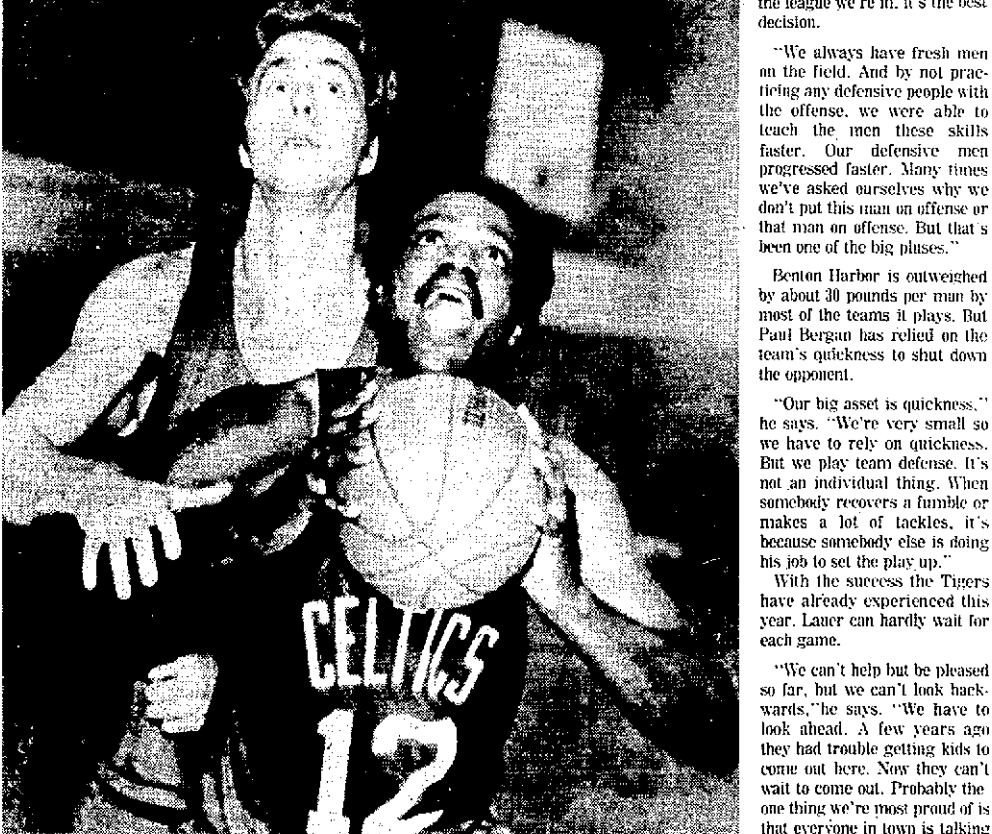

Benton Harbor is outweighed by about 30 pounds per man by most of the teams it plays. But Paul Bergan has relied on the team's quickness to shut down the opponent.

"Our big asset is quickness," he says. "We're very small so we have to rely on quickness. But we play team defense. It's not an individual thing. When somebody recovers a fumble or makes a lot of tackles, it's because somebody else is doing his job to set the play up."

With the success the Tigers have already experienced this year, Lauer can hardly wait for each game.

"We can't help but be pleased so far, but we can't look backwards," he says. "We have to look ahead. A few years ago they had trouble getting kids to come out here. Now they can't wait to come out. Probably the one thing we're most proud of is that everyone in town is talking about defense."

And with the defense having already arrived, total success at Benton Harbor may be just around the corner.

World Series To Resume Tonight

Rain Halts Cincinnati

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Summer Game has become a waiting game and the wait could end tonight.

The World Series of 1976, lacking the drama that must of the October Classics usually bring, took a night off Wednesday, pleasing nobody.

Not the all-but-champion Cincinnati Reds.

Not the all-but-vanquished New York Yankees.

Not the all-but-bored fans.

"I don't like a day off. I would like to get it over with. The season's over. I want to go home," Cincinnati's Dave Concepcion said after Wednesday night's game was washed out.

"A postponement doesn't do a thing for us now," said manager Billy Martin, whose Yankees face the prospect of being swept in four games, the first team to go under in four straight since Baltimore rolled over Los Angeles in 1966.

"Why did you call the game off?" asked one upstate New York fan, telephoning Bowie Kuhn's office shortly after the Commissioner's 2 p.m. decision to postpone the game.

Tonight's game begins at 8:30 p.m. EDT. If a fifth game is necessary, it would be played Friday. But when Friday is not known.

Because of the debate between presidential candidates Jimmy Carter and Gerald Ford, the game originally scheduled for 8:30 p.m. may be pushed up to an afternoon or twilight starting time.

The Reds came into this Series trying to achieve a feat unmatched by a National League team since the 1921-22 New York Giants, namely to win successive World Series.

Now the Yankees are trying to achieve a feat never before accomplished in the Series' 72-year history, namely to win a championship after losing the first three games.

The Yanks say they are not about to roll over and play dead. "We're not quitters," says Martin. "I am not a quitter and my guys aren't. We have been a comeback club all year." And second baseman Willie Randolph adds, "We can play our game and come back."

But Will McEnaney, the reliever who took over for rookie Pat Zachry and nailed down Cincinnati's 6-2 victory Tuesday night, sees things differently.

The Yankees, he, says can't keep playing their game because it hasn't worked.

"The pressure is really on them now," McEnaney says.

"They have to throw away their game plan and start from scratch."

The Reds are sticking with their game plan. That means Gary Nolan will be pitching for them tonight. If Martin sticks to his plan, Ed Figueroa will be the Yankee starter. But the rain delay has given him an option. He could start Catfish Hunter.

Sparky Anderson, the outspoken manager of the Reds, thinks this Series should have ended a long time ago. "The Series should be over by October 1," he says. "That would be best for everybody. But then it is not my job to run baseball."

His job is to run what he believes is the best team in several decades.

"I'd like to win the Series in four games," he told newsmen Wednesday. "In order to make you ask the question, 'Are we as good as the old Dodgers and Yankee teams of the 1950s?'"

Last year against Boston, Anderson said, the Reds did not play as well as they were capable of playing. This year, he says, they want to sweep "to show the people we are one of the great teams of all time."

The Reds haven't displayed as much of the power or opportunistic base-running as might have been expected. That's because their pitchers, the one facet of their game constantly being overlooked, have been doing a great job against the Yanks, limiting them to six runs in the first three games.

"Our pitching staff is underrated because the other eight guys get all the publicity," Anderson explained.

Gabe Paul, president of the Yankees, thinks his club can still make a respectable showing against the Reds. "It's been a case of fine playing from a fine club, playing at top form," he said of Cincinnati. "The Yankees wouldn't be here (in the Series) if we'd played like this during the season. The fact is, Cincinnati is playing so well and we're not."

FOURTH GAME RAINED OUT: Hugh Johnson, a Yankee Stadium groundskeeper, checks an outfield drain Wednesday at rain soaked Yankee Stadium. The fourth game of the World Series between the New York Yankees and the Cincinnati Reds will be played today, weather permitting. (AP Wirephoto)

Veteran Forward Trapp Among Final Detroit Cuts

DETROIT (AP) — Veteran forward George Trapp, who came to the Detroit Pistons three years ago from Atlanta for a No. 1 draft choice, was one of two players cut Wednesday by the National Basketball Association team.

Trapp and second-year guard Henry Dickerson were placed on waivers by the Pistons and veteran guard John Mengelt put on the injured list as the club got down the 12-player limit for the season opener Friday in Kansas City.

Mengelt has a pinched nerve in his neck and must miss at least five games. If he is placed back on the roster, another player must be cut.

The Pistons will go into the season with five players who weren't on the team last year: forwards Marvin Barnes, M.L. Carr and Cornelius Cash, center Leon Douglas and guard Phil Sellers.

Trapp, a 6-foot-8, 220-pound native of Highland Park, Mich., averaged 8.9 points in his five NBA seasons, the last three with Detroit. He was Atlanta's No. 1 draft choice in 1971 and the Pistons acquired him in a trade for their top pick in 1973.

He was a noted streak shooter, often coming off the bench to hit a number of 12-15 foot jumpers from the corner. He scored nine straight points in the fourth quarter of the final playoff game against Milwaukee last season to bring Detroit from a nine-point deficit to victory.

Dickerson, from Morris Harvey, was given an outside chance of making the team this season after performing well in the off season in the Los Angeles summer pro league. A 37-point showing in the Pistons intra-squad game in training camp and 16 points in the exhibition opener also enhanced his chances, but the competition was too tough.

Star guard Kevin Porter is back from knee surgery. Other veteran guards back are Eric Money and Chris Ford.

Mengelt, a five-year veteran, just started practicing after being out with his neck ailment since training camp opened Sept. 24. He has a numb arm because of the pinched nerve.

Cash is a free agent from Bowling Green and former second-round draft pick of the Milwaukee Bucks. Douglas and Sellers were Detroit's first two draft choices, while Barnes and Carr came from American Basketball Association teams.

St. Joe defeated Northern 20-7 a year ago and hasn't allowed the Huskies more than one touchdown a game in four seasons, but Northern is a veteran team with 10 starters back from last fall's 5-4 squad. Among the other top Northern performers is tackle-linebacker Dennis Murphy, a two-way all-league selection last season.

Tom Harvey and Henry Thames are the quarterbacks, and the receivers include Rick Berner, Dave Swensen, Jeff Lurges and Scott Breed, the coach's son. "We have quarterbacks who can throw the football and people who can catch it," states Breed.

St. Joe has also proven it can throw the ball, with quarterback Barry Coburn hitting 19 of 34 passes so far. Ted Dongvillo and Mark Ignatovich have nine receptions each and Keene Taylor has seven.

Bear running backs Dale Rupley, Brian Lannon and Kevin Wheeler have respective per carry averages of 4.5, 4.1 and 3.9.

Muhlenkamp thought his offensive line did an excellent job last week, and he gave the game offensive awards to tackle Tom Gay and tight end Ignatovich.

The Bear coach was also proud of the defense. "The defensive front five controlled the game," he recalls.

End Dennis Boehm got the game's defensive award. Other linemen were Ken Fetke, Mike VanBroeklin, Jim Foulkes and Steve Kurtz. Brian Hansen and Dave Kirk also turned in good performances as linebackers.

After giving up three touchdowns in each of the second and third games of the season, the defense has allowed just two in each of the last two outings.

"They've come alive and really played with enthusiasm," comments Muhlenkamp on the defense. "They love to play defense. They've really got confidence in themselves now and are really doing the right things."

Hustle awards for prep team players last week went to Mike Cox and Frank Bock. Jim Foulkes got the game breaker honor for stopping a Niles two-point PAT try which would have given the Vikings a victory.

Defense Helps BH Turn Football Program Around

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

Defense has returned to the Benton Harbor football program.

Last year the Tigers were the area's worst defenders, allowing 33 points and 310 yards per game. But this season Benton Harbor has given up just 12 points and 189 yards per game entering Friday's contest at Muskegon Mona Shores.

And the turnaround is obvious in the Tiger play. Benton Harbor is off to its best start since 1970, posting a 3-2 record. But why the sudden turnaround?

Tiger coach Paul Bergan gives much of the credit to his coaching staff. Bergan brought his brother Tim with him when he came over from Eau Claire at the start of the season. He also kept Sam Jones from last year's staff.

Lauer believes the big difference has been the new Tiger defensive alignment.

"I believe first of all that a defense has to be fun to play," Lauer says. "You have to put kids in a position somehow where they are not going to get beat up. The defense we use here I've found to be the most fun. We don't ask the kids to take anyone on one-on-one. They're always moving and getting help."

"It's a 5-2 defense. We use a five-man line and through various stunts move men one way or another. But no matter which way they go, every hole is covered. It's a guessing type defense. The offense is trying to find where the cracks are and we try to cover them up."

Benton Harbor posted its first shutout in six years last Friday, blanking Grand Haven 20-0. It was virtually the same Bucaneer team which scored 46 points on the Tigers a year ago.

Lauer is hopeful that the shutout will give Benton Harbor the confidence it's looking for.

"This shutout really gave the kids a great feeling," he explains. "It's a really great team effort on defense. Benton Harbor has always had good athletes here but they were never really disciplined. What we've done is maintained discipline and shown the kids that they can have some success."

Tim Bergan agrees that the defense has come together.

"Defense should be everyone coming to the ball as a unit," he says. "And you have to do that 100 per cent of the time. It has to be perfect and precise. Everything has to be done in the right order, not individually."

Jones compares the defense to one big family.

"The defense is together," he explains. "They don't get down on each other when someone makes a mistake. They believe in themselves. If someone makes a mistake, another person will tell them what they did wrong."

Lauer credits the platoon system which Benton Harbor is using this year as one of the big reasons for the immediate success of the defense. No one on defense plays any offense at all.

"Paul had to make a choice," Lauer says. "He decided to go with the platoon system and in the league we're in, it's the best decision."

"We always have fresh men on the field. And by not practicing any defensive people with the offense, we were able to teach the men these skills faster. Our defensive men progressed faster. Many times we've asked ourselves why we don't put this man on offense or that man on offense. But that's been one of the big pluses."

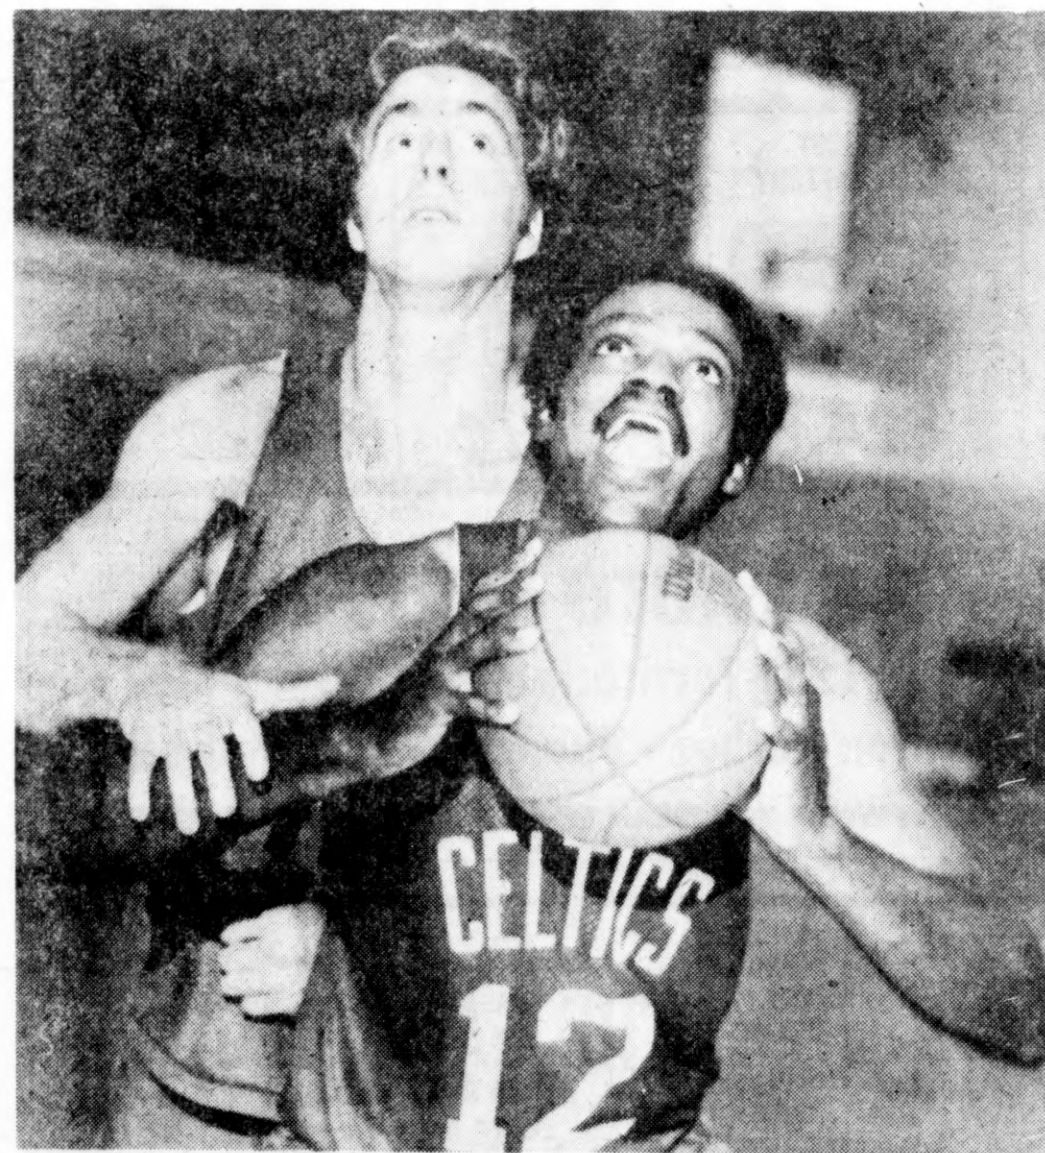

Benton Harbor is outweighed by about 30 pounds per man by most of the teams it plays. But Paul Bergan has relied on the team's quickness to shut down the opponent.

"Our big asset is quickness," he says. "We're very small so we have to rely on quickness. But we play team defense. It's not an individual thing. When somebody recovers a fumble or makes a lot of tackles, it's because somebody else is doing his job to set the play up."

With the success the Tigers have already experienced this year, Lauer can hardly wait for game day.

"We can't help but be pleased so far, but we can't look backwards," he says. "We have to look ahead. A few years ago they had trouble getting kids to come out here. Now they can't wait to come out. Probably the one thing we're most proud of is that everyone in town is talking about defense."

And with the defense having already arrived, total success at Benton Harbor may be just around the corner.

World Series To Resume Tonight

Rain Halts Cincinnati

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Summer Game has become a waiting game and the wait could end tonight.

The World Series of 1976, lacking the drama that most of the October Classics usually bring, took a night off Wednesday, pleasing nobody.

Not the all-but-champion Cincinnati Reds.

Not the all-but-vanquished New York Yankees.

Not the all-but-bored fans. "I don't like a day off. I would like to get it over with. The season's over. I want to go home," Cincinnati's Dave Concepcion said after Wednesday night's game was washed out.

"A postponement doesn't do a thing for us now," said manager Billy Martin, whose Yankees face the prospect of being swept in four games, the first team to go under in four straight since Baltimore rolled over Los Angeles in 1966.

"Why did you call the game off?" asked one upstate New York fan, telephoning Bowie Kuhn's office shortly after the Commissioner's 2 p.m. decision to postpone the game.

Tonight's game begins at 8:30 p.m. EDT. If a fifth game is necessary, it would be played Friday. But when Friday is not known.

Because of the debate between presidential candidates Jimmy Carter and Gerald Ford, the game originally scheduled for 8:30 p.m. may be pushed up to an afternoon or twilight starting time.

The Reds came into this Series trying to achieve a feat unmatched by a National League team since the 1921-22 New York Giants, namely to win successive World Series.

Now the Yankees are trying to achieve a feat never before accomplished in the Series' 72-year history, namely to win a championship after losing the first three games.

The Yanks say they are not about to roll over and play dead. "We're not quitters," says Martin. "I am not a quitter and my guys aren't. We have been a comeback club all year." And second baseman Willie Randolph adds, "We can play our game and come back."

But Will McEnaney, the reliever who took over for rookie Pat Zachry and nailed down Cincinnati's 6-2 victory Tuesday night, sees things differently.

The Yankees, he, says can't keep playing their game because it hasn't worked.

"The pressure is really on them now," McEnaney says.

"They have to throw away their game plan and start from scratch."

The Reds are sticking with their game plan. That means Gary Nolan will be pitching for them tonight. If Martin sticks to his plan, Ed Figueroa will be the Yankee starter. But the rain delay has given him an option. He could start Catfish Hunter.

Sparky Anderson, the outspoken manager of the Reds, thinks this Series should have ended a long time ago. "The Series should be over by October 1," he says. "That would be best for everybody. But then it is not my job to run baseball."

His job is to run what he believes is the best team in several decades.

"I'd like to win the Series in four games," he told newsmen Wednesday. "In order to make you ask the question, 'Are we as good as the old Dodger and Yankee teams of the 1950s?'"

Last year against Boston, Anderson said, the Reds did not play as well as they were capable of playing. This year, he says, they want that sweep "to show the people we are one of the great teams of all time."

The Reds haven't displayed as much of the power or opportunistic base-running as might have been expected. That's because their pitchers, the one facet of their game constantly being overlooked, have been doing a great job against the Yanks, limiting them to six runs in the first three games.

"Our pitching staff is underrated because the other eight guys get all the publicity," Anderson explained.

Gabe Paul, president of the Yankees, thinks his club can still make a respectable showing against the Reds. "It's been a case of fine playing from a fine club, playing at top form," he said of Cincinnati. "The Yankees wouldn't be here (in the Series) if we'd played like this during the season. The fact is, Cincinnati is playing so well and we're not."

FOURTH GAME RAINED OUT: Hugh Johnson, a Yankee Stadium groundskeeper, checks an outfield drain Wednesday at rain-soaked Yankee Stadium. The fourth game of the World Series between the New York Yankees and the Cincinnati Reds will be played today, weather permitting. (AP Wirephoto)

Veteran Forward Trapp Among Final Detroit Cuts

DETROIT (AP) — Veteran forward George Trapp, who came to the Detroit Pistons three years ago from Atlanta for a No. 1 draft choice, was one of two players cut Wednesday by the National Basketball Association team.

Trapp and second-year guard Henry Dickerson were placed on waivers by the Pistons and veteran guard John Mengelt put on the injured list as the club got down the 12-player limit for the season opener Friday in Kansas City.

Mengelt has a pinched nerve in his neck and must miss at least five games. If he is placed back on the roster, another player must be cut.

Carr and Cornelius Cash, center Leon Douglas and guard Phil Sellers.

Trapp, a 6-foot-8, 220-pound native of Highland Park, Mich., averaged 8.9 points in his five NBA seasons, the last three with Detroit. He was Atlanta's No. 1 draft choice in 1971 and the Pistons acquired him in a trade for their top pick in 1973.

He was a noted streak shooter, often coming off the bench to hit a number of 12-15 foot jumpers from the corner. He scored nine straight points in the fourth quarter of the final playoff game against Milwaukee last season to bring Detroit from a nine-point deficit to victory.

Dickerson, from Morris Harvey, was given an outside chance of making the team this season after performing well in the off season in the Los Angeles summer pro league. A 37-point showing in the Pistons intra-squad game in training camp and 16 points in the exhibition opener also enhanced his chances, but the competition was too tough.

Star guard Kevin Porter is back from knee surgery. Other veteran guards back are Eric Money and Chris Ford.

Mengelt, a five-year veteran, just started practicing after being out with his neck ailment since training camp opened Sept. 24. He has a numb arm because of the pinched nerve.

Cash is a free agent from Bowling Green and former second-round draft pick of the Milwaukee Bucks. Douglas and Sellers were Detroit's first two draft choices, while Barnes and Carr came from American Basketball Association teams.

SIMPSON GOES TO DETROIT: Ralph Simpson, former Michigan State University basketball star, was traded to the Detroit Pistons in a three-team deal Wednesday. In the trade, Simpson (right) went from

Denver to Detroit, Curtis Rowe (center) went from Detroit to Boston and Paul Silas (left) went from Boston to Denver. (AP Wirephoto)

Simpson Sent To Pistons

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons' search for a big guard and for a place to trade Curtis Rowe have ended, but their search for Marvin "Bad News" Barnes hasn't.

Ralph Simpson, former Detroit prep and Michigan State star, became a Piston in a three-way National Basketball Association trade Wednesday involving Denver and Boston.

Rowe, who was in the option year of his contract and hoped to be traded to the West Coast, wound up in Boston where he joins former UCLA teammate Sidney Wicks. The Celtics sent defense-minded forward Paul Silas to Denver and the Nuggets sent Simpson to Detroit.

Forward Barnes, meanwhile, was suspended indefinitely for failing to show up for three practices and a physical. He had been in St. Louis to handle some personal problems. He was supposed to be back Tuesday.

As if that didn't keep the front office busy enough, the club cut veteran forward George Trapp and guard Henry Dickerson and put guard John Mengelt on the injured list to get down to the 12-player limit for the season opener Friday in Kansas City. Mengelt has a pinched nerve in his neck and when he returns Detroit must cut someone else.

Pistons' Coach Herb Brown said he was sorry to see Rowe go. But he added that Simpson

"will help the team in time when he gets acclimated to our system."

"I think under the circumstances it was a good trade for all three parties," Brown said. "I feel Simpson is a fine acquisition...I'm tickled pink to have him."

Barnes, 24, was acquired in August for $500,000 from the disbanded St. Louis franchise of the American Basketball Association in the dispersal draft which followed the ABA's absorption into the NBA.

"I'm a superstar player but I will do anything the coach asks me to do to win," Barnes said in August. "I'm a team player."

The 6-foot-9 former college star at Providence was a two-time ABA All Star.

Simpson and Spencer Haywood, now with the New York Knicks, led Detroit Pershing to the Michigan state high school Class A basketball championship in 1967. Simpson set a tourney single game record of 43 points and joined Haywood on the all tourney team.

After his sophomore season at Michigan State, 1969-70, Simpson quit school to join the Nuggets. As a collegian he was a member of the All Big Ten team as a sophomore and set Michigan State's single season career scoring record with 667 points. Terry Furlow broke that mark last year. He averaged 29 a game.

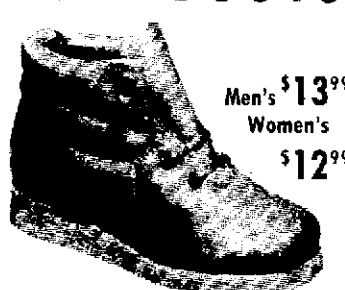

Simpson was Denver's all-time scoring leader with 9,953 points and a 20.4 career point average. He was an ABA All-Star three times.

Rowe, who joined former UCLA teammate Sidney Wicks at Boston, averaged 13.3 points in his five seasons with the Pistons.

The moves leave Detroit with six new faces: Simpson, forward M.L. Carr (a former teammate of Barnes at St. Louis), Barnes, rookies Cornelius Cash, Leon Douglas and Phil Sellers.

Douglas, a forward from Alabama, was Detroit's No. 1 draft choice while guard Sellers, a Rutgers All-American, was the team's second pick. Cash is a free-agent forward from Bowling Green.

Catholic's Hopes On Line

Must Beat Watervliet To Stay In Race

Rose is hanging around, Barchett is blue.

Come Saturday morning, the Red Arrow race may be down to two!

That'll be the case if coach Terry Rose's Lake Michigan Catholic Lakers (3-1 in the conference) lose to coach Jerry Barchett's Watervliet Panthers (2-2) Friday night at Watervliet.

A Laker loss would virtually eliminate them from any hopes of sharing the league crown this year, as Hartford and Berrien Springs are both expected to remain undefeated in conference play this week.

Hartford (4-0) takes its fifth ranked Class C team to winless New Buffalo (0-4) and Berrien Springs (0-4) plays host to cross-river rival Eau Claire (1-3).

In the other league game, Bridgman (2-2) invades Galien (0-4). Galien has won nine straight over Bridgman and has never lost to the Bees in the 18-game series dating back to 1959. The two teams tied 6-6 in 1961 and 10-10 in 1966.

"There's no doubt about it, we have to win at Watervliet to keep our chances alive," coach Rose says. "They're (Watervliet) spoilers now...you can expect another typical rock 'em, sock 'em game."

Since 1969, the Lakers first year, the Panthers have won five and lost two in the series, and five of those games have been decided by one touchdown or less.

"It seems like we're always a bridesmaid and never a bride in that game," Rose says. "They (Watervliet) always get up for us, like everybody else...a win over Lake Michigan Catholic can make or break a season for teams."

Rose feels the Lakers will have to open up the Panther defense by putting the pigskin in the air more, but maintains his Lakers will try to establish a ground game first. "Except for one Mireles (Hartford's Phil) breakaway, Watervliet shut off the top ground game in the area last week," Rose says. "I feel we're just going to have to loosen them up a bit by throwing more."

Laker senior center Curt Weichand is not expected to play. He received a twisted knee in the New Buffalo game last Saturday. Mike Vasta, a 155-pound junior, or Paul Marsala, a 220-pound senior tackle, will replace Weichand. "Otherwise, we're in pretty good shape physically," Rose says.

Watervliet's Barchett says his Panthers are "still hobbling." They have also lost their starting center, Fred Frazee (injured in the Hartford game), for Friday night's clash. He says Tom Hutchinson is still "very doubtful" at fullback. Tailback Joe Hinkelman "hanged up his hand" against Hartford, but is expected to play.

Barchett says that a win over Lake Michigan Catholic "certainly would help us have a good season." The Panthers have lost three extremely close games by a total of 18 points this season.

Berrien Springs coach Dick Bartz says "we probably have more people banged up than we've had all year." Terry Hoshorn, a starter both ways at end, has a sprained ankle and is doubtful. Joey Hager, a half-back, is "very doubtful" with a hip bruise.

Bartz says he plans to start sophomore Brad Layman (6-6, 175 pounds) at the halfback spot, but indicated Bob White "may see some action." White has missed the last three games with ankle problems.

The Shamrocks, winners of four straight, have shut out three of their last four opponents and are off to their best start since 1957.

"Our offensive line has really jelled for us," Bartz says. "Guards Jeff Spitzer and Matt Dillon, center Ken Lebacky, tackles Ron Disselberger and Doug Ewalt and tight end Jack Lewis have just been coming off the ball terrific." That front line averages 190 pounds per man.

Hartford Coach Bob Teske, whose Indians are expected to have little trouble against winless New Buffalo, says his Indians received lots of bumps and bruises in the Watervliet game, "but we'll have everybody in fact...Jerry's (Barchett) kids gave us all we wanted and more..."

Teske says one thing he's noticed about New Buffalo is that "they're not quitters. They're still playing in the fourth quarter as hard as in the first, and Max (Burnell) and his team can take pride in that."

Hartford still leads the area in scoring, averaging 34.4 points per game, and in team defense, allowing just 3.6 points per contest.

LMC Girls Split Volleyball Matches

JACKSON — Lake Michigan Catholic girls volleyball team split two marathon matches here Wednesday losing a conference game to Jackson Community College and then coming back to defeat Mott Community College.

LMC lost to Jackson 13-15, 15-10 and 12-15. Leading scorers for LMC were Sheri Scheffler with 18 and Barb Barton with 14. Leading spikers were Chris Knuth with 14 and Barton had 12.

Both matches each took about one hour and 40 minutes to play, according to coach Miller. LMC is now 17-3 on the season. Friday they travel to Ann Arbor to play the University of Michigan and Concordia Lutheran.

"We just didn't receive well the first game of the match and that cost us," LMC coach Liz Miller said. The loss dropped LMC into a tie with Jackson for second place in the conference behind Kellogg Community College.

In defeating Mott, 12-15, 15-9 and 15-10, Barton and Scheffler again led the scoring with 11 and 10 points, respectively. Leading spikers were Knuth, Barton, Janet Kinley and Janet Hess.

Word Sparkles

COLOMA — Lionel Word's 65-yard run helped Benton Harbor's eighth grade football beat Coloma 6-0 Wednesday night. Coloma won the seventh grade game 32-6.

Pirate Sold

Hudspeth Wants Forward Motion

Last Place Lions Face Seattle Sunday

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Coach Tommy Hudspeth plans to inform his Detroit Lions this week that the best way to score points is to move toward the opponent's goal line instead of toward the sidelines.

That may sound pretty basic, but it's something the Lions haven't been doing too well this National Football League season.

"We're too east and west with the football," Hudspeth said. "We have to get up the field more."

"Instead of all this lateral stuff," he said, "we're gonna go at 'em."

The Lions are last in the National Conference Central Division with a 2-4 record. Sunday they play at Seattle. The expansion Seahawks won their first game last week by beating the other expansion club, Tampa.

Hudspeth said the game won't be a "here they are, fatten your pouches deal" simply because the Seahawks are a new team.

"No matter who we're playing we've got to be more physical," Hudspeth said.

"We're gonna have to take a real long look at ourselves," he said. "We're gonna have to scout ourselves thoroughly."

Detroit looked like it might get back in the divisional race when it upset New England, 30-10, two Sundays ago in Hudspeth's NFL coaching debut. But the Lions were crushed by Washington, 20-7, last Sunday.

"We just didn't play," Hudspeth said. "We broke down in key spots. But they are things that are correctable and coachable."

"We weren't the aggressive football team we were the week before," he said. "There's no excuse. I stand at fault. I felt we were coming along in practice...but we weren't. I won't leave anything unchallenged from now on."

LMC Girls Split Volleyball Matches

JACKSON — Lake Michigan College girls volleyball team split two marathon matches here Wednesday losing a conference game to Jackson Community College and then coming back to defeat Mott Community College.

LMC lost to Jackson 13-15, 15-10 and 12-15. Leading scorers for LMC were Sheri Scheffler with 18 and Barb Barton with 14. Leading spikers were Chris Knuth with 14 and Barton had 12.

"We just didn't receive well the first game of the match and that cost us," LMC coach Liz Miller said. The loss dropped LMC into a tie with Jackson for second place in the conference behind Kellogg Community College.

In defeating Mott, 12-15, 15-9 and 15-10, Barton and Scheffler again led the scoring with 11 and 10 points, respectively. Leading spikers were Knuth, Barton, Janet Kimley and Janet Hess.

Both matches each took about one hour and 40 minutes to play, according to coach Miller. LMC is now 17-3 on the season. Friday they travel to Ann Arbor to play the University of Michigan and Concordia Lutheran.

COLOMA — Lionel Word's 65-yard run helped Benton Harbor's eighth grade football beat Coloma 6-0 Wednesday night. Coloma won the seventh grade game 32-6.

Pirate Sold

Simpson Sent To Pistons

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons' search for a big guard and a place to trade Curtis Rowe have ended, but their search for Marvin "Bad News" Barnes hasn't.

Ralph Simpson, former Detroit prep and Michigan State star, became a Piston in a three-way National Basketball Association trade Wednesday involving Denver and Boston.

Rowe, who was in the option year of his contract and hoped to be traded to the West Coast, wound up in Boston where he joins former UCLA teammate Sidney Wicks. The Celtics sent defense-minded forward Paul Silas to Denver and the Nuggets sent Simpson to Detroit.

Forward Barnes, meanwhile, was suspended indefinitely for failing to show up for three practices and a physical. He had been in St. Louis to handle some personal problems. He was supposed to be back Tuesday.

As if that didn't keep the front office busy enough, the club cut veteran forward George Trapp and guard Henry Dickerson and put guard John Mengelt on the injured list to get down to the 12-player limit for the season opener Friday in Kansas City. Mengelt has a pinched nerve in his neck and when he returns Detroit must cut someone else.

Pistons' Coach Herb Brown said he was sorry to see Rowe go. But he added that Simpson

"will help the team in time when he gets acclimated to our system."

"I think under the circumstances it was a good trade for all three parties," Brown said. "I feel Simpson is a fine acquisition...I'm tickled pink to have him."

Barnes, 24, was acquired in August for $500,000 from the disbanded St. Louis franchise of the American Basketball Association in the dispersal draft which followed the ABA's absorption into the NBA.

"I'm a superstar player but I will do anything the coach asks me to do to win," Barnes said in August. "I'm a team player."

The 6-foot-9 former college star at Providence was a two-time ABA All Star. Simpson and Spencer Haywood, now with the New York Knicks, led Detroit Pershing to the Michigan state high school Class A basketball championship in 1967. Simpson set a tourney single game record of 43 points and joined Haywood on the all tourney team.

After his sophomore season at Michigan State, 1969-70, Simpson quit school to join the Nuggets. As a collegian he was a member of the All Big Ten team as a sophomore and set Michigan State's single season career scoring record with 667 points. Terry Furlow broke that mark last year. He averaged 29 a game.

Simpson was Denver's all-time scoring leader with 9,953 points and a 20.4 career point average. He was an ABA All-Star three times.

Rowe, who joined former UCLA teammate Sidney Wicks at Boston, averaged 13.3 points in his five seasons with the Pistons.

The moves leave Detroit with six new faces: Simpson, forward M.L. Carr (a former teammate of Barnes at St. Louis), Barnes, rookies Cornelius Cash, Leon Douglas and Phil Sellers.

Douglas, a forward from Alabama, was Detroit's No. 1 draft choice while guard Sellers, a Rutgers All-American, was the team's second pick. Cash is a free agent forward from Bowling Green.

Hudspeth Wants Forward Motion

Last Place Lions Face Seattle Sunday

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Coach Tommy Hudspeth plans to inform his Detroit Lions this week that the best way to score points is to move toward the opponent's goal line instead of toward the sidelines.

That may sound pretty basic, but it's something the Lions haven't been doing too well this National Football League season.

"We're too east and west with the football," Hudspeth said. "We have to get up the field more."

"Instead of all this lateral stuff," he said, "we're gonna go at 'em."

The Lions are last in the National Conference Central Division with a 2-4 record. Sunday they play at Seattle. The expansion Seahawks won their first game last week by beating the other expansion club, Tampa.

Hudspeth said the game won't be a "here they are, fatten your pouches deal" simply because the Seahawks are a new team.

"No matter who we're playing we've got to be more physical," Hudspeth said.

"We're gonna have to take a real long look at ourselves," he said. "We're gonna have to scout ourselves thoroughly."

Detroit looked like it might get back in the divisional race when it upset New England, 30-10, two Sundays ago in Hudspeth's NFL coaching debut. But the Lions were crushed by Washington, 20-7, last Sunday.

"We just didn't play," Hudspeth said. "We broke down in key spots. But they are things that are correctable and coachable."

"We weren't the aggressive football team we were the week before," he said. "There's no excuse. I stand at fault. I felt we were coming along in practice...but we weren't. I won't leave anything unchallenged from now on."

He said the Lions have been too conservative "and we've got to change that...We can't try to go out and finesse somebody."

Hudspeth said Greg Landry, who had a poor game against the Redskins, is still the No. 1 quarterback ahead of Joe Reed — who threw a touchdown pass to Ray Jarvis in the closing minute of the Washington game.

Gary Danielson, meanwhile, has been signed as a No. 3 quarterback.

"I think the lad has potential to become a good quarterback," Hudspeth said. "He's the type who'll do best what he feels is best to win. He's smart. He's coachable. If we didn't bring him back this year we'd have brought him back next year."

The Lions rank 11th in total offense in the 14-team conference, with a sixth-place rushing standing and 11th in passing. Seattle is 14th in total defense, 14th in rushing defense and 13th in pass defense.

Detroit's defense is the best in the entire league. It is first in pass defense in the NFL and sixth in rushing defense in the NFL, while the Seahawks rank eighth in total offense, 14th in rushing and third in passing.

76er BOUND? A $6.5 million deal which would bring pro basketball superstar Julius Erving to the Philadelphia 76ers, is awaiting approval of the New York Nets owner Noy Boe, the Associated Press learned Wednesday. The deal could mean the Nets would receive $3 million for Erving, who would then sign with the 76ers for a reported $3.5 million. (AP wirephoto)

Two Reds Think So Are Latin Baseball Players Forgotten?

By NORM CLARKE

AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Tony Perez and Dave Concepcion, key cogs in Cincinnati's Big Red Machine, complained that Latin American players are still the forgotten stars of big league baseball off the field.

The Cincinnati standouts voiced frustration Wednesday over the difficulty Latins have in achieving the popularity enjoyed by other members of the National League powerhouse.

"It's unfair," said Concepcion, Cincinnati's All-Star shortstop.

"Nobody talks to Latins. Just look around the Reds' locker room. All the reporters are talking to Pete Rose, Johnny Bench and Joe Morgan," said Concepcion, a native of Venezuela.

They resent the stereotypes that still beset Latin American ball players.

"Latins are branded as hot-tempered and hard to understand," they said, "and this means they usually are ignored by the news media and by advertisers seeking athletes to endorse their products."

"It's been that way for a long time. I don't know if it will ever change," Perez told The Associated Press while dining at New York's fashionable East Side.

"It happened to Roberto Clemente the same way. He didn't get the recognition he deserved until he was dead," said Perez, the only active player who has averaged more than 100 runs batted in per season for the last 10 years.

The 13-year veteran overtook Frank Robinson a year ago as the Reds' all-time run producer and has a career RBI total of 1,115. He is just 48 home runs shy of Robinson's club record of 324.

His remarks came as the Reds stood on the verge of the first World Series sweep in 30 years.

Concepcion said part of the problems stems from a language barrier.

"It started out with people saying we couldn't speak well enough for interviews. I think we speak English good enough," he said.

Perez, 34, said he holds no animosity toward his teammates.

"People always ask me, 'Why do they put you in the shadow of Johnny Bench and Pete Rose?' I don't blame my teammates for it. I blame the press," said the easy-going slugger who normally shuns controversy.

Perez' hot bat has helped propel the Reds through an unbeaten postseason. The Reds swept Philadelphia in three straight games to win the NL playoffs and are trying to become the first club to go through post-season play without a loss since the playoff system was adopted in 1969.

"It hurts," said Perez' wife, Petuka. "We are very proud people. We are called hot-tempered, but I know Europeans and Americans who are hot tempered."

"Tony always says, 'The only way I can get any publicity is with my bat,'" she said.

Yelvington Only 'Cat Bright Spot

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Northwestern's winless Wildcats are mired with a school record 12-game losing streak but they do have one bright spot and that's flanker Scott Yelvington who is aiming to become the first player in history to lead the Big Ten three successive seasons in pass receptions.

In fact, Yelvington is only the third player ever to win two successive receiving titles in the Big Ten. The others were Pat Richter of Wisconsin in 1961-62 and Barry Pearson of Northwestern in 1970-71.

A 6-foot-5, 198-pound senior from Indianapolis, Yelvington is concerned about Northwestern's fortunes.

"It has been a disappointing season for us this year," he said. "But, personally, I don't feel as though I or the team has played up to our potential. We can still win some games by pulling together and playing as well as we know we can."

Yelvington has the size and hands to play pro football, something he wants to do.

"I don't know what the prospects are looking for," he said. "I have improved my speed, but I'm not certain it meets their expectations. When the opportunity presents itself, I will pursue it then. If it doesn't happen, I hope to enter the graduate school of management at Northwestern or Indiana."

In addition to a third straight title, Yelvington would like to make all Big Ten. He was second choice the last two seasons.

"In my sophomore year I played tight end and my blocking prevented me from being a first team pick. Jim Smith (Michigan) certainly deserved the honor last year as a wide receiver and I know he will be stiff competition again this year. But I'm still hoping."

Yelvington has caught 22

passes this season giving him 110 for his career which ties him for 10th place with Richter on the all-time Big Ten list. He also has scored three touchdowns and is averaging 12.6 yards a reception.

"Scott is the most sure-handed receiver that I have ever coached," said Northwestern Coach John Pont. "He has total concentration of the football and does a great job of locating the open seams. His knowledge of defenses is as acutely sharp as the quarterbacks'."

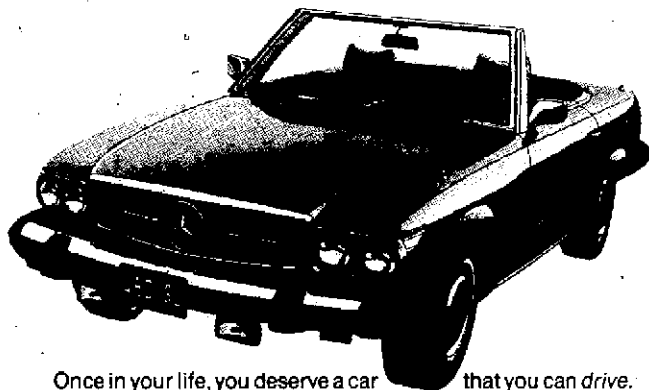

"Scott is one of the organizers of the Big Brothers at Northwestern and one of the reasons that it is successful is that he places the same amount of devotion and energy in making it go as he does in making himself the best pass catcher in the Big Ten," added Pont. "He will be successful in any endeavor he chooses and Northwestern should be proud to have a young man like Scott represent the University."

Michigan State Player Losses Now Stand At 32

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Want to know why Michigan State has a bad football team this year? Consider the number of players it's lost, for starters.

Football players have dropped off the Spartan team like leaves off the trees along the Red Cedar River which runs through campus. One count puts the number of ex-players at 32, either from suspensions or injuries or scholastic problems — or just quitting.

MSU figured to have a tough time overcoming its NCAA suspension and having a good year anyway. But losing 32 players certainly has contributed to the Spartans' 1-4-1 mark.

And the list doesn't include two starters — linebacker Paul Rudzinski and cornerback John Breslin — who are out of Saturday's game with Illinois with injuries, nor the six who missed one or more games under NCAA suspensions.

The Spartans have lost four good defensive backs, all four top offensive guards, their best linebacker and a starting defensive end, among others. In all, 13 were former starters or part-time starters.

Of the missing players, 14 quit for personal reasons.

"It's happened in all the systems I've ever been associated with," said coach Darryl Rogers, who took over the head spot this year. "It's hard on a youngster when a new coach comes in with new assistants and a new coaching style."

Among the missing are: —Guards Ray Spender, Jon Ray and Tim Ruff, who quit, and Marty Kennedy, out with scholastic problems.

—Defensive cornerbacks Mike Imhoff, injured; Joe Hunt, suspended for the season; and Bill Broadway, quitting to join the ministry.

—Defensive stars Kim Roweckamp, a linebacker, Rich Washington, an end and Tom Graves, a safety-turned-end. Roweckamp and Graves are injured, and Washington has scholastic problems.

—Once-promising tailbacks Ted Bell, who never recovered from knee injuries and quit, and Claude Geiger, who was injured in a traffic accident two years ago, sat out a year and didn't return this year.

MSU also lost such promising players as fullback Joe Malinowski, offensive tackle Tony Porter, linebacker Willie Smith and linebacker Greg Young.

Perez, 34, said he holds no animosity toward his teammates.

"People always ask me, 'Why do they put you in the shadow of Johnny Bench and Pete Rose?' I don't blame my teammates for it. I blame the press," said the easy-going slugger who normally shuns controversy.

Perez' hot bat has helped propel the Reds through an unbeaten postseason. The Reds swept Philadelphia in three straight games to win the NL playoffs and are trying to become the first club to go through post-season play without a loss since the playoff system was adopted in 1969.

"It hurts," said Perez' wife, Petuka. "We are very proud people. We are called hot-tempered, but I know Europeans and Americans who are hot tempered."

Tony always says, "The only way I can get any publicity is with my bat," she said.

Yelvington Only 'Cat Bright Spot

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Northwestern's winless Wildcats are mired with a school record 12-game losing streak but they do have one bright spot and that's flanker Scott Yelvington who is aiming to become the first player in history to lead the Big Ten three successive seasons in pass receptions.

In fact, Yelvington is only the third player ever to win two successive receiving titles in the Big Ten. The others were Pat Richter of Wisconsin in 1961-62 and Barry Pearson of Northwestern in 1970-71.

A 6-foot-5, 198-pound senior from Indianapolis, Yelvington is concerned about Northwestern's fortunes.

"It has been a disappointing season for us this year," he said. "But, personally, I don't feel as though I or the team has played up to our potential. We can still win some games by pulling together and playing as well as we know we can."

Yelvington has the size and hands to play pro football, something he wants to do.

"I don't know what the pro scouts are looking for," he said. "I have improved my speed, but I'm not certain it meets their expectations. When the opportunity presents itself, I will pursue it then. If it doesn't happen, I hope to enter the graduate school of management at Northwestern or Indiana."

In addition to a third straight title, Yelvington would like to make all Big Ten. He was second choice the last two seasons.

"In my sophomore year I played tight end and my blocking prevented me from being a first team pick. Jim Smith (Michigan) certainly deserved the honor last year as a wide receiver and I know he will be stiff competition again this year. But I'm still hoping."

Yelvington has caught 22

passes this season giving him 110 for his career which ties him for 10th place with Richter on the all-time Big Ten list. He also has scored three touchdowns and is averaging 12.6 yards a reception.

"Scott is the most sure-handed receiver that I have ever coached," said Northwestern Coach John Pont. "He has total concentration of the football and does a great job of locating the open seams. His knowledge of defenses is as acutely sharp as the quarterback's."

"Scott is one of the organizers of the Big Brothers at Northwestern and one of the reasons that it is successful is that he places the same amount of devotion and energy in making it go as he does in making himself the best pass catcher in the Big Ten," added Pont. "He will be successful in any endeavor he chooses and Northwestern should be proud to have a young man like Scott represent the University."

Lancer Gals Win

BERRIEN SPRINGS —

Lakeshore's seventh and eighth grade basketball teams nipped their counterparts from Berrien Springs in two close games Wednesday.

The Lancers' eighth graders won 38-37 and the seventh graders 30-27. Merriann Middleton and Sally Woods had 11 points each for Lakeshore's eighth graders and Shiela Duffel had 18 for Berrien Springs. Linda Foster and Marcia Lausman had nine each for the Lancer seventh grade squad.

Michigan State Player Losses Now Stand At 32

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) —

Want to know why Michigan State has a bad football team this year? Consider the number of players it's lost, for starters.

Football players have dropped off the Spartan team like leaves off the trees along the Red Cedar River which runs through campus. One count puts the number of ex-players at 32, either from suspensions or injuries or scholastic problems — or just quitting.

MSU figured to have a tough time overcoming its NCAA suspension and having a good year anyway. But losing 32 players certainly has contributed to the Spartans' 1-4-1 mark.

And the list doesn't include two starters — linebacker Paul Rudzinski and cornerback John Breslin — who are out of Saturday's game with Illinois with injuries, nor the six who missed one or more games under NCAA suspensions.

The Spartans have lost four good defensive backs, all four top offensive guards, their best linebacker and a starting defensive end, among others. In all, 13 were former starters or part-time starters.

Of the missing players, 14 quit for personal reasons.

"It's happened in all the systems I've ever been associated with," said coach Darryl Rogers, who took over the head spot this year. "It's hard on a youngster when a new coach comes in with new assistants and a new coaching style."

Among the missing are: —Guards Ray Spender, Jon Ray and Tim Ruff, who quit, and Marty Kennedy, out with scholastic problems.

—Defensive cornerbacks Mike Imhoff, injured; Joe Hunt, suspended for the season; and Bill Broadway, quitting to join the ministry.

—Defensive stars Kim Roweckamp, a linebacker, Rich Washington, an end and Tom Graves, a safety-turned-end. Roweckamp and Graves are injured, and Washington has scholastic problems.

—Once-promising tailbacks Ted Bell, who never recovered from knee injuries and quit, and Claude Geiger, who was injured in a traffic accident two years ago, sat out a year and didn't return this year.

MSU also lost such promising players as fullback Joe Malinowski, offensive tackle Tony Porter, linebacker Willie Smith and linebacker Greg Young.

Boston Opens NBA Title Defense

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics, bloodied and battered but as yet unbowed, begin defense of their National Basketball Association championship tonight when they take on the Indiana Pacers in one of four National Basketball Association season openers.

Three new coaches will be involved in tonight's other games, all of them making their debuts on the road.

The Los Angeles Lakers, with Jerry West at the helm, take on the New York Knicks; the Houston Rockets open under Tom Nissalke against the Atlanta Hawks, and the Buffalo Braves, led by Bates Locke, meet the Milwaukee Bucks.

The other members of the 22-team NBA begin their 81-game seasons over the weekend.

Boston, which beat Phoenix in six games in the playoff finals last spring, is not in the best of

Center Dave Cowens and forward John Havlicek, the 36-year-old team captain, are both questionable for the opener because of back problems. Cowens worked out with the club Wednesday after missing a number of preseason games, but Havlicek did not take part in that final practice session.

Power forward Paul Silas was traded to Denver Wednesday in a three-way deal that brings Curtis Rowe from Detroit, but Rowe isn't expected to play in the opener.

Sidney Wicks, purchased from Portland last week in an effort to bolster the frontcourt, will start at one forward position, although he has been hampered by a groin pull. "He'll go as far as he can, but we don't know how far that will be," a Celtics spokesman said.

Havlicek and Cowens are also penned in as starters, but if they can't make it veterans Steve Kuberski and Jim Ard will get the call.

Indiana, meanwhile, has its own problems. Perhaps the least imposing of the four ABA teams to be admitted to the expanded NBA, the Pacers were further weakened by the loss of starting center Len Etnore and reserve guard Kevin Joyce, both of whom are out for the season with knee injuries.

That puts more of a burden on Billy Knight, the brilliant forward who was second in the ABA in scoring last season with a 28.1 average. And he's been hurting lately, a sprained ankle forcing him to miss the Pacers' final preseason test.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, coming off perhaps his best season ever when he won Most Valuable Player honors for the fourth time, is again the focus of things on the Lakers. He finished the preseason with a 28-point effort against Phoenix and appears in top form.

Guard Lucius Allen has also looked good in preseason, averaging 14 points and six steals.

The Lakers were unable to obtain the power forward they sought during the offseason, but did pick up a couple of competent guards from the ABA in playmaker Mack Calvin and defense-minded Don Chaney, the ex-Celtic. And Wednesday, they announced the signing of guard Dwight "Bo" Lamar, another former ABA player.

The Knicks also failed to get the big man they were looking for. Instead, Coach Red Holzman has been using Spencer Haywood at center and also testing rookie Lonnie Shelton in the middle. Their top newcomer is 6-5 forward Jim McMillian, purchased from Buffalo, whose team-oriented style is exactly what Holzman likes.

Houston and Atlanta are both strong in the backcourt and weak under the boards. Mike Newlin, Calvin Murphy and No. 1 draftee John Lucas are the Rockets' guards, while Tom Henderson, Lou Hudson, Ken Charles and top rookie Armond Hill are Atlanta's backliners. The Hawks also have Geoff Petrie, the former Portland all-star, but he's temporarily shelved with a knee injury.

Buffalo is a scoring machine, with Locke giving free reign to Ernie DiGregorio, oenel the Braves' high-powered offense which features three-time scoring king Bob McAdoo, speedy Randy Smith, ex-Notre Damiers John Shumate and Adrian Dantley and newly acquired Moses Malone.

Rookies Quinn Buckner and Alex English have impressed Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello during the preseason. Costello is hoping Buckner, from NCAA champion Indiana, will be the playmaker the Bucks lacked last season even though they won the Midwest Division.

Kalamazoo Wings Win

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Center Fern LeBlanc scored three goals, Wednesday night to lead the Kalamazoo Wings to a 6-2 victory over the Port Huron Flags in a penalty-packed International Hockey League game.

A total of 115 minutes of penalties were called in the game, which saw Kalamazoo defenseman Len Treandiu and

Port Huron center Jim Gustafson thrown off the ice for fighting.

In other IHL action Wednesday, Muskegon beat Port Wayne, 9-4, and Toledo posted a 5-4 win over Dayton.

Two of LeBlanc's Kalamazoo goals came in the opening period of his team's home ice opener. Port Huron's goals, both scored in the final period,

Kalamazoo is now 3-0-0 for first place in the north division. Port Huron is 1-2-0.

Muskegon Center Garth MacGulgan scored four goals and got one assist to lead the Mohawks to victory over the Ft. Wayne Komets.

Worries Over For Desjardins

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The times of game-day worry are past for Buffalo Sabres goaltender Gerry Desjardins.

"On the day of a game, I try not to think about the game the way I used to," said the veteran goalie after his 4-0 shutout of the Vancouver Canucks Wednesday night. "It's not easy, but I try to keep my mind off hockey on game days."

Until they drop the puck in earnest, that is. That's when concentration matters most.

"They keep telling you that you have to concentrate every second, no matter where the puck is on the ice," said Desjardins, "but you have to learn that through experience."

"I'm concentrating better than I ever did before. I'm feeling good, working well in practice, working hard in physical training to develop my legs, and I'm really working on my concentration," he said.

The results showed in his 32-save shutout over the Canucks. Center Gil Perreault provided the offensive fireworks with two goals, the second the 500th point of his National Hockey League career. Jim Lorentz and Rick Martin had the other goals for Buffalo.

In the other NHL games, the Los Angeles Kings topped the New York Rangers 4-2, the Minnesota North Stars trimmed the Atlanta Flames 4-3, the Boston Bruins edged the Colorado Rockies 2-1 and the Pittsburgh Penguins and Toronto Maple Leafs tied 4-4.

Ex-Rangers defenseman Ab DeMarco scored twice in the first period, powering Los Angeles past New York and extending the Kings' unbeaten string to five games.

New York rookie Don Murdoch's ninth goal, tops in the league, cut the deficit to 2-1 in the second period. Then the Kings' Mike Murphy and the Rangers' Mike McEwen traded power-play goals before Marcel Dionne got an insurance goal for Los Angeles with 2:33 remaining.

Rookie Glen Sharpley scored twice and Pierre Jarry and rookie Alex Pirus had one goal apiece as Minnesota snapped a three-game losing streak.

Eric Vail scored twice and Bill Clement once for the Flames.

Inge Hammarstrom, Jack Valiquette and Ian Turnbull also scored for Toronto while Jean Pronovost, Syl Apps, Rick Kehoe and Ron Stackhouse tallied for Pittsburgh.

Greg Sheppard's shorthanded goal started Boston to its victory over Colorado. Don Marcotte gave Boston a 2-0 lead before Gary Croteau scored for the Rockies.

SJ Girls Sink Niles

St. Joseph's varsity girls swimming team sank Niles' girls team 105-73 Wednesday at the Bear pool for their sixth consecutive win.

Placing first for the Bears were: Diving, Jane Boerma 132.5; 500 free style, Ann Thomas 6:24.3; 100 back stroke Diana Grandy 1:03.9; and 200 medley relay, Sue Piontek, Barb Goodhart, Nancy Waldenmier and Diana Grandy, 2:07.3.

The Bears are now 7-1 on the season.

Lancers Split

Lakeshore's junior high school cross country team split a pair of meets Wednesday at Lakeshore. The Lancer seventh graders beat New Prairie 25-30 with Craig McCau winning the mile-and-one-half run in 9:04. New Prairie took the eighth grade meet 15-16.

Ashe Sees Black Tennis Drought

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight years after he burst into national prominence by winning the first U.S. Open Championship at Forest Hills, Arthur Ashe remains the only black player in big time tennis.

And Ashe, now 33, believes that because of problems such as economic considerations, lack of early training and a preoccupation with other sports such as basketball and football, it may be 10 years before another player of international stature emerges from the growing ranks of young black enthusiasts.

"We have a huge future in the game," he says, "but the key to black progress in tennis lies in the public schools. If we don't beef up the tennis programs there, only the parents of the middle-class black child will be able to afford to kick out the extra dough needed for him or her to compete."

The money goes for equipment such as rackets, balls and clothing and access to good instructors and facilities. And although Ashe says he doesn't feel there are racial barriers to prevent young blacks from pursuing the game, other problems such as limited access to good private clubs hurt their chances for success.

There is definitely some amount of prejudice when it comes to following through with intermediate and advanced training because the best coaches, the best facilities and the best competition is still found in private clubs — and these clubs don't usually have blacks as members," he says.

"Tennis is not part of the cultural mainstream of the black community. If you are black and want to make your mark in tennis you literally now have to leave the black community because it's not part of us yet."

Tennis, though has been a big part of Ashe's life since he won the National Junior Indoor Championship 16 years ago under the tutelage of a black physician from Lynchburg, Va. Last year the slim, classically-featured Richmond, Va., native, known for his booming serve and delicate placements, was ranked No. 1 in the world, winning nine tournaments including the World Championship of Tennis and Wimbledon, where he became the first black ever to win the men's singles title.

Ashe and Althea Gibson, another black who rose from paddle ball courts of Harlem to win at Wimbledon and Forest Hills during her career in the 1950s, were here over the weekend participating in a celebrity tournament sponsored by the United Negro College Fund. Proceeds from the tournament will be used for tennis scholarships at black colleges.

The tournament also strives to uncover budding talent. One such prospect is 10-year old Derek Irby of New York. Derek has been playing since age five and is ranked in the top 20 in the 10-and-under division in the Eastern Region by the U.S. Tennis Association.

Derek impressed the tournament audience at Madison Square Garden's Felt Forum with his assortment of shots and court authority, but Ashe warned that although youngsters such as Derek may have the talent to become a good player, unless a lot more like him are encouraged at an early age, the chances of making it to the top are slim.

Three-Game Win Streak Threatened Pack Faces Heavyweight

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Just as the Big Ten Conference has its Big Two—Michigan and Ohio State—and Little Eight, the National Football League has what Green Bay Coach Bart Starr calls separate levels of competition.

And Starr's Packers figure to learn Sunday whether they indeed can compete with the heavyweights, or must be content to be the class of the also-rans.

Just three weeks ago, Packers fans had been impatient, angry and ready to write off the season. Some even had been heard to say unkind things about Starr, their super-hero quarterback of the 1960s.

But three victories later, with a .500 record, fan interest again has assumed its traditional face of frenzied optimism, and never mind that next Sunday's opponents are the Oakland Raiders.

The Raiders, it should be noted, aren't just your run-of-the-mill NFL heavyweight. Since 1963, they have won 131 games, lost 48 and tied 11, including 5-1 this year. That's a winning percentage of .740. Since 1967, they are 100-25-7, or an even .800.

Only the fact that they never have won a Super Bowl has deprived them of the acclaim accorded Vince Lombardi's Packers dynasty, which had a winning percentage of .760 while winning five NFL titles and two Super Bowls.

Starr thinks this might be the Raiders' year to win the Super Bowl.

"They've won all their big games in the past except one, but the way they came from behind to beat Pittsburgh (31-28) in their opener this year shows they're committed to going all the way," he said.

"I guess if I had to pick one word to describe them, it would be 'awesome,'" he said. "They're just a super football team. They just don't have a weakness. They have as much or more physical talent as any club in football."

But Starr, miffed at what he considers excessively negative criticism of his team while it lost its first three games, is catering to the positive thinking which has returned to Packerland. He insisted he would be dissatisfied with a strong showing in defeat at Oakland.

"You're talking in terms of moral victories, and there are no such things," he said. "We go into every ball game intending to win, and that's the way we're approaching this game. It's going to take a supreme effort to be in that ball game with them, but I really feel we're going to have an outstanding game."

There are several reasons for such thinking, even considering the relatively weak caliber of the Packers' three most recent opponents.

One reason is the Packers' 16 sacks of opposing quarterbacks in the last three weeks. Another is that Packers quarterbacks have been sacked just five times in that span, compared with 13 in their first three games.

Another is quarterback Lynn Dickey, who passed for minus yardage in the season's second game but who has amassed 441 yards the past two games. And still another is the revived running game. Not exactly awesome, mind you, but at least revived. Realistically, however, the disparity in talent between the Raiders and Packers is immense. Oakland's roster reads like the Pro Bowl program. If the Raiders were a baseball team, they would be the Cincinnati Reds.

Quarterback Ken Stabler completes fewer than 60 per cent of his passes about as often as Pete Rose dogs it while running to first base. Dave Casper, the tight end from Chilton, Wis., has blossomed into one of the league's top receivers. Cliff Branch, Fred Biletnikoff and Mike Siani have been for years.

Linebacker Phil Villapiano and safety Jack Tatum are of all-pro caliber. Pete Banaszak, from Crivitz, Wis., is one of the league's best "money" backs. He doesn't start, but scored 16 touchdowns last year. Linebacker Ted Hendricks, who played out his option with Green Bay last year after a brilliant 1974 season, didn't even crack Oakland's starting lineup until late last season.

The shootout starts at 3 p.m. Wisconsin time.

Big Ten Stats Race Heats Up

CHICAGO (AP) — Mike Carroll of Wisconsin and Ed Smith of Michigan State are in a couple of torrid statistical races in the Big Ten.

Carroll is No. 1 in total offense, averaging 188.0 yards a game to 175.2 for Smith but Smith is first in passing with Carroll second. The passing leader is determined on a graded system which considers the percentage of completions along with percentage of interceptions.

Scott Dierking of Purdue missed last Saturday's game with an ankle injury but remains the rushing leader with a 126.8 average. He is followed by Rob Lytle of Michigan at 115.2, Jeff Logan of Ohio State at 110.7 and Harlan Huckleby of Michigan at 110.3.

Scott Yelvington of Northwestern and Ron Kulas of Minnesota are tied in pass receiving with 22 receptions each.

Pete Johnson of Ohio State is the scoring leader with 66 points followed by Huckleby and Jim Perkins of Minnesota who have 54 points each and Bob Wood of Michigan is the kick scoring leader with 50 points on 35 conversions and five field goals.

Russ Pope of Purdue leads tops in kickoff returns with a 27.2 average and Jim Smith of Michigan remains the punt return leader with a 13.2 average.

Dick Milaeger of Wisconsin leads the punters with a 44.5 average and Tom Skladany of Ohio State is second at 42.8. Paul Beery of Purdue leads in interceptions with five.

Michigan, the nation's No. 1 team, dominates the team statistics. The Wolverines are first in six of eight categories. They lead in total offense with an average of 486.8 yards a game, in rushing with 394.3 and in scoring with an average of 45.3 points a game. Michigan State leads in passing with an average of 210.3 yards a game.

Michigan leads in total defense, allowing 287.0 yards a game, in rushing defense with 99.2 yards and in scoring defense, allowing 9.7 points a game. Iowa is first in pass defense, yielding 81.2 yards a game and Illinois is a close second at 83.0.

NAACP Hails Mississippi Ruling As 'Great Victory'

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — The NAACP is hailing as "a great victory" a judge's ruling that blacks 12 white Port Gibson merchants from collecting $1.2 million in damages and reduces a state-imposed appeal bond.

"It keeps the NAACP in business and allows them to take the appeal without bankrupting the organization," attorney Frank Parker said after the decision Wednesday.

Nathaniel Jones, legal counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the appeal may take up to three years. Parker estimated five years. Jones also estimated the appeal would cost the NAACP about $300,000.

U.S. District Judge Orma Smith's injunction prohibits collection of the judgment during the appeal and stays the requirement for an appeal bond amounting to 125 per cent of the judgment, or $1.56 million. He substituted a $100,000 bond.

Smith said he issued the order to prevent "immediate and irreparable harm" to the NAACP while it appeals to the Mississippi Supreme Court and, if necessary, to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The NAACP had claimed the award and the appeal bond would bankrupt the organization, but said after Smith's ruling that it would be able to post the $100,000 bond.

In his ruling, Smith also said overturned the state court's ban on further boycotting or picketing by the NAACP, saying such a prohibition would "seriously impair their (NAACP) rights to free speech and association. This is in and of itself an irreparable injury."

He limited the prohibition "only to physical violence, damage to any real or personal property or obstructing the interests" of any place of business.

The merchants were awarded the damage judgment by Chancery Court Judge George Haynes in August on grounds that they were innocent victims of a boycott by blacks in the late 1960s.

The boycott was designed to force them to use their influence to change local government in Port Gibson, a town of about 3,000 persons in a predominantly black area along the Mississippi River. Haynes said the protest was a secondary boycott prohibited by Mississippi law.

The NAACP felt more than $500,000 short of raising the appeal bond during a nationwide fund drive, but had promises of loans from the AFL-CIO and other organizations for the difference.

Smith supported the NAACP contention that posting the bond would seriously damage the organization.

"While the record reflects that plaintiff NAACP can obtain funds to finance the procurement of a bond, to accomplish this, the NAACP will be required to borrow a substantial portion of the amount of bond and to deplete funds necessary to conduct its normal operations," Smith said.

"To repay these sizable loans, the NAACP will have to curtail practically all its usual functions during the pendency of the appeal, shown to be a period of two or three years."

The judge added, "The record reflects the (NAACP) will suffer immediate and irreparable harm if the enforcement of the state decree ... is not enjoined."

Half-Brothers Plead Guilty

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — Two Saginaw half brothers have pleaded guilty to reduced second-degree murder charges in the holdup slayings of a Saginaw couple and their son Aug. 21, 1975. Bennie Thomas, 25, and Albert Price Jr., 18, entered guilty pleas moments before their trials on first degree murder charges were to have started. The case had been moved from Saginaw to Macomb County Circuit Court after the defense contended pretrial publicity jeopardized chances for a fair trial. The pair was charged in the shooting deaths of Thaxton Rex Schneider, 47; his wife, Eleanor, 47, and their son, Danny, 16. In a brief statement before visiting Saginaw County Circuit Judge Fred Borchard, Thomas admitted he fired the shots in the holdup at the Schneider home. He said the husband and wife were held up and that their son, Danny, came home during the robbery and was shot. Ina Counsel for Price said a plea bargaining deal was made because "there were some weaknesses in the prosecutor's case and there also was a chance my client could have been convicted."

The unbelievable Dodge Aspen.

A comfortable wagon in a size all its own.

The Aspen wagon does something that most other wagons find rather difficult. It convinces you that it's a much bigger wagon than it really is. How? Unique size, for one thing. It carries so much more than the little wagons, and almost as much as some of the larger ones. You get the space and the comfort that you need and want in a wagon with a more practical overall size.

Come on in and see the small car at a small price...the unbelievable '77 Aspen wagon. At the Dodge Boys' today.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Phillip Cousteau, son of French oceanographer Jacques Cousteau, broke a knee when his helicopter fell 90 feet and crashed on Easter Island.

Cosell Now In Senator's Doghouse

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Sportscenter Howard Cosell, who didn't endear himself to Kansas City baseball fans during the Royals' playoffs with the New York Yankees, is now officially in Sen. Thomas Eagleton's doghouse.

The Missouri Democrat made his feelings known in a letter to Boone Arledge, president of ABC Sports.

"I realize that Cosell's obnoxiousness is the reason that ABC finds him so marketable," Eagleton said. "As a loyal, devoted baseball fan, I always have derived great comfort from the fact that our 'national pastime' was free of Cosell. Hopefully, after the World Series, that will be the case once again."

Cosell broadcast the playoff games but is not working on the series.

Eagleton said he wanted to add his name "to the list of thousands" who opposed Cosell's broadcasting of the playoffs between the Royals and Yankees for the American League title. Kansas City fans were irate with what they felt was Cosell's thinly veiled backing of the Yankees. It prompted the local ABC television affiliate to list the number of ABC in New York, telling viewers to call the New York office with their complaints rather than the Kansas City station.

Eagleton wasn't much easier on Cosell's partner-in-patter, Baltimore Orioles slugger Reggie Jackson.

New York Senate Race Political Classic

BY TOM TIEDE
NEW YORK (NEA) — There is a familiar assortment of riff-raff running for federal office this year. A convicted sex offender in Utah. A congressman in Florida who has been censured by his colleagues for legal improprieties. A racist from Georgia who wants to be president. Even a Montanan who's running for "prime minister."

But the New York senatorial race, at least, is a contest between two men who could not have been better chosen by the "fading fathers." Incumbent James Buckley and Democratic challenger Patrick Moynihan represent politics at its best. They seem straight from democracy's central casting.

Each is sober and sophisticated, yet witty and likable. Neither is burdened by a hint of personal or professional scandal. Besides this, they represent two opposite but respectable philosophies. The result is a campaign that does the state and even the nation proud: "No matter who wins," says one observer here, "the people can't lose."

Presently it appears as if Moynihan will win. A popular figure whose combination of scholarly accomplishment and public service is perhaps without parallel in the nation, the puckish 49-year-old intellectual has the strength of the Democratic registration going for him. There are a million more Democrats than Republicans in New York, many of whom have not had a winnable moderate to vote for in years.

Moynihan's appeal to the masses stems largely from his brief service as the ambassador to the United Nations (nine months). His time as a public man actually predates that post — he was ambassador to India from 1973 to 1975, and before that he made news as the White House counselor who advised Richard Nixon to follow a course of "benign neglect" regarding programs for blacks. Still, his legend was formed at the U.N.

His happy face hiding a tough mind, Moynihan's blunt style ruffled the world oody but delighted his countrymen. He blasted resolutions as "obscene" and dismissed committee reports as "rubbish." He felt the one nation — one vote structure ridiculous. As for the actions of the hostile Third World members, Moynihan said they were "abominable."

He has not been so blunt since, however — about the U.N. or much else. As a mere 1 per cent winner in the Democratic primary (over feminist Rep. Bella Abzug, who, he said, "stands for the politics of ruin"), Moynihan has sculptured his campaign to appeal to liberals as well as the others. Hence he regularly turns up in Manhattan's Spanish Harlem now to show curious Puerto Ricans that he has compassion as well as horns.

No doubt he will have to do more than sculpture to get some leftist votes. They cannot forgive his ties to Nixon-Ford, nor what they consider to be his apathy toward minority worries. During the campaign a protester shoved a banana creme pie in his face. A just reward, says Pamela Harriman, wife of New Deal Democrat W. Averell Harriman: "Don't you really think it's insulting to the Senate to suggest this kind of buffoon?"

As is often the case in such heated inter-party feuding, the chief beneficiary is the opposition. Hence James Buckley, 36, pins his hopes on united Republicans and divided Democrats this November. Alas, he too has problems in his own church. Buckley's GOP primary opponent, Rep. Peter Peyser, says he feels "no obligation" to support the winner.

Peyser and some other

Republicans feel that Buckley, who presently represents the Conservative party in Congress, is too far off center. They claim his support for the decontrol of oil and gas prices would cost Americans $40 billion a year in additional fuel costs, and a 1 per cent rise in unemployment.

There is also Republican resentment that Buckley failed to support federal aid to beleaguered New York City.

And yet Buckley has strengths which obviously minimize this GOP dissatisfaction. Chief among which is that his personal philosophy squares nicely with that of a great many nonpolitical New Yorkers.

The senator believes in small government, big defense budgets, harsh penalties for thugs and no school busing. The liberal Americans for Democratic Action rates his congressional voting performance as zero. And that's okay with his loyalists, many of whom feel Buckley is the man to replace Ronald Reagan as the conscience of Tory thought.

The assent is particularly strong among New Yorkers who are against abortion. Buckley is one of Washington's leading proponents of the Right to Life Amendment. Moynihan, conversely, says he is personally opposed to abortion but does not favor laws to restrict it. Presumably, in a close race the election outcome could hinge on this difference.

To assure a close race, Buckley is reminding voters that Moynihan embraces "extravagant Democratic spending proposals" such as a plan to guarantee all Americans a subsistence income. For his part

Moynihan accuses Buckley of representing "the tiny splinter group of Conservative party ideologues and cranks who nominated him."

So it is that rhetoric reigns even when the political contestants are literate. But at least this time the grammar and syntax are lovely.

Do Your Eyes Give You Away?

You've probably been looking out at the world with those baby blues or big brown orbs for a long time and never thought much about it. How were you to know that the world was looking into those eyes and figuring you out from scratch?

Did you know that light-eyed people have different personality characteristics than dark-eyed people? We're going to tell you just what they are. You'll find out why emotional reactions are different, why response to pain varies and why one group has faster reflexes than the other.

Even your success or failure in your chosen profession might be predestined by the color of your eyes.

Obviously, you could have figured your life out long ago just by a thoughtful look in the mirror. But don't despair. Set yourself up for success now, before it's too late.

Here's looking at you, kid.

Airline Jet, Cargo Plane Nearly Collide

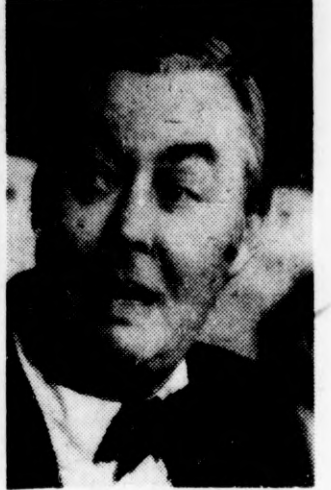

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I'll tell you — when you can get the prop vibration in the cockpit, he's close."

Those were the words an Eastern Airlines pilot radioed to Washington National Airport on Sunday after his jet nearly collided with an Air Force cargo plane.

The Eastern pilot, whose plane was carrying 62 passengers, said the Air Force C-130 "wasn't more than 200 feet above us" when the planes passed at about 4,000 feet, according to an air traffic control tape.

Moynihan accuses Buckley of representing "the tiny splinter group of Conservative party ideologies and cranks who nominated him."

Do Your Eyes Give You Away?

You've probably been looking out at the world with those baby blues or big brown orbs for a long time and never thought much about it. How were you to know that the world was looking into those eyes and figuring you out from scratch?

Did you know that light-eyed people have different personality characteristics than dark-eyed people? We're going to tell you just what they are. You'll find out why emotional reactions are different, why response to pain varies and why one group has faster reflexes than the other.

Even your success or failure in your chosen profession might be predestined by the color of your eyes.

Obviously, you could have figured your life out long ago just by a thoughtful look in the mirror. But don't despair. Set yourself up for success now, before it's too late.

Here's looking at you, Kid.

Oregon Schools Have Short Term

NORTH BEND, Ore. (AP) — The school year ended almost as soon as it began for about 6,600 southern Oregon children in the North Bend and Eagle Point school districts, where voters have refused to approve tax increases.

Parents will vote again Nov. 2 on new tax levy proposals. If approved, the schools could reopen Nov. 4. The abrupt shutdowns this month and last were the first in Oregon history.

BLASTS ATTACK ON CARTER

Daugherty Rips Stockman

Richard E. (Mike) Daugherty, Democratic candidate for Fourth District congressman, said today he was "amazed" by a Dave Stockman statement of Oct. 14 attacking Jimmy Carter.

Democratic presidential candidate.

Daugherty said of his opponent for the Fourth District seat:

"I've been operating under the assumption that Mr.

Stockman has been running for Congress and not the Presidency. I can hardly believe that the President's campaign is in such trouble that it has to rely on attacks by an apprentice politician."

Daugherty charged that while his opponent's news release made amusing reading, Stockman had missed the point. "As usual, my opponent is merely attacking symptoms and I would find it most refreshing if just once he would propose some solutions to the problems," he said.

Pointing to the Democratic platform, Daugherty expressed support for putting people back to work and off welfare. "This is the key issue. Providing jobs and not welfare for our people through the stimulation of the private sector is something I'm firmly committed to," he said.

"My opponent seems to embrace an economic plan that has been tried for the last eight years and has produced an 'official' 78 per cent unemployment rate, high inflation, and the largest deficit in our nation's history," Daugherty said. "He speaks of costs to the average taxpayer of certain programs, yet never talks of the $160-180 billion that unemployment is costing this nation. As you know, this terrible cost to the taxpayer comes from the loss of goods not produced, tax revenue not paid, and through the payment of unemployment compensation, food stamps, and welfare."

Daugherty also assailed those who spend over $100,000 in an effort to win a congressional seat. "My opponent has spent more money than anyone has ever spent in a Fourth Congressional District race. He sends out slick brochures attempting to tie himself to the average taxpayer, yet I can only wonder how many of the $1,000 contributions he received have come from average taxpayers. I believe it's time the people of this district have a representative that will reflect their views," Daugherty concluded.

Berrien Springs Dispute Will Go To Fact-Finder

BERRIEN SPRINGS — A state mediator has called for fact-finding in the five-month dispute between the Berrien Springs school board and teachers over a new master contract.

According to Supt. Jon Schuster, the fact-finding was called for by state labor department mediator Howard Case at the conclusion of a bargaining session Tuesday.

Schuster said fact-finding is the next required step once mediation talks have broken down. Schuster's remarks came during a press conference at his office yesterday which he called to respond to a leaflet attacking the board in the dispute.

Schuster said a fact-finder would be appointed by the state department of labor to examine all unresolved issues. The fact-finder's report is normally made public when the process is completed, Schuster said.

He estimated the process would take 90 to 120 days. In the meantime, teachers are working without a master contract under last year's salary schedules. Bargaining began in June.

In connection with the leaflet,

Schuster said he was attempting to "clarify some gross errors" contained in the leaflets which he said were circulated by the teachers union. The one-page leaflets, printed on gold colored paper, were placed on cars in several Berrien Springs public parking lots last weekend.

He said the leaflet was wrong in implying that mediation was sought jointly by both parties at the bargaining table. Mediation was never requested by the board, Schuster said. It was sought solely by bargainers for the teachers, he said.

He charged that the mediation talks broke down because bargainers for the teachers refused to compromise on the issue of health insurance.

He said the board's negotiators went into mediation with no "hard and fast demands."

He said the school district does not want to spend over $17,000 to provide health insurance for about 24 employees whose families are already protected by another insurance plan.

Such insurance would be "virtually meaningless" because people can't collect from two different policies for the same illness, Schuster argued.

The leaflet claimed the school board is seeking to deny health insurance to those employees.

Schuster said the leaflet was wrong in stating that the school board does not intend to make pay raises retroactive.

"We have informed their bargaining team that retroactive pay back to the starting of school is viewed as a negotiable item," Schuster said.

He said teacher salary schedules for 1976-77 were mutually agreed on in August.

Schuster said the leaflet was also wrong in stating that the school board makes the final decision on labor disagreements. He said teachers have always had access to the courts for a final say and do not need a contract calling for binding arbitration by a third, neutral party.

"We do not believe the local taxpayers desire that the board delegate its responsibilities to an outsider in arriving at binding decisions when courts are available," Schuster said, speaking for board negotiators.

Schuster also claimed the leaflet was incorrect in charging that the board desires to "tie up" the salary schedule for three years.

The board desires a two or three-year contract in which salary and one additional item could be re-opened for bargaining, Schuster said.

Michigan Bar President Says Law Ads Inevitable

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Specialization by lawyers and advertising what services are offered are "inevitable," Atty. William Reamon, president of the State Bar Association of Michigan, told Berrien county attorneys last night.

Reamon, speaking to the Berrien Bar association during a dinner meeting at Point O'Woods country club, noted that many local bar organizations oppose specialization and advertising. "It is a reality," he stressed, "it will either be adopted by us or imposed on us."

Reamon, 49, practices law with a Grand Rapids firm, and became president of the State Bar in September. A trial lawyer, Reamon has practiced since he graduated from the University of Michigan law school in 1954.

Specialization among attorneys is a concept which advocates specialized work, such as a lawyer who does primarily trial work, or divorces, wills, or other phases of the legal profession, much like specialties in medicine. Currently, the only specialized fields recognized by the Supreme Court, which sets standards for attorneys, are in the areas of patent, copyright, and admiralty law.

St. Joseph Atty. James McQuillan, president of the Berrien Bar, noted the Michigan Supreme Court has held it unethical for attorneys to advertise what types of services they offer, and lawyers were limited to only putting their names in the telephone book.

Reamon noted a committee of the State Bar has endorsed the idea of a pilot program of specialization but it was always turned down by the association's boards of trustees and commissioners. He noted every bar association he has talked with is opposed to specialization and advertising, but predicted the two will come nonetheless.

"I'm not saying it's going to be palatable, I'm saying it's inevitable," Reamon noted.

Other areas in which Reamon said the bar association could be confronted with problems included:

—De-lawyerizing. He said attempts to keep professional attorneys out of some kinds of litigation poses "one of the most serious threats to our profession."

—No-fault divorce and insurance. Reamon believes there is no chance the no-fault automobile insurance statutes would be repealed, but conceded "Michigan's is about the best we could make it."

He predicted many bills would be introduced in the next legislative session to change fault insurance, especially in the area of product liability.

—Malpractice insurance for attorneys. Reamon felt lawyers will have increasing insurance premiums, much like physicians, because of an increasing number of suits by people dissatisfied with services.

—Licensing and regulation of lawyers by a state department.

Reamon noted there is no such state regulation now, but each time a bill calling for some type of licensing is introduced it picks up more support.

SBA Accepting Loan Bids

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) will be accepting loan applications from owners of small businesses in Berrien, Cass and Van Buren counties who have incurred heavy financial losses as a result of the spring freezes between April 9 and May 20, 1976.

The loans will be available under the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act. Businesses applying for economic injury will be required to submit documentation showing that the extent of economic injury suffered is directly applicable to the adverse weather conditions last spring, according to a spokesman for Fourth District U.S. Congressman Edward Hutchinson (R-St. Joseph).

The loans are primarily for businesses that deal with farmers, and who have had a bad year along with farmers because of the spring freezes. Few farmers are eligible for the SBA but there are exceptions, the spokesman said. Most farmers who suffered severe losses due to the freezes would be eligible for Farmers Home Administration loans at 5 per cent interest.

Funds received from these loans may be used to provide working capital and pay financial obligations that a small business would have been able to meet except for the loss of business.

Former Israeli Official Is Club's First Speaker

Abba Eban, former Israeli minister of foreign affairs, will address the Economic Club of Southwestern Michigan Tuesday, Nov. 9, at Ramada Inn.

NEW PREXY: Edward Ketterer, Stevensville, was elected president of Grand Mere association last night. Other officers elected or re-elected were David Ratajick, St. Joseph, vice president; Mrs. James (Mary Ellen) Long, Stevensville, executive secretary; Miss Marjorie Pannell, Stevensville, recording secretary; and John Hendricks, Stevensville, treasurer.

south of Benton Harbor.

Announcement was made by John Paul Taylor, club president, who said it will be the opening meeting of the club's 34th season. The dinner meeting will start at 6:45 p.m. and is open only to Economic club members and their guests.

Taylor described Eban as "one of the world's truly great orators." Eban was Israeli minister of foreign affairs from 1966 to 1974.

Eban was born in Cape Town, Union of South Africa, on Feb. 2, 1915. From his youth, he spoke Hebrew as well as English fluently and played a leading role in the Zionist movement. At Cambridge university he specialized in Oriental languages and was subsequently appointed lecturer of Hebrew, Arabic and Persian literature.

He was a member of the Jewish Agency Delegation to the UN General Assembly which presented the Jewish case at the deliberations leading up to the assembly's decision for the establishment of the State of Israel.

In 1948, Egan was appointed Israel's representative to the United Nations and in this capacity appeared repeatedly before the bodies of the U.N. to state Israel's case. In 1949, he appeared before the political committee of the General Assembly to plead successfully for the admission of Israel to the U.N. Upon Israel's admission, on May 11, he became permanent representative. In 1950, he also became Israel's ambassador to the United States. At 35, he was the youngest person to hold such a rank among the diplomatic corps in Washington. He retained both posts until his resignation in July of 1959.

In 1959 Eban returned to Israel and entered politics as a member of Mapai, the Israel Labor party. On July 31, 1960, he was appointed minister of education and culture, and on June 26, 1963, became deputy prime minister under Prime Minister Levi Eshkol. Following the resignation of Golda Meir as Israel's minister for foreign affairs in January, 1966, Eban was appointed to that post and was sworn in, together with the other members of the new government, on January 12, 1966. He retained the post of Israeli minister for foreign affairs until 1974.

Eban has received honorary degrees from New York university, Boston university, the University of Maryland, Yeshiva university, the Dropsie College of Hebrew and Cognate Learning, Brandeis university and the Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati.

In 1945 Eban married Susan

Ford To Be Host

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is inviting Hungarian freedom fighters to the White House to observe the anniversary of a revolt the Soviet Union crushed with tanks and troops 20 years ago.

The invitation to survivors of the revolt who made it to the United States is aimed at giving Ford another chance today to make up for a blunder in his second debate with Democrat Jimmy Carter.

Berrien Springs Dispute Will Go To Fact-Finder

BERRIEN SPRINGS — A state mediator has called for fact-finding in the five-month dispute between the Berrien Springs school board and teachers over a new master contract.

According to Supt. Jon Schuster, the fact-finding was called for by state labor department mediator Howard Case at the conclusion of a bargaining session Tuesday.

Schuster said fact-finding is the next required step once mediation talks have broken down. Schuster's remarks came during a press conference at his office yesterday which he called to respond to a leaflet attacking the board in the dispute.

Schuster said a fact-finder would be appointed by the state department of labor to examine all unresolved issues. The fact-finder's report is normally made public when the process is completed, Schuster said.

He estimated the process would take 90 to 120 days. In the meantime, teachers are working without a master contract under last year's salary schedules. Bargaining began in June.

In connection with the leaflet,

Schuster said he was attempting to "clarify some gross errors" contained in the leaflets which he said were circulated by the teachers union. The one-page leaflets, printed on gold colored paper, were placed on cars in several Berrien Springs public parking lots last weekend.

He said the leaflet was wrong in implying that mediation was sought jointly by both parties at the bargaining table. Mediation was never requested by the board, Schuster said. It was sought solely by bargainners for the teachers, he said.

He charged that the mediation talks broke down because bargainners for the teachers refused to compromise on the issue of health insurance.

He said the board's negotiators went into mediation with no "hard and fast demands."

He said the school district does not want to spend over $17,000 to provide health insurance for about 24 employees whose families are already protected by another insurance plan.

Such insurance would be "virtually meaningless" because people can't collect from two different policies for the same illness, Schuster argued.

The leaflet claimed the school board is seeking to deny health insurance to those employees.

Schuster said the leaflet was wrong in stating that the school board does not intend to make

pay raises retroactive.

"We have informed their bargaining team that retroactive pay back to the starting of school is viewed as a negotiable item," Schuster said.

He said teacher salary schedules for 1976-77 were mutually agreed on in August.

Schuster said the leaflet was also wrong in stating that the school board makes the final decision on labor disagreements. He said teachers have always had access to the courts for a final say and do not need a contract calling for binding arbitration by a third, neutral party.

"We do not believe the local taxpayers desire that the board delegate its responsibilities to an outsider in arriving at binding decisions when courts are available," Schuster said, speaking for board negotiators.

Schuster also claimed the leaflet was incorrect in charging that the board desires to "tie up" the salary schedule for three years.

The board desires a two or three-year contract in which salary and one additional item could be re-opened for bargaining, Schuster said.

Michigan Bar President Says Law Ads Inevitable

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Specialization by lawyers and advertising what services are offered are "inevitable," Atty. William Reamon, president of the State Bar Association of Michigan, told Berrien county attorneys last night.

Reamon, speaking to the Berrien Bar association during a dinner meeting at Point O'Woods country club, noted that many local bar organiza-

Reamon, 49, practices law with a Grand Rapids firm, and became president of the State Bar in September. A trial lawyer, Reamon has practiced since he graduated from the University of Michigan law school in 1954.

Specialization among attorneys is a concept which advocates specialized work, such as a lawyer who does primarily trial work, or divorces, wills, or other phases of the legal profession, much like specialties in medicine. Currently, the only specialized fields recognized by the Supreme Court, which sets standards for attorneys, are in the areas of patent, copyright, and admiralty law.

St. Joseph Atty. James McQuillan, president of the Berrien Bar, noted the Michigan Supreme Court has held it unethical for attorneys to advertise what types of services they offer, and lawyers were limited to only putting their names in the telephone book.

Reamon noted a committee of the State Bar has endorsed the idea of a pilot program of specialization but it was always turned down by the association's boards of trustees and commissioners. He noted every bar association he has talked with is opposed to specialization and advertising, but predicted the two will come nonetheless. "I'm not saying it's going to be palatable, I'm saying it's inevitable," Reamon noted.

Other areas in which Reamon said the bar association could be confronted with problems included:

—De-lawyerizing. He said attempts to keep professional attorneys out of some kinds of litigation poses "one of the most serious threats to our profession."

He predicted many bills would be introduced in the next legislative session to change fault insurance, especially in the area of product liability.

—Malpractice insurance for attorneys. Reamon felt lawyers will have increasing insurance premiums, much like physicians, because of an increasing number of suits by people dissatisfied with services.

—Licensing and regulation of lawyers by a state department. Reamon noted there is no such state regulation now, but each time a bill calling for some type of licensing is introduced it picks up more support.

SBA Accepting Loan Bids

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) will be accepting loan applications from owners of small businesses in Berrien, Cass and Van Buren counties who have incurred heavy financial losses as a result of the spring freezes between April 9 and May 20, 1976.

The loans will be available under the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act. Businesses applying for economic injury will be required to submit documentation showing that the extent of economic injury suffered is directly applicable to the adverse weather conditions last spring, according to a spokesman for Fourth District U.S. Congressman Edward Hutchinson (R-St. Joseph).

The loans are primarily for businesses that deal with farmers, and who have had a bad year along with farmers because of the spring freezes. Few farmers are eligible for the SBA but there are exceptions, the spokesman said. Most farmers who suffered severe losses due to the freezes would be eligible for Farmers Home Administration loans at 5 per cent interest.

Funds received from these loans may be used to provide

Economic injury loans may be made for up to 30 years at a 6 1/2 per cent interest rate. Loans may be made until May 19, 1977. Further information may be obtained by writing the SBA Financial Division, 477 Michigan avenue, Detroit, 48226.

Other counties that are also eligible for loans include Allegan, Grand Traverse, Kalamazoo, Lenawee, Manistee, Mason, Oceana and Ottawa.

State Chamber Tells Positions On Ballot Proposals

The boards of directors of Twin Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce are in accord in favoring "Proposal C" to limit state spending and opposing "Proposal D" that would permit a state graduated income tax. Twin Cities Chamber President John P. Banyon said his board took no position on "Proposal A," that would ban throwaway beer and soft drink containers or "Proposal B" to lower the age requirement for state legislators.

However, officials of the State Chamber told an audience of Twin City business people Wednesday that the state board is on record opposing "Proposal A."

the State Chamber board's positions on the four proposals on the Nov. 2 ballot were explained at a meeting at Ramada Inn, south of Benton Harbor, by James Barrett, president of the State Chamber, and Kevin Harty, manager of business and government relations for the State Chamber.

"Proposal A" would outlaw the sale of nonreturnable beverage bottles and cans and require a deposit on remaining beverage cans and bottles. Because most highway litter (59 per cent) is paper, the State Chamber is not persuaded that the law would reduce litter, it was stated. Energy savings will be minimal and skilled jobs will be replaced by lower-paying unskilled jobs, the chamber believes.

The State Chamber has no recommendation on "Proposal B," which would lower the minimum age to 18 for state senators and representatives.

"Proposal C" by tying state spending to the citizens' ability to pay taxes, is favored by the State Chamber. At current rates, state expenditures will rise from the current annual sum of $7 billion to $30 billion by 1988, Barrett said.

Under "Proposal C" however, state taxes and spending can't exceed 8.3 per cent of the personal income that Michigan residents receive. Passage of the proposal will protect personal incomes, the chamber stated. Another feature is that the state must pay for any program it requires on the local level.

"Proposal D" offers a state income tax break through 1977 for people who earn under $20,000. Persons who earn over $20,000 a year comprise about 15 per cent of the state's taxpayers, and these 15 per cent would pay a higher tax to balance the cut to lower-income taxpayers.

Harty said wealthy taxpayers usually collect the least amount of state benefits and, therefore, shouldn't be made to pay higher percentage tax rates.

The State Chamber officials also pointed out that, under the proposal, the legislature could change the break-even figure of

Harty said that the State Chamber, between the end of August and election day, will have given the same slide presentation and talks on the proposals 66 times.

Also speaking at yesterday's breakfast meeting was State Sen. John A. Welborn, a Kalamazoo Republican. He told businessmen to choose state legislature candidates carefully because now "You can't trust the Michigan legislature with your tax dollar."

Welborn said he is a strong supporter of "Proposal C." He added that rather than public service jobs for the unemployed, Michigan needs to work on improving its business climate, through legislation, and allow private business the freedom to expand and create jobs.

GUEST SPEAKER: State Sen. John A. Welborn (left), Kalamazoo Republican, is greeted by John P. Banyon, president of the Twin Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, following Welborn's talk to a group of business people yesterday. At right is James Barrett, 33-year-old president of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce. Welborn said that the solution to Michigan's unemployment problems lies in removing laws and regulations that discourage business expansion. A healthy business climate is badly needed, he said. Ex-Boyfriend Testifies Mrs. Sanders Broke Date

By JOHN FENNELL
Staff Writer

A boyfriend of Janis Sanders testified Wednesday that she stood him up for a date the night she was allegedly murdered because he thought she and Gerald Libertowski may have "gone back together."

The testimony came during the second day of Libertowski's preliminary examination in Berrien Fifth District court on a charge of murder in connection with Mrs. Sanders' disappearance July 21, 1975.

Libertowski has already been acquitted in Indiana on a charge of murdering Janeice Langs, 21, in South Bend, and was extradited to Michigan to face the other murder charge here. Both women had at one time lived with Libertowski, according to testimony here and in Indiana. Both have disappeared and their bodies have never been found.

Kenneth Kline, 30, testified that he had taken out Mrs. Sanders, 24, the day before she disappeared, and had made another date with her for the next night — the night the warrant charges Libertowski murdered her.

Kline told the court that he was supposed to meet Mrs. Sanders for a date when she got off work at Pete's Patio in Niles the night of July 20.

A co-worker testified that Mrs. Sanders instead left the restaurant without him. And during Wednesday's testimony, a dishwasher at the restaurant said he saw Mrs. Sanders in the parking lot talking to Libertowski shortly after both had left the building.

When questioned by District Judge Ronald J. Taylor, Kline said he didn't go out after the two because he thought she had stood him up because, "I figured she had gone back with Jerry."

Mrs. Sanders had moved out of an apartment she and Libertowski shared, against Libertowski's wishes, a witness testified Tuesday.

After Kline left the bar he said he saw Mrs. Sanders' car in the parking lot and looked in to see if she was there. When he saw no one, he drove to her foster parent's home where she was then living, parked outside and waited an hour or longer for her to return. When she didn't come back, Kline said he left and went home.

The dishwasher at the restaurant, Daniel Halthorn, 20, of Buchanan, said he had walked past Mrs. Sanders and Libertowski as they stood in the parking lot outside the building shortly after midnight the same night.

During the afternoon session, a representative of General Motors Acceptance Corporation, where Mrs. Sanders had taken out a car loan, and The First National Bank of Southwestern Michigan, where she had an account, testified that she hadn't made her car payments or touched the money in her checking account.

The GMAC representative said that the company finally repossessed Mrs. Sanders' car after she failed to meet payments in both June and July.

The bank representative said Mrs. Sanders opened an account July 18, the day she moved in with her foster parents, and deposited $140. The account, was down to $33.75 because a stop payment was made on a check given to her by a member of the Libertowski family, according to Judge Taylor.

Attorneys for both sides haggled over a point of law in deciding whether or not to let the officer who first investigated Mrs. Sanders' disappearance testify about a conversation he had with Libertowski when he first interviewed him after the disappearance.

That officer, Thomas

Spaman, of the Niles State Police post, had previously testified that he interviewed Libertowski shortly after the disappearance and searched both Libertowski's truck and his apartment but found nothing.

Judge Taylor said he would give both the prosecution and the defense time to research the law in the matter and would make a decision Thursday.

Migrant Bound Over For Trial

PAW PAW — A Georgia migrant worker was bound over to Van Buren circuit court Wednesday after waiving Seventh district court preliminary examination on a charge of negligent homicide.

Bound over was Emma Lee Evans, 22, Perry, Ga., whom state police at the Paw Paw post said was arrested in connection with the Oct. 1 traffic death of Mrs. Verna Johnson, 63, Vicksburg.

Troopers said Miss Evans was the driver of a pick-up truck which collided with a car driven by Mrs. Johnson's husband, Emil, at CR-681 and Red Arrow highway near Hartford, in which Mrs. Johnson was a passenger.

Police said the pick-up truck allegedly ran a stop sign.

Halloween Help, Funds Are Sought

COLOMA — Adult volunteers and financial donations for the Coloma area Halloween party are needed, according to Mrs. Barbara Carrothers, event chairman.

Mrs. Carrothers said adults interested in assisting or donating funds to the Halloween party slated for Sunday, Oct. 31, may contact her at home at 255 South Paw Paw, or Mrs. Rodney Lynch, Jr., 279 Logan street, both in Coloma. Donations may also be left at the Coloma city hall.

The party is open to all Coloma school area children, ages one to 14, and will be held in Baker park. A snake dance will be held as part of the program.

Assisting in the sponsorship of the party, said Mrs. Carrothers, are the Coloma Downtown Merchants association, the Coloma Jaycees, and the Modern Woodmen of America Insurance Co.

CASE #U-4840, #U-4621

TO THE ELECTRIC CUSTOMERS OF CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY

THE FOLLOWING NOTICE OF HEARING IS GIVEN
PURSUANT TO THE MICHIGAN PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION'S ORDER IN CASES NO. U-4840 AND U-4621 DATED APRIL 12, 1976.

Notice of November 1976 Purchased and Interchange Power Hearing

Monthly hearings will be held before the Michigan Public Service Commission for the purpose of considering authorization to permit Consumers Power Company to reflect in monthly billings to its customers charges or credits for changes in appropriate items of expense associated with purchased and net interchange power from a base cost included in previously approved rate levels.

A public hearing will be held November 12, 1976 at 9:30 AM in the offices of the Commission, 6545 Mercantile Way, Lansing, Michigan to consider inclusion of a proposed purchased and net interchange power adjustment charge of .94 mills per kilowatt-hour to be applied to bills rendered to Consumers Power Company customers in the December 1976 billing period.

The hearing shall be for the purpose of determining the amount of purchased and interchange power expense incurred during the calendar month of September 1976 and the reasons therefor. Details of the calculation of the proposed adjustment will be presented along with a summary of net system kilowatt-hour requirements including details of the various types of purchased and interchange power transactions and circumstances necessitating any outages of installed capacity for a period exceeding ninety (90) days. This information will be available on and after November 1, 1976 for examination and inspection at the offices of the Commission Secretary, 6545 Mercantile Way, Lansing, Michigan 48910, and at the offices of the Executive Director of Rates, Research and Data Control of Consumers Power Company, 212 W. Michigan Avenue, Jackson, Michigan 49201.

The Michigan Public Service Commission may either grant or deny the requested adjustment, in whole or in part, and may grant a lesser or greater adjustment than that requested.

Notice of Hearing on Reconciliation of Net Revenues Received With Net Recoverable Expense Incurred

Also to be taken up at the November 12, 1976 hearing will be a separate and additional determination as to the amount, if any, of a credit to bills rendered Consumers Power Company customers in the December 1976 billing period to offset any excess of revenues collected pursuant to the combined effect of the Fuel Cost Adjustment Clause and the Purchased and Interchange Power Clause during the billing periods April 1976 through September 1976. Information as to the reconciliation of the net revenues received by Consumers Power Company under the two clauses with net recoverable expense change in fuel, purchased power and interchange power from the base costs contained in the two clauses will be available on and after October 18, 1976, for examination and inspection at the offices of the Commission Secretary and the Company's Executive Director of Rates, Research and Data Control at the addresses noted above.

Interested parties may intervene by placing an appearance on the record at the hearing.

Paper Uses New Thin Newsprint

LONDON (AP) — The Times of London was printed Tuesday a lightweight newsprint made in Finland by a process that reduces timber consumption 25 per cent, the newspaper said.

The Times said it is the first major newspaper in the world to use newsprint made from thermomechanical pulp, or tmp. The pulp has longer fibers and therefore greater strength than the usual newsprint because the wood chips are heated by steaming before being ground into pulp, the Times said.

The paper did not say if newsprint made from tmp is any cheaper. But it said United Paper Mills, which pioneered the process, estimates that the amount of wood used for making the world's newsprint "could provide 40 per cent more daily copies of newspapers if the process was widely adopted."

NEWS OF MARKETS

Stocks Mixed At Opening

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed today, continuing the erratic trend of the past couple of sessions.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks slipped a fraction in the early going, while gainers took a 4-3 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

In the economic news, the government reported that its consumer price index rose 0.4 per cent in September, for the equivalent of a 4.8 per cent annual rate.

It was the smallest increase registered by the index in five months.

Today's prices included Westinghouse, down 1/8 at 17; MGIC Investment, up 1/4 at 15, and General Motors, unchanged at 72 1/2.

On Wednesday the Dow Jones industrial average rose 4.90 to 954.87, increasing its gain for the last four sessions to 18.95 points.

Gainers outnumbered losers by about a 4-3 margin on the NYSE, and the exchange's composite index picked up .15 to 54.33.

Big Board volume came to 15.86 million shares.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .29 at 98.85.

Dow Sales Up; Net Income Dips

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP) — Dow Chemical Co. reported Wednesday its sales were up for the nine months and third quarter periods this year, while both net income and earnings per share were down.

The international firm which manufactures chemical and plastic products reported sales for the nine months totaled $4.20 billion, up 16 per cent over the like period of 1975.

For the three-month period, sales were $1.43 billion this year, up 12.3 per cent over the $1.27 billion recorded in the like quarter a year ago.

Net income for the nine months was $464.2 million, down from the $490.3 in the comparable period of 1975. For the three-month period, earnings were $167.3 million down from $215.7 million a year ago.

Per share earnings came to $2.50 in the opening nine months this year, compared to $2.59 a year ago. For the third quarter, earnings were 90 cents down from the record $1.16 per share set in the third quarter a year ago.

G.J. Williams, Dow financial vice president, said, "Business generally remains good, even though sales have plateaued from a surge early in the year."

"We feel cost pressure from increases in energy prices and other raw materials will lessen in the future and that the current moderating pace of the economic recovery increases the likelihood of continued business improvements in 1977 and 1978," Williams said.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Couple In Hole: Should We Sell?

By SAM SHULSKY

Q. — We are about 60, no children, and in a serious bind. Although our $30,000 home is paid for and my husband has a good job, earning about $25,000 a year, we owe notes all over the place, totaling about $20,000, on which we are paying only interest, and $5,000 on our car, which we are paying off. Should we sell our home, get out of debt completely and start all over again in an apartment?

A. — A couple who goes into debt on income of $25,000 needs more than merely a large infusion of cash. It needs to develop a little restraint on spending.

You don't say what your $30,000 home costs you to maintain or what it would cost to rent a suitable apartment. But I'd have to see some pretty exact figures before I'd agree that you could do better in rent than you have fared in your home where most of your annual "rental" costs are being provided by a $30,000 tax-free investment.

If you netted enough (after selling costs and capital gains taxes) to wipe out all your debts, can you come up with any reasonable figures to show that you will then be able to rent and live within your income?

I agree you need tough treatment, but in today's rental market, a $30,000 home does not generally represent expensive "rent." You'd have to obtain an apartment at a "bargain" to make financial progress and I get the impression you are not prepared to stint on living accommodations.

If you want to talk "tough," I would suggest your husband have a $100 E bond (cost, $75) taken out of his pay every week and use that at year-end to reduce debts. It would appear to me that you ought to have money taken out of the pay envelope before you get it.

Q. — We are about 70 and retired on Social Security, plus income from four large blocks of stock: Commonwealth Edison, Caterpillar Tractor, American Telephone and Telegraph, and Western Union.

Should we make any changes? We are getting along nicely now.

A. — Two of the stocks were "made" for your needs — Commonwealth Edison rated A and with an unbroken dividend record going back 86 years; and A.T.&T. rated A plus with an unbroken dividend record going back to 1881. Both are generous payers, too.

Caterpillar is rated A minus, which is high, and has a 62-year dividend record, but the yield at present market is only around 2.7 per cent — which is not retirement level income. Addressograph is rated only B minus and has not paid a dividend in more than two years. So your money there is now bringing you only hope of market recovery.

The savings certificates insured by FSILC are O.K.

Q. — I have a profit on a mutual fund investment. I'd like to cash it in. Would it be best to do so over a period of years, so as to reduce the tax on the capital gain? Should I put the money into deposit certificates which, from what I am told, will double my investment in nine years? I am 54, still working.

A. — Obviously if you spread the taking of a gain over more than one year you won't get up into as high a tax bracket as though you had taken it all in one year.

That having been said, I have some questions of my own:

1) Are you adding all reinvested dividends and capital gains to your original investment to get your true tax cost? It is not enough merely to compare original cash invested with today's asset price.

2) If you are 54, still working, why have you decided to give up a growth fund which, you say, has shown you a profit?

3) Any 8 per cent investment will double your money in nine years — IF you pay the annual income taxes out of some other pocket.

Hudson To Build Five New Stores

DETROIT (AP) — The J.L. Hudson Co. will build five more stores in Michigan by 1981, according to the president of the Dayton Hudson Corp., the parent firm.

William Andres said Wednesday that two of the new stores would be located in shopping malls around metropolitan Detroit. Of the remaining three new stores, Andres said two would be located outside at undisclosed sites.

Total spending for expansion in the 1977-81 period will reach $50 million, Andres said at the firm's headquarters in Minneapolis.

"We expect to add 19 department stores, 41 low-margin stores and 339 specialty stores for an increase of more than seven million square feet of retail space by the end of 1981," Andres said.

The corporation currently has 17.7 million square feet of retail space.

A spokesman said that more than 300 of the 339 specialty stores would be B. Dalton Bookstores.

Smaller Business Fighting Decline

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — You figure it out if you can: If there is so much support for small and medium-size business in the United States, why does it weaken in relation to big business and big government?

Fifteen years ago one of every four persons in the civilian labor force worked for government or for one of the 500 largest industrial concerns. Now it is close to one of three.

You can measure the trend in other ways too. The National Small Business Association estimates that in 1960 small and medium-size businesses accounted for 50 per cent of assets and 41 per cent of profits. In 1972 the numbers had fallen to 30 per cent and 20 per cent respectively.

Authorities of various persuasions agree that small and medium-size business is often the most responsive to the community's needs, the most innovative, the most vigorous, the most expressive of the nation's vitality.

So why?

"A whole lot of this is the fault of small business," concedes Milton Stewart, president of the association. In the past, he says, small business permitted the parties and the candidates to provide mere lip support.

Meanwhile, he continues, "mistaken federal tax, spending, regulatory and other policies" permitted the very largest corporations, unions and government to grow at the expense of the "independent sector."

Now the association is checking up on the candidates. Already it has obtained written statements supporting independent business from both President Ford and his Democratic opponent, Jimmy Carter. Carter even promised to establish yardsticks to measure growth.

The association has established eight issues which it believes are important to the survival and growth of independent business, the most vital of which is to halt the big business-big government trend.

"For small business, the ultimate measurable tests of the success of the next administration and the 95th and 96th Congress will be whether the independent sector ... outgrows government and big business ... it states."

All candidates for the Senate and House were asked their opinion. Forty Senate candidates and 450 House aspirants responded. No less than 94 per cent expressed some degree of agreement.

Some 91.6 per cent agreed that "if catchup growth is to be achieved by the independent sector, it must be given as high a priority in national economic policy as all other major economic goals."

A system of tax credits and job training incentives, keyed to small companies, won support of 89.5 per cent of the respondents, who were told that if government is to be viewed as the employer of last resort, "small business should be viewed as the employer of next-to-last resort."

Seventy-nine per cent of respondents agreed with the view that income, capital gains, estate and gift taxes, along with the investment tax credit and depreciation allowances, should be graduated.

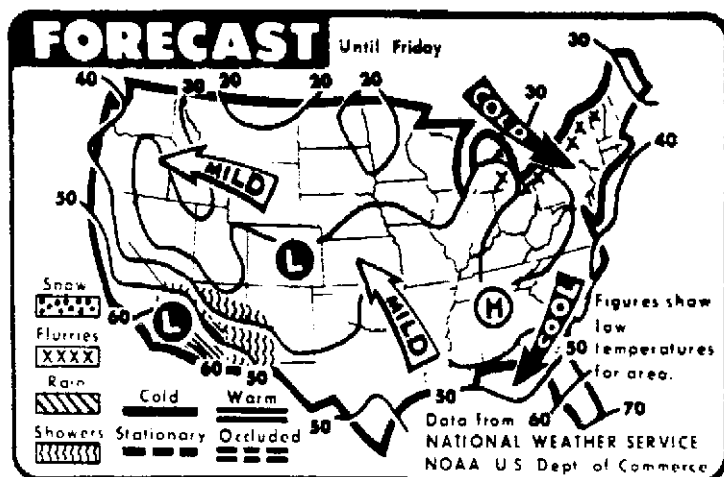

All responses to the issues showed approval by 79 per cent to 94 per cent of respondents. The weakest agreement, 58.3 per cent, came in response to a federal anti-concentration stand that, among other things, would preclude any growth by acquisition of companies with assets of $1 billion or more.

The association, made up mainly of manufacturers and distributors, describes as small or independent almost any concern not included in the 1,000 largest industrial concerns or the 300 largest finance and service companies.

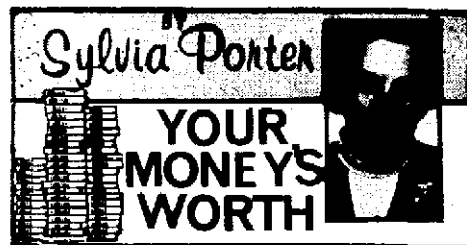

Said Stewart: "While we realize that the responses demonstrate different intensities and levels of support, what is impressive is the long-term durability of grass roots commitment to small business."

He said, "It shows a real determination to have small business recoup the ground it has lost in the past to government and big business."

But the puzzle remains. Assuming that much of that belief, much of the support for small business, existed in prior years, why was so much ground lost?

ALIMONY, DIVORCED PARENTS

If you are divorced and paying alimony, a change made by the '76 Tax Reform Act may cut your taxes on your '77 return. Technically, the change makes alimony a deduction in arriving at your adjusted gross income instead of an itemized deduction that you deduct from your adjusted gross income.

Practically, this means you can now deduct your alimony payments in addition to taking the standard deduction. With the higher standard deductions available on your '76 & '77 return, the result can be a major saving if you can benefit from using the standard deduction. But if in any case you would itemize your other deductions (because they top even the new standard deductions) you will get little or no tax benefit from this new tax treatment of alimony.

As an illustration of how the change could benefit you on your '77 return, say you are divorced, will earn $25,000 in '77 and pay your former wife $5,000 a year in alimony. Your itemized deductions for interest, taxes, etc., add up to $1,200 a year. On your '76 return, you would have taken itemized deductions for the $5,000 of alimony plus the other $1,200 of itemized deductions.

Dow Sales Up; Net Income Dips

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP) — Dow Chemical Co. reported Wednesday its sales were up for the nine months and third quarter periods this year, while both net income and earnings per share were down.

The international firm which manufactures chemical and plastic products reported sales for the nine months totaled $4.20 billion, up 16 per cent over the like period of 1975.

For the three-month period, sales were $1.43 billion this year, up 12.3 per cent over the $1.27 billion recorded in the like quarter a year ago.

Net income for the nine months was $464.2 million, down from the $480.5 in the comparable period of 1975. For the three-month period, earnings were $167.3 million down from $215.7 million a year ago.

Per share earnings came to $2.50 in the opening nine months this year, compared to $2.59 a year ago. For the third quarter, earnings were 90 cents down from the record $1.16 per share set in the third quarter a year ago.

G.J. Williams, Dow financial vice president, said, "Business generally remains good, even though sales have plateaued from a surge early in the year."

"We feel cost pressure from increases in energy prices and other raw materials will lessen in the future and that the current moderating pace of the economic recovery increases the likelihood of continued business improvements in 1977 and 1978," Williams said.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Couple In Hole: Should We Sell?

By SAM SHULSKY
Q. — We are about 60, no children, and in a serious bind. Although our $30,000 home is paid for and my husband has a good job, earning about $25,000 a year, we owe notes all over the place, totaling about $20,000, on which we are paying only interest, and $6,000 for our car, which we are paying off. Should we sell our home, get out of debt completely and start all over again in an apartment?

A. — A couple who goes into debt on income of $25,000 needs more than merely a large infusion of cash. It needs to develop a little restraint on spending.

You don't say what your $30,000 home costs you to maintain or what it would cost to rent a suitable apartment. But I'd have to see some pretty exact figures before I'd agree that you could do better in rent than you have fared in your home where most of your annual "rental" costs are being provided by a $30,000 tax-free investment.

If you netted enough (after selling costs and capital gains taxes) to wipe out all your debts, can you come up with any reasonable figures to show that you will then be able to rent and live within your income?

I agree you need tough treatment, but in today's rental market, a $30,000 home does not generally represent expensive "rent." You'd have to obtain an apartment at a "bargain" to make financial progress and I get the impression you are not prepared to stint on living accommodations.

If you want to talk "tough," I would suggest your husband have a $100 E bond (cost, $75) taken out of his pay every week and use that at year-end to reduce debts. It would appear to me that you ought to have money taken out of the pay envelope before you get it.

Q. — We are about 70 and retired on Social Security, plus income from four large blocks of stock: Commonwealth Edison, Caterpillar Tractor, American Telephone and Addressograph-Multigraph, plus interest from money in 6 1/2 per cent savings and loan certificates. Should we make any changes? We are getting along nicely now.

A. — Two of the stocks were "made" for your needs — Commonwealth Edison rated A and with an unbroken dividend record going back 86 years; and A.T.&T., rated A plus with an unbroken dividend record going back to 1881. Both are generous payers, too.

Caterpillar is rated A minus, which is high, and has a 62-year dividend record, but the yield at present market is only around 2.7 per cent — which is not retirement level income. Addressograph is rated only B minus and has not paid a dividend in more than two years. So your money there is now bringing you only hope of market recovery.

The savings certificates insured by FSLIC are O.K.

Q. — I have a profit on a mutual fund investment. I'd like to cash it in. Would it be best to do so over a period of years, so as to reduce the tax on the capital gain? Should I put the money into deposit certificates which, from what I am told, will double my investment in nine years? I am 54, still working.

A. — Obviously if you spread the taking of a gain over more than one year you won't get up into as high a tax bracket as though you had taken it all in one year.

That having been said, I have some questions of my own:

1) Are you adding all reinvested dividends and capital gains to your original investment to get your true tax cost? It is not enough merely to compare original cash invested with today's asset price.

2) If you are 54, still working, why have you decided to give up a growth fund which, you say, has shown you a profit?

3) Any 8 per cent investment will double your money in nine years — IF you pay the annual income taxes out of some other pocket.

Hudson To Build Five New Stores

DETROIT (AP) — The J.L. Hudson Co. will build five new stores in Michigan by 1981, according to the president of the Dayton Hudson Corp., the parent firm.

William Andres said Wednesday that two of the new stores would be located in shopping malls around metropolitan Detroit. Of the remaining three new stores, Andres said two would be located outstate at undisclosed sites.

Total spending for expansion in the 1977-81 period will reach $600 million, Andres said at the firm's headquarters in Minneapolis.

"We expect to add 19 department stores, 41 low-margin stores and 339 specialty stores for an increase of more than seven million square feet of retail space by the end of 1981," Andres said.

The corporation currently has 17.7 million square feet of retail space.

A spokesman said that more than 300 of the 339 specialty stores would be B. Dalton Bookstores.

Smaller Business Fighting Decline

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — You figure it out if you can: If there is so much support for small and medium-size business in the United States, why does it weaken in relation to big business and big government?

Fifteen years ago one of every four persons in the civilian labor force worked for government or for one of the 500 largest industrial concerns. Now it is close to one of three.

You can measure the trend in other ways too. The National Small Business Association comments that in 1960 small and medium-size businesses accounted for 50 per cent of assets and 41 per cent of profits. In 1972 the numbers had fallen to 30 per cent and 20 per cent respectively.

Authorities of various persuasions agree that small and medium-size business is often the most responsive to the community's needs, the most innovative, the most vigorous, the most expressive of the nation's vitality.

So why? "A whole lot of this is the fault of small business," concedes Milton Stewart, president of the association. In the past, he says, small business permitted the parties and the candidates to provide mere lip support.

Now the association is checking up on the candidates. Already it has obtained written statements supporting independent business from both President Ford and his Democratic opponent, Jimmy Carter. Carter even promised to establish yardsticks to measure growth.

The association has established eight issues which it believes are important to the survival and growth of independent business, the most vital of which is to halt the big business-big government trend.

"For small business, the ultimate measurable tests of the success of the next administration and the 95th and 96th Congress will be whether the independent sector... outgrows government and big business..." it states.

All candidates for the Senate and House were asked their opinion. Forty Senate candidates and 450 House aspirants responded. No less than 94 per cent expressed some degree of agreement.

Some 91.6 per cent agreed that "if catchup growth is to be achieved by the independent sector, it must be given as high a priority in national economic policy as all other major economic goals."

A system of tax credits and job training incentives, keyed to small companies, won support of 89.5 per cent of the respondents, who were told that if government is to be viewed as the employer of last resort, "small business should be viewed as the employer of next-to-last resort."

Seventy-nine per cent of respondents agreed with the view that income, capital gains, estate and gift taxes, along with the investment tax credit and depreciation allowances, should be graduated.

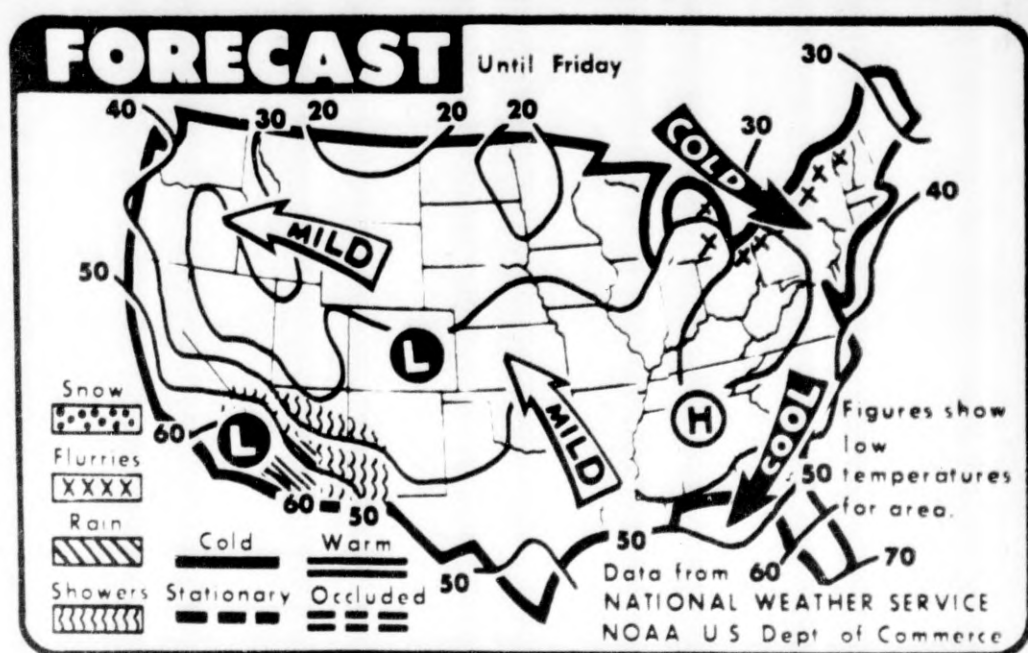

All responses to the issues showed approval by 79 per cent to 94 per cent of respondents. The weakest agreement, 58.3 per cent, came in response to a federal anti-concentration stand that, among other things, would preclude any growth by acquisition of companies with assets of $1 billion or more.

The association, made up mainly of manufacturers and distributors, describes as small or independent almost any concern not included in the 1,000 largest industrial concerns or the 300 largest finance and service companies.

Said Stewart: "While we realize that the responses demonstrate different intensities and levels of support, what is impressive is the long-term durability of grass roots commitment to small business."

He said, "It shows a real determination to have small business recoup the ground it has lost in the past to government and big business."

But the puzzle remains. Assuming that much of that belief, much of the support for small business, existed in prior years, why was so much ground lost?

Sawyer Man Is Bound Over

Ronald C. Oldenburg, 26, Brownstown road, Sawyer was bound over to Berrien Circuit court Wednesday on a charge of negligent homicide resulting from the death Sept. 6 of Michael Morrisett.

Oldenburg is accused as the driver of a car which collided with an auto in which Morrisett was riding on Red Arrow highway, Lincoln township, Morrisett, 29, of 1102 Flanders place, St. Joseph, died two hours after the crash.

Oldenburg continued free on $2,500 personal recognizance bond.

In other proceedings in Berrien Fifth District court, two men charged with breaking into a Benton Harbor tavern demanded examinations.

Jailed in lieu of bonds were James L. Moore, 25, of 415 Washington street, Benton Harbor, and James L. Smith, 24, of 300 Brunson avenue, Benton Harbor. Both were allegedly found inside the Office Lounge, 205 Territorial road, after hours. Moore's bond was set at $2,500. Smith's at $1,500.

Flu Shot Clinics Closed

DETROIT (AP) — Health officials on Wednesday closed two Detroit swine flu immunization clinics because there weren't enough medical personnel to operate them. But officials said attendance had improved at the city's 22 other clinics, which remained open. "It looks like things are picking up now," said Russ Charter, coordinator of the swine flu program for the Detroit Health Department. "We've got more people coming in today and we've handed out 6,000 doses to private physicians." The Michigan Department of Public Health reported Wednesday a statewide increase in attendance at immunization clinics. The number of people getting the vaccinations had fallen slightly Monday and Tuesday, Charter said although the two Detroit clinics were closed because of a shortage of personnel, the Red Cross was finding more volunteers.

FOP Loses Its Bid To Halt Pension Vote

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Cass Circuit Judge James Hoff Wednesday denied the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 96 in St. Joseph a restraining order which sought to stop a pension election in Berrien county.

County employees yesterday and today were balloting on two proposals which would amend Berrien's pension plan dealing with benefits. The FOP, which represents some members of the Berrien sheriff's department, claimed the election would have a "chilling effect on pending negotiations" between sheriff's department employees and the county.

However, St. Joseph Atty. John Dewane, representing the FOP, said he intends to file a charge of "unfair labor practices on the part of the Berrien board of commissioners" with the Michigan Employment Relations commission. He said the FOP still wants a hearing before Hoff on the FOP application for a preliminary injunction to prohibit any changes in the pension plan affecting employees represented by the FOP as bargaining agent.

Dewane told The Herald-Palladium the FOP wants to stop any pension changes until the FOP has a chance to negotiate with the county or the MERC has a chance to rule on the matter.

The hearing on the temporary restraining order request was heard by Hoff because all three of Berrien's circuit judges disqualified themselves from hearing the matter. Dewane said Hoff denied the request in chambers and since no record of the meeting was made, no reasons for the denial were given.

Although the contract between the county and members of the sheriff's department represented by the FOP expires at the end of this year, Dewane said no bargaining has yet taken place. He said the FOP requested dates for bargaining but received no reply from the county.

The election was to determine which of two proposals would be used to amend the pension plan, according to ballots prepared by the county's pension board.

One proposal would maintain the present benefit formula with an increase in employee contributions from three to four per cent of annual earnings. It says the benefit formula would then continue to be 1 1/2 per cent of an employee's average monthly earnings times the number of years of credited service.

The other proposal would reduce the benefit formula with no increase in employee contributions. The ballot says the benefit formula would then be the product of average monthly earnings times the sum of 1 1/2 per cent for each year of service through 1976 plus 1 1/3 per cent for each year of service after 1976.

Pension Board Chairman George Westfield, in a letter to county employees, noted an election was held last January to determine how the pension plan should be amended. A new formula was adopted, but it was later found to have "adverse impact" on certain categories of employees, and the two new proposals were drawn up and submitted to employees for a vote.

The suit seeking the restraining order notes the FOP in September notified the county it wanted to modify the terms of the collective bargaining agreement, but neither the pension board nor county board of commissioners met with FOP representatives to discuss the changes.

The suit charges that the pension board's attempt to change the pension plan as it affects sheriff's department employees represented by the FOP "constitutes an unlawful labor practice (because it) interferes with, restrains, and coerces public employees in the exercise of their rights and constitutes a refusal to bargain collectively."

The ballot is also coercive, the suit says, because it only presents two proposals, but does not present an opportunity to vote for no change at all.

The suit maintains that if the election results were implemented, employees represented by the FOP would sustain "irreparable harm" and there would be a disruption of good faith bargaining between the FOP and county.

The suit also seeks damages for the FOP's attorneys' fees and costs.

Murder Suspect Free On $10,000 Bond

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

CASSOPOLIS — An Edwardsburg man wanted in Virginia in connection with an alleged murder for hire scheme has been released after posting a $10,000 bond here.

Fourth District Court Judge Steg Lignell set the bond Tuesday for William Morris, 50, Edwardsburg, during an appearance on a fugitive warrant stating he was wanted in Virginia on a first degree murder charge. He is scheduled to return to court on Nov. 18.

Morris was arrested at his home early Tuesday morning after he was indicted Monday by a Wise county, Va., grand jury on the murder charge.

Joseph Kuczek, commonwealth attorney for Wise county, said yesterday he will attempt to extradite Morris to Virginia to face the charge.

Kuczek said Tuesday that Morris was one of three people indicted in connection with the Feb. 4, 1969 slaying of a man in Coeburn, Va., in Wise county. He described the shooting death of Charles Stout as a murder by hire.

Kuczek said earlier that the indictments alleged that Collins paid Morris $25,000 to murder Stout. He said that Collins collected $200,000 from an insurance policy the two partners had taken out on each other. The woman is alleged to have been present during the shooting of Stout, Kuczek said.

A third person indicted, Betty Lou Ramsey, who, according to Kuczek, is described as a girlfriend of Morris, is serving time in a Florida women's prison on an unrelated charge. Kuczek said he also planned to initiate proceedings to bring the woman to his state to face a first degree murder charge.

recently the site of an extreme question of priorities. Bolivia just experienced what officials said was the worst aviation disaster in Bolivia's history. Over 100 people were killed and many more injured or "hovering between life and death." This was not even reported until page 14, and even then it shared equal column space with the pictures and by-lines of two local High School homecoming queen candidates.

One really begins to question our communities' introversion when one sees this emphatic display of news (and not the first of it's degree noted, just the epitome). Do we place more importance on seeing our Jamie or Jimmy in the paper than we do on remaining cognizant of the state of affairs in the world around us? Has Toffler's "Future Shock" really hit our Twin Cities area in the form of a narrowing, shallowing of our minds and interests?

I appreciate a need for area highlights as a timely communication of news; however, I truly question the intensity of these in The Herald-Palladium and the degree to which they cause the exclusion of more relevant, enriching news accounts and stories.

UNFAIR TO SINGLE OUT BH

Editor,

I write to say that I for one have been astonished by Rep. Mittan's statement "and I don't know that I'd astonish anyone by saying there aren't too many people who want to go anywhere at night in Benton Harbor."

On October 22, 1975, I, along with several hundred women and men from Berrien and neighboring counties met at the Benton Harbor Public Library to hear Margaret Sloan speak.

Your newspaper reported no attacks to life or property associated with that meeting. On July 21, 1978, I attended a Berrien County Action meeting on Pinestone street again without incident. Throughout the year, I have attended meetings in the Fairplain area.

Last Friday, in Galien, a Berrien Springs football fan was beaten severely enough to be taken to the hospital. To say that people are afraid to be out at night might be accurate, but in single out Benton Harbor is unfair.

The debate which has been alluded to was proposed by the Berrien County NOW (National Organization for Women) to hear the candidates' viewpoints on women's issues. The questions had been prepared in advance and were to be given to the candidates before the meeting. An alternate meeting place was available and could have been used if Rep. Mittan had asked to relocate the debate.

Editor,

Young folks, you are the ones who can save our city. Save it and restore it to that well conceived objective of our forefathers, a nation steeped in the practice of profound democratic principles. The problems of poverty, drugs and crimes, poor housing, exploitive technology and a deteriorating environment are but the surface indications of a deeper problem — a lack of awareness. People must become more aware of human needs, the effects of technology on human life and the factors that determine individual and group behavior.

Parents, see that your children are in Sunday school and church every Sunday. Don't be afraid of your children. God said that shall teach them diligently and shall talk to them when they sit in thine house and when thou walkest by the way and when thou liest down and when thou risest up. Tell your children about God.

Deuteronomy 6, Chapter 17 verse, God talking. You will see your children will use their mouths to praise God instead of using nasty, bad language as I hear them using when passing, going back and forth to school. "Ye shall not be afraid of your children for the judgment is God's and the cause that is too hard for you, bring it unto me and I will hear it." One Deuteronomy, 17th verse, God still speaking.

We know that the IX 10 and the 747 have brought literally millions of new souls into our doorstep; but are we aware that we must enlarge our hearts to take them in? We glory in the fact that we have mastered the art of refrigeration so that food stuffs can be preserved for indeterminate periods, but are we aware that we must enlarge our hearts to take them in? We glory in the fact that we have mastered the

But are we aware that we have not been successful in cooling the angry passions of men's hearts? Must we continue to add to that surreptitious anti-social growth upon our culture called the ghetto or can government in truth become responsive to the real needs of the people? What we do know is you are tomorrow's government. You are the ones who are the possessors of awareness. You are the ones who can yet save our city.

HIS LANCERS ON THIRD PAGE

Editor,

I am writing this letter in hopes that it will be printed. A lot of students and faculty members at Lakeshore High are wondering why the "relatively big" sports at our school are not worth putting on the front page of your sports section, but on the third page. Since we do not have a local paper furnished to us everyday we consider The Herald-Palladium "our local paper," thus I think that our community is as much a part of your district as St. Joe or B.H.

The Lancers football team has as good a record (3-1 conference, 4-2 overall) as the S.J. Bears and a better record than the B.H. Tigers, but we haven't had a front page story done on us except for when the Bears defeated us. Three weeks ago the Lancers football team bounced back and defeated Dowagiac by 16 points, yet you failed to do a front page story on us. Why?

Two weeks ago the Lancers recorded their second straight win. The article was on the third page. Why?

This past weekend the Lancers defeated River Valley by 34 points. Again, the story was on the third page. Why?

Two weeks ago St. Joe was beaten by Loy Norris. The next day's paper had that story on the front page. Yet, even though the Lancers had won their second straight, the story was on the third page. Why?

Sirs, need I list any more examples?

I do not intend to offend anyone, but I feel, as do others, that these points must be brought up.

Thank you for your time.

Sawyer Man Is Bound Over

Ronald C. Oldenburg, 26, Brownstown road, Sawyer was bound over to Berrien Circuit court Wednesday on a charge of negligent homicide resulting from the death Sept. 6 of Michael Morrisett.

Oldenburg is accused as the driver of a car which collided with an auto in which Morrisett was riding on Red Arrow highway, Lincoln township, Morrisett, 20, of 1102 Flanders place, St. Joseph, died two hours after the crash.

Oldenburg continued free on $2,500 personal recognizance bond.

In other proceedings in Berrien Fifth District court, two men charged with breaking into a Benton Harbor tavern demanded examinations.

Jailed in lieu of bonds were James L. Moore, 25, of 415 Washington street, Benton Harbor, and James L. Smith, 24, of 300 Brunson avenue, Benton Harbor. Both were allegedly found inside the Office Lounge, 205 Territorial road, after hours. Moore's bond was set at $2,500. Smith's at $1,500.

Also demanding examinations were:

Frederick R. Coffey, 21, of 797 Ogden avenue, Benton Harbor, on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property, a car, Oct. 19 in Benton township. Bond was set at $2,500.

Flu Shot Clinics Closed

DETROIT (AP) — Health officials on Wednesday closed two Detroit swine flu immunization clinics because there weren't enough medical personnel to operate them. But officials said attendance had improved at the city's 22 other clinics, which remained open. "It looks like things are picking up now," said Russ Charter, coordinator of the swine flu program for the Detroit Health Department. "We've got more people coming in today and we've handed out 6,000 doses to private physicians." The Michigan Department of Public Health reported Wednesday a statewide increase in attendance at immunization clinics. The number of people getting the vaccinations had fallen slightly Monday and Tuesday. Charter said although the two Detroit clinics were closed because of a shortage of personnel, the Red Cross was finding more volunteers.

FOP Loses Its Bid To Halt Pension Vote

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Cass Circuit Judge James Hoff Wednesday denied the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 96 in St. Joseph a restraining order which sought to stop a pension election in Berrien county.

County employees yesterday and today were balloting on two proposals which would amend Berrien's pension plan dealing with benefits. The FOP, which represents some members of the Berrien sheriff's department, claimed the election would have a "chilling effect on pending negotiations" between sheriff's department employees and the county.

However, St. Joseph Atty. John Dewane, representing the FOP, said he intends to file a charge of "unfair labor practices on the part of the Berrien board of commissioners" with the Michigan Employment Relations commission. He said the FOP still wants a hearing before Hoff on the FOP application for a preliminary injunction to prohibit any changes in the pension plan affecting employees represented by the FOP as bargaining agent.

Dewane told The Herald-Palladium the FOP wants to stop any pension changes until the FOP has a chance to negotiate with the county or the MERC has a chance to rule on the matter.

The hearing on the temporary restraining order request was heard by Hoff because all three of Berrien's circuit judges disqualified themselves from hearing the matter. Dewane said Hoff denied the request in chambers and since no record of the meeting was made, no reasons for the denial were given.

Although the contract between the county and members of the sheriff's department represented by the FOP expires at the end of this year, Dewane said no bargaining has yet taken place. He said the FOP requested dates for bargaining but received no reply from the county.

The election was to determine which of two proposals would be used to amend the pension plan, according to ballots prepared by the county's pension board.

One proposal would maintain the present benefit formula with an increase in employee contributions from three to four per cent of annual earnings. It says the benefit formula would then continue to be 1 1/2 per cent of an employee's average monthly earnings times the number of years of credited service.

The other proposal would reduce the benefit formula with no increase in employee contributions. The ballot says the benefit formula would then be the product of average monthly earnings times the sum of 1 1/2 per cent for each year of service through 1976 plus 1 1/3 per cent for each year of service after 1976.

Pension Board Chairman George Westfield, in a letter to county employees, noted an election was held last January to determine how the pension plan should be amended. A new formula was adopted, but it was later found to have "adverse impact" on certain categories of employees, and the two new proposals were drawn up and submitted to employees for a vote.

The suit seeking the restraining order notes the FOP in September notified the county it wanted to modify the terms of the collective bargaining agreement, but neither the pension board nor county board of commissioners met with FOP representatives to discuss the changes.

The suit charges that the pension board's attempt to change the pension plan as it affects sheriff's department employees represented by the FOP "constitutes an unlawful labor practice (because it) interferes with, restrains, and coerces public employees in the exercise of their rights and constitutes a refusal to bargain collectively."

The ballot is also coercive, the suit says, because it only presents two proposals, but does not present an opportunity to vote for no change at all.

The suit maintains that if the election results were implemented, employees represented by the FOP would sustain "irreparable harm" and there would be a disruption of good faith bargaining between the FOP and county.

Murder Suspect Free On $10,000 Bond

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

CASSOPOLIS — An Edwardsburg man wanted in Virginia in connection with an alleged murder for hire scheme has been released after posting a $10,000 bond here.

Fourth District Court Judge Steg Lignell set the bond Tuesday for William Morris, 50, Edwardsburg, during an appearance on a fugitive warrant stating he was wanted in Virginia on a first degree murder charge. He is scheduled to return to court on Nov. 18.

Morris was arrested at his home early Tuesday morning after he was indicted Monday by a Wise county, Va., grand jury on the murder charge.

Joseph Kuczek, commonwealth attorney for Wise county, said yesterday he will attempt to extradite Morris to Virginia to face the charge.

Kuczek said Tuesday that Morris was one of three people indicted in connection with the Feb. 4, 1969 slaying of a man in Coeburn, Va., in Wise county. He described the shooting death of Charles Stout as a murder by hire.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Maintenance Man Brings In Suspect

St. Joseph police said a maintenance man apprehended one of two young men he allegedly saw running from a concession stand at St. Joseph high school's Dickinson stadium early today.

Coloman's Car Hit By Train

SOUTH HAVEN — Patricia Mielke, 27, route 3, Coloma, escaped injury yesterday when her car was struck by a Chesapeake and Ohio freight train at the Aylworth avenue crossing, according to city police.

Police said Mrs. Mielke was eastbound on Aylworth avenue at 2:45 p.m. when the car was struck in the left rear by a four-car train. The engineer was identified as Cecil Wycoff of St. Joseph.

No tickets were issued, police said.

Berrien Theft Is Reported

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Sylvester Oles, 138 Timber lane, Berrien Springs, told police here yesterday evening that items valued in excess of $560 were taken from his home.

Berrien Springs village-Oronoko township police said the house was entered through an apparently unlocked garage door. Items reported missing included a calculator, tape player, a suitcase and a variety of tools.

Police said Larry Kendall, 25, route 2, Berrien Springs, brought a young man to the police station shortly before 1 a.m. Donald Pietz, 18, of 2708 Lake Shore drive, St. Joseph, was arrested and booked on a charge of breaking and entering, police reported.

Kendall told police he stopped at the stadium to do some work, saw the concession stand door open and heard voices inside. He said he chased two who ran, caught one and the other escaped on foot.

Two thefts reported Wednesday to Benton Harbor police were:

—A CB radio and stereo set, all valued at $210, from the car of Alvin R. Damaske, 1021 Harrison avenue, St. Joseph, parked in the 200 block of Michigan avenue.

—A radio and fishing rod and reel, all valued at $110, from the car of Aaron Belcher, 177 Crystal avenue, Benton township, parked in the 200 block of South Fair avenue.

Berrien sheriff's deputies said St. Joseph dentist John L. Porritt, 43, of 4439 Woodridge way, Royalton township, was injured Wednesday night when his car ran off US 31-33 in Berrien township.

Dr. Porritt was released after treatment for a head cut at Memorial hospital, St. Joseph. Deputy Dan Gustafson reported the car went off the road north of Dean's Hill road about 10:30 p.m., struck one tree then slammed broadside into another tree. Gustafson said Dr. Porritt was ticketed on charge of reckless driving.

recently the site of an extreme question of priorities. Bolivia just experienced what officials said was the worst aviation disaster in Bolivia's history. Over 100 people were killed and many more injured or "hovering between life and death." This was not even reported until page 14, and even then it shared equal column space with the pictures and by-lines of two local High School homecoming queen candidates!

One really begins to question our communities' introversion when one sees this emphatic display of news (and not the first of it's degree noted, just the epitome). Do we place more importance on seeing our Janie or Jimmy in the paper than we do on remaining cognizant of the state of affairs in the world around us? Has Toffler's "Future Shock" really hit our Twin Cities area in the form of a narrowing, shallowing of our minds and interests?

I appreciate a need for area highlights as a timely communication of news; however, I truly question the intensity of these in The Herald-Palladium and the degree to which they cause the exclusion of more relevant, enriching news accounts and stories.

UNFAIR TO SINGLE OUT BH

Editor,

I write to say that I for one have been astonished by Rep. Mittan's statement "and I don't know that I'd astonish anyone by saying there aren't too many people who want to go anywhere at night in Benton Harbor."

On October 22, 1975, I, along with several hundred women and men from Berrien and neighboring counties met at the Benton Harbor Public Library to hear Margaret Sloan speak.

Your newspaper reported no attacks to life or property associated with that meeting. On July 21, 1976, I attended a Berrien County Action meeting on Pipestone street again without incident. Throughout the year, I have attended meetings in the Fairplain area.

Last Friday, in Galien, a Berrien Springs football fan was beaten severely enough to be taken to the hospital. To say that people are afraid to be out at night might be accurate, but to single out Benton Harbor is unfair.

The debate which has been alluded to was proposed by the Berrien County NOW (National Organization for Women) to hear the candidates' viewpoints on women's issues. The questions had been prepared in advance and were to be given to the candidates before the meeting. An alternate meeting place was available and could have been used if Rep. Mittan had asked to relocate the debate.

SAYS CAMPAIGN NEWS SUPERFICIAL
Editor,

Thomas Jefferson believed that the surest safeguard of democracy was an informed electorate. The press has traditionally performed this venerable function of educating the populace. However, during most of the 1976 presidential campaign, the news media has exhibited a gross disregard for, or a fundamental misunderstanding of, this responsibility to the American public. With less than three weeks remaining before the voters are called upon to intelligently elect their next president, the trivial and transient events, rather than the substantive issues, engage our nation's editors and broadcasters.

Those who control the airwaves and printing presses of this country frequently take refuge in the notion that the responsibility of the press is merely to report the news accurately and objectively. Therefore, they argue, any allusion to the campaign's inane level of discourse should not be directed at them, but rather at the candidates and their advisors.

The appeal of this argument lies in its superficiality, not in its logic. For the news media to accept the proposition that theirs is the role of a passive agent — an unwitting conduit — in the communication process is, at best, a distortion of reality. Journalism today is as extensively involved in the creation of news and issues as it is in the reporting of them. The decision to devote space in a newspaper or time over the airwaves to a particular issue is, by its very nature, an editorial function. It would, therefore, be naive for us to assume, and self-deceiving for the journalist to suggest, that the news media does not share responsibility with the candidates for the quality of information upon which the electorate will base its decisions. Thus, it is reasonable for the American public to hold the news media accountable for those decisions which place trivialities and personalities on the front page and in the evening newscast day after day, week after week.

Finally, it should be cautioned that what is suggested here is not censorship of the press or further regulation of the broadcast industry. Rather, the media as a whole must recognize its dual role as reporter and creator of news and issues. In accepting their responsibility for the creation of an informed electorate, the nation's editors and broadcasters should then be in a position to force the candidates into a meaningful dialogue on the many truly important questions facing our nation today.

SAYS PROPOSAL C ANOTHER BAD BILL
Editor,

I predict that by the year 2,000, Americans will have laws telling them when to eat, when to sleep, where to go, etc. I say this in reference to the proposal on the November ballot to have a deposit on all pop and beer containers. I feel this is another example of government intervention of a problem that can be better solved without another law.

I do buy non-returnable containers. They are easy to handle and always go in the garbage when they are empty. Now I'm being told I should pay a deposit on them. Supporters of this proposal say it will cut down on litter, but how will it when I never litter in the first place!

Don't pass another law to reduce litter, rather enforce the existing laws and fine those careless litterbugs.

Half Of New TV Shows Facing Early Extinction

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After a month's ratings and taking into account schedule disruptions for political debates and baseball, it appears that half the 20 new weekly series this season face extinction.

No pink slips have gone out yet, the networks say, and none probably will for another two or three weeks. But ratings indicate three new ABC shows face doom, as do four at CBS and three at NBC.

Some may be salvaged by shifts to new time periods or by format tinkering to accentuate the positive and eliminate the negative.

But as things now stand, the wobbly ABC wares are "Cos," "Holmes and Yoyo" and "Mr. T. And Tina."

At CBS, the probable victims are "Ball Four," "All's Fair," "Spencer's Pilots" and "Delvecchio." At NBC, they're "Gentle Man," "Serpico" and "Van Dyke and Company."

ABC's "Cos," Bill Cosby's Sunday variety show, seems most likely to get the same ax that lopped his CBS show off several seasons ago.

"Cos" started well five weeks ago, coming in 21st in the ratings in the week before the new season began. Since then, it's been third in its time period and twice at the bottom of the Nielsen pile.

ABC's two Saturday sitcoms, "Holmes" and "T. and Tina," on the air three weeks, also have gotten low, low ratings, save for the "Tina" premiere, when it was 32nd of 59 shows rated.

An ABC spokesman insists neither comedy is doomed, though. He says, "We see considerable life in these shows."

CBS' "All's Fair," a Norman Lear opus about the romance of a conservative Washington columnist in his 40s and a young, liberal lady shutterbug, may prove the twin shall never meet in the ratings.

Pre-empted last week, it's been third in its Monday slot for three weeks, never making the 30 per cent share-of-audience mark networks consider a signal of a show's success.

Same problem with "Ball Four" on Wednesdays, which should do better, sandwiched between "Good Times" and "All in the Family."

The new Sunday cop show,

"Delvecchio," also has them lowdown Nielsen blues, averaging 24 per cent of the audience in four tries. "Spencer's Pilots" on Fridays crashed on take-off.

Persistently low ratings for NBC's "Gentle Man" on Thursdays may help it do what its predecessor, "The Invisible Man," did last season — vanish. "Van Dyke and Company" is another NBC Thursday show in trouble. Twice pre-empted, it's been third in its time period on each of two weeks it's been on against law-and-order shows on CBS and ABC.

And how is the new Harry Reasoner-Barbara Walters evening newscast on ABC doing in its second week? Drooping a bit.

In their first week, Harry and Barbara were seen on the average in more than 8 million homes each night. Last week, the average dropped to just over 6.8 million homes, according to Nielsen estimates.

ABC says various factors, including a Wednesday baseball game on its airwaves and last Friday's vice presidential debate are partly responsible for the drop. Stand by for next week.
